This book identifies and surveys the major themes around out of field teaching that is teaching subjects or year levels without a specialization This has been an issue in many countries for some time yet until recently there has been little formal research and poor policy responses to related problems This book arises out of collaborations between members of an international group of researchers and practitioners from Australia Germany Ireland England South Africa Indonesia and the United States Cross national comparisons of ideas through case studies descriptions of practice and research data interrogates the experiences practices and contexts relating to out of field teaching In particular the book considers the phenomenon of out of field teaching in relation to national policy contexts local school leadership practices professional development The book represents an essential contribution on a highly topical issue that has implications for quality and equitable education around the globe

The World According To Israeli Newspapers Margret Müller, 2017-01-26 Since its outbreak the Israeli Palestinian conflict has been shaped by international involvement These external engagements in the conflict are primarily transmitted to Jewish Israelis through the Israeli mass media These media portrayals shape not only perceptions of the global attitudes towards the conflict but in so doing they also influence and legitimize domestic political debates and decisions This research is guided by the question how Israeli newspapers represent international involvement in the Israeli Palestinian conflict How is the involvement contextualized and how qualified Do societal constructs and beliefs shape the media representations and if so in which manner Do media representations differ in times of crisis and routine Margret Müller explores these questions in a content analysis of the four general daily Israeli newspapers media coverage during the Gaza flotilla raid 2010

Psychology of Liberation Maritza Montero, Christopher C. Sonn, 2009-04-28 Since the mid 1980s the psychology of liberation movement has been a catalyst for collective and individual change in communities throughout Latin America and beyond and recent political developments are making its powerful transformative ideas more relevant than ever before Psychology of Liberation Theory and Applications updates the activist frameworks developed by Ignacio Martín Baró and Paulo Freire with compelling stories from the frontlines of conflict in the developing and developed worlds as social science and psychological practice are allied with struggles for peace justice and equality In these chapters liberation is presented as both an ongoing process and a core dimension of wellbeing entailing the reconstruction of social identity and the transformation of all parties involved both oppressed and oppressors It also expands the social consciousness of professionals bringing more profound meaning to practice and enhancing related areas such as peace psychology as shown in articles such as these Philippines the role of liberation movements in the transition to democracy Venezuela liberation psychology as a therapeutic intervention with street youth South Africa the movement for representational knowledge Muslim world religion the state and the gendering of human rights Ireland linking personal and political development Australia addressing issues of racism identity and immigration Colombia building cultures of peace from the devastation of war Psychology of Liberation demonstrates the commitment to overcome social injustices and oppression The

Speaking of Violence Sara Cobb PhD, 2013-05-27 In the context of ongoing or historical violence people tell stories about what happened who did what to whom and why Yet frequently the speaking of violence reproduces the social fractures and delegitimizes again those that struggle against their own marginalization This speaking of violence deepens conflict and all too often perpetuates cycles of violence Alternatively sometimes people do not speak of the violence and it is erased buried with the bodies that bear it witness This reduces the capacity of the public to address issues emerging in the aftermath of violence and repression This book takes the notion of narrative as foundational to conflict analysis and resolution Distinct from conflict theories that rely on accounts of attitudes or perceptions in the heads of individuals this narrative perspective presumes that meaning structured and organized as narrative processes is the location for both analysis of conflict as well as intervention But meaning is political in that not all stories can be told or the way they are told delegitimizes and erases others Thus the critical narrative theory outlined in this book offers a normative approach to narrative assessment and intervention It provides a way of evaluating narrative and designing better formed stories better in that they are generative of sustainable relations creating legitimacy for all parties In so doing they function aesthetically and ethically to support the emergence of new histories and new futures Indeed critical narrative theory offers a new lens for enabling people to speak of violence in ways that undermine the intractability of conflict

