Globalising Food Agrarian Questions And Global Restructuring:

Globalising Food David Goodman, Michael Watts, 2013-01-11 In an increasingly global world societies are being provisioned from a bewildering array of sources as new countries and new food commodities are drawn into international markets Globalising Food provides an innovative contribution to the area of political economy of agriculture food and consumption through a revealing investigation of the globalisation and restructuring of localised agricultural sectors and food systems The book draws on new theoretical perspectives and wide ranging case studies from Britain the USA India South Africa New Zealand and Latin America The key themes addresses range from giant multinational food corporations rural industrialisation and World Bank policies to the regulation of pollution labour relations urban food politics and environmental sustainability Globalising Food offers important insights into the problems consequences and limits of the industrialisation of agriculture and the provisioning of food in a global world as we approach the new millenium The Rural Richard Munton, 2017-05-15 The rural has long been regarded as an important site of geographical inquiry even if our understanding of it has not always been treated as conceptually different from the urban That said rural research has pursued a number of distinct empirical agendas ranging from the operation and impacts of agribusiness to local resistance to global food supply chains to differing representations of the rural In doing so rural geographers have critically examined the relevance and significance of ideas drawn from numerous traditions including political economy ecological modernization and cultural theory amending them as appropriate in their search to understand the nature and trajectory of rural areas Up until the 1980s attention remained largely focused upon agriculture as the primary land use but increasingly new forms of rural consumption housing recreation nature conservation have taken centre stage as the primacy of local agricultures has been undermined by reduced state protection and new rural populations which have migrated out from the city More recently research has been dominated by the cultural turn with particular emphases upon society nature relations interpretations of landscape marginalised others and analyses of the relations between representation and practice In the last decade a more holistic view of the rural bringing together different aspects of the two previous themes has emerged through more politically oriented studies of rural governance concerned with the functioning of interest groups participation protest and the allocation and management of resources The volume is thus structured into three sections concerned with agriculture and food the rural and rural governance The great majority of the selected papers combine both empirical material often highly informative case studies and important conceptual arguments about change in the rural condition that can be linked to ideas being employed elsewhere in Geography and the Social Sciences more generally These critical reflections have been drawn very largely from research conducted in advanced economies which at least provide some commonality of experience allowing the transfer of ideas between what otherwise might be seen as very differing geographical contexts Confronting the Blue Revolution Md Saidul Islam, 2014-01-01 In Confronting the Blue Revolution

Md Saidul Islam uses the shrimp farming industry in Bangladesh and across the global South to show the social and environmental impact of industrialized aquaculture

Geographies of Commodity Chains Alex Hughes, Suzanne Reimer, 2004-07-31 Broad geographical coverage including case studies from North American European and developing studies contexts Timely in view of increased popular and policy interest in the international origins of the commodities we buy and the often hidden environmental and social impacts of their production All chapters make an explicit and clear contribution to theorisations of the commodity chain Covers a wide range of products including food flowers home furnishings and clothing

Social Theory in the Real World Steven Miles, 2001-05-18 Social Theory in the Real World is concerned with illustrating the practical benefits of social theory Many students find it hard to relate the real insights provided by social theory to their real life experiences and many lecturers struggle to demonstrate the relevance of social theory to everyday life This book offers an accessible non patronizing solution to the problem demonstrating that social theory need not be remote and obscure but if used in imaginative ways it can be indispensable in challenging our common sense perceptions and understandings The book identifies the key themes of contemporary social theory mass society postindustrialism consumerism postmodernism McDonaldisation risk and globalisation

Seasonal Workers in Mediterranean Agriculture Jörg Gertel, Sarah Ruth Sippel, 2014-04-03 Over the last three decades there has been a rapid expansion of intensive production of fresh fruit and vegetables in the Mediterranean regions of south and west Europe Much of this depends on migrating workers for seasonal labour including from Eastern Europe North Africa and Latin America This book is the first to address global agro migration complexes across the region It is argued that both intensive agricultural production and related working conditions are highly dynamic Regional patterns have developed from small scale family farming to become an industrialized part of the global agri food system which increasingly depends on seasonal labour Simultaneously consumer demand for year round supply has caused relocations of the industry within Europe areas of intensive greenhouse production have moved further south and even into North Africa The authors investigate this Mediterranean agri food system that transcends borders and is largely constituted by invisible seasonal work By revealing the story of food commodities loaded with implications of private profit seeking exploitation exclusion and multiple insecurities the book unmask the hidden costs of fresh food provisioning Three case study areas are considered in detail the French region of Provence a traditional centre of fresh fruit and vegetable cultivation the Spanish Almer a region where intensive production has accelerated dramatically since the 1970s and Morocco where counter seasonal production has recently been expanding The book also includes commentaries that refer to complementary insights on US Mexico Philippines Canada and South Pacific mobilities
