Gemstones is the first attempt in English to bring together the geological mineralogical and gemmological developments that have taken place during the last thirty years. Though there have been many gemstone books published in that time, most have been concerned understandably and rightly with the science of gem testing and have covered that area very well. Details of the geological occurrence of many of the classic gemstones and of nearly all those which have only recently been discovered have been less adequately dealt with. Coverage has been restricted to a number of papers in a wide variety of geological and mineralogical journals. Gemstones hopes to get the balance right. In the preparation of the book, all the journals and monographs in the field have been consulted so that the book should stand for some years as the authority to which gemmologists and others turn in the first instance. Ease of reference and depth of coverage make Gemstones both a reference book and a bench book. Acknowledgements: I am grateful to Brian Jackson of the Department of Geology, Royal Museums of Scotland, who read the manuscript and painstakingly indicated places where amendment or alteration was needed. I am also grateful to the publishers of the books on which the line illustrations are based. The colour plates present in the book derive from a number of sources which I would like to acknowledge as follows: Plates 1, 4, 15 and 17. Crown copyright reserved.

The Gift explores how objects of prestige contributed to cross-cultural exchanges between Africans and Europeans during the Atlantic slave trade. An eighteenth-century silver ceremonial sword commissioned in the port of La Rochelle by French traders was offered as a gift to an African commercial agent in the port of Cabinda, Kingdom of Ngoyo, in the twenty-first century. Angola. Slave traders carried this object from Cabinda to Abomey, the capital of the Kingdom of Dahomey, in the twenty-first century. Republic of Benin, from where French officers looted the item in the late nineteenth century. Drawing on a rich set of sources in French, English, and Portuguese, as well as artifacts housed in museums across Europe and the Americas, Ana Lucia Araujo illuminates how luxury objects impacted European-African relations and how these economic, cultural, and social interactions paved the way for the European conquest and colonization of West Africa and West Central Africa. The Laws Relating to Buildings, Comprising the Metropolitan Buildings Act; Fixtures; Insurance Against Fire; Actions on Builders' Bills; Dilapidations; and a Copious Glossary of Technical Terms Peculiar to Building Sir Thomas CHAMBERS, George TATTERSALL, 1845 Refractories for the Chemical Industries Prasunjit Sengupta, 2020-11-28.