The Psychology of Friendship and Enmity Rom Harré, Fathali M. Moghaddam, 2013-10-21 This two volume exploration of what might be termed interpersonal war and peace reveals why individuals and groups coalesce or collide and how more positive relationships can be achieved In this two volume set the most comprehensive treatment of its subject to date eminent social scientists explore the processes involved in becoming friends or enemies Volume 1 Interpersonal and Intrapersonal Insights focuses on friendship and enmity between individuals examining situations that arise in romances at school at work and between races genders and sexual identities The text is enriched by a discussion of individual interactions in classic books and movies what those stories reflect and what they teach about human nature Volume 2 Group and Intergroup Understanding focuses on group dynamics across time and around the globe Topics range from group interactions before and after the American Civil War to friendship and enmity between Afghans and Americans today The work s ultimate concern however is to present ways in which individuals groups and nations can learn to be friends      Peace Psychology Herbert H. Blumberg,A. Paul Hare,Anna Costin,2006-12-07 This textbook provides a comprehensive introduction to peace psychology covering interdisciplinary practice primary psychological topics core peace studies topics and terrorism      Conflict Sandra I. Cheldelin,Daniel Druckman,Larissa Fast,2003-08-13 Dedicated to an analysis of the emergent role of conflict analysis and resolution this student textbook covers theory research and practice The final edition was tested on large classes at the Institute for Conflict Analysis and Resolution throughout the writing process      Words of Conflict, Words of War Fathali M. Moghaddam,Rom Harré,2010-05-05 This highly insightful and cohesive group of studies reveals the power of political narratives to create conflict and peace Words of Conflict Words of War How the Language We Use in Political Processes Sparks Fighting is a fascinating exploration of the narratives leaders use to position both themselves and others in the course of political processes that lead to peace or conflict Drawing on the relatively new field of positioning theory expert essays provide insights into the ways words position us for better or worse and influence our intended results The focus on narratives from the interpersonal to the international leads to a better understanding of political processes and conflict resolution Part one of the study deals with micropolitics and personal positioning Part two explores positioning by political parties and factions Links between micro and macro are illustrated by leadership studies of individuals such as President Barak Obama President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad President George W Bush Governor Sarah Palin and the Reverend Ian Paisley The focus throughout is on how a leader can use language to redirect collective politics in support of conflict or of peace      Miseducation A. J. Angulo,2016-04 By investigating how laws myths national aspirations and global relations have recast and at times distorted the key purposes of education this pathbreaking book sheds light on the role of ignorance in shaping ideas public opinion and policy Robert N Proctor author of Golden Holocaust Origins of the Cigarette Catastrophe and the Case for Abolition Historical Studies in Education Revue d histoire de l ducation      Peacebuilding, Memory and Reconciliation Bruno Charbonneau,Genevieve Parent,2013-06-17 This book aims to bridge the gap between what are generally referred to as top down and bottom up approaches to peacebuilding After the experience of a physical and psychological trauma the period of individual healing and recovery is intertwined with political and social reconciliation The prospects for social and political reconciliation are undermined when a top down approach is favoured over the bottom up strategy the prioritization of structural stability over societal well being Peacebuilding Memory and Reconciliation explores the inextricable link between psychological recovery and socio political reconciliation and the political issues that dominate this relationship Through an examination of the construction of social narratives about or for peace the text offers a new perspective on peacebuilding which challenges and questions the very nature of the dichotomy between top down and bottom up approaches This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding peace and conflict studies social psychology political science and IR in general

Peacemaking and the Extractive Industries Natalie Ralph, 2017-11-22 Peacemaking and the Extractive Industries addresses a significant gap in research on the political and diplomatic role of multinational corporations in peace processes in intrastate conflict Corporate Peacemaking The author focuses on corporations in the oil and mining sectors supporting or participating in peace negotiations and mediation The chapters explore national level peace processes as well as those at community and global levels While the focus is on extractive companies the findings are valuable to companies from all industries looking at peace related processes This ground breaking book gives a comprehensive picture of how Corporate Peacemaking currently works how it can be developed and implemented and how it is likely to impact global governance and corporate culture in the future The book demonstrates that Corporate Peacemaking has the potential to be a powerful element in international governance and peace efforts and Ralph shows through the business case that companies as well as communities will benefit Ralph presents a new framework for Corporate Peace that will assist companies from all sectors in countries experiencing violent conflict in addition to instability human rights abuses and poor governance Based on rigorous academic research with practical case studies it is essential reading for practitioners academics policy makers and NGOs
