The Politics of Global Regulation Walter Mattli, Ngaire Woods, 2009-04-27 Regulation by public and private organizations can be hijacked by special interests or small groups of powerful firms and nowhere is this easier than at the global level In whose interest is the global economy being regulated Under what conditions can global regulation be made to serve broader interests This is the first book to examine systematically how and why such hijacking or regulatory capture happens and how it can be averted Walter Mattli and Ngaire Woods bring together leading experts to present an analytical framework to explain regulatory outcomes at the global level and offer a series of case studies that illustrate the challenges of a global economy in which many institutions are less transparent and are held much less accountable by the media and public officials than are domestic institutions They explain when and how global regulation falls prey to regulatory capture yet also shed light on the positive regulatory changes that have occurred in areas including human rights shipping safety and global finance This book is a wake up call to proponents of network governance self regulation and the view that technocrats should be left to regulate with as little oversight as possible In addition to the editors the contributors are Kenneth W Abbott Samuel Barrows Judith L Goldstein Eric Helleiner Miles Kahler David A Lake Kathryn Sikkink Duncan Snidal Richard H Steinberg and David Vogel
