Ahram, Patrick Köllner, Rudra Sil, 2018-01-03 In the post-World War II era, the emergence of area studies marked a significant development in the social sciences. As the social sciences evolved methodologically, however, many dismissed area studies as favoring narrow description over general theory. Still, area studies continues to play a key, if unacknowledged, role in bringing new data, new theories, and valuable policy-relevant insights to social sciences. In Comparative Area Studies, three leading figures in the field have gathered an international group of scholars in a volume that promises to be a landmark in a resurgent field. The book upholds two basic convictions: that intensive regional research remains indispensable to the social sciences and that this research needs to employ comparative referents from other regions to demonstrate its broader relevance. Comparative Area Studies (CAS) combines the context-specific insights from traditional area studies and the logic of cross- and inter-regional empirical research. This first book devoted to CAS explores methodological rationales and illustrative applications to demonstrate how area-based expertise can be fruitfully integrated with cutting-edge comparative analytical frameworks. Globalization and Diversity Marie Price, Lester Rowntree, William Wyckoff, Martin Lewis, 2019-01-25 NOTE This loose-leaf, three-hole punched version of the textbook gives you the flexibility to take only what you need to class and add your own notes, all at an affordable price. Moghaddam,2008-08-30 This book explores modern Islamic terrorism in the context of globalization and cultural evolution 21st century terrorism is different and new first because it relies heavily on electronic communication systems and other aspects of modern technologies and second because it is in large part a product of fractured globalization with its associated threats to the collective identity of Muslims Part one of this work contrasts globalization as an ideal with globalization as it is actually taking place with its enormous contradictions and threats

Moghaddam a longtime and highly respected terrorism and conflict researcher argues that globalization is resulting in serious threats to the basic psychological needs of some particularly in connection with collective identity Part two explores how globalization has brought sudden contact between different groups with no previous history of large scale contact resulting in a rapid decline in diversity Terrorism is one of the dysfunctional defense mechanisms of people in such conditions facing external threats Part three describes long term solutions focusing particularly on the role of women and the nature of the family in traditional Islamic societies Moghaddam shows us why globalization is resulting in what he calls catastrophic evolution the rapid decline and disappearance of minority cultures and languages and why that brings a clash of ideologies and the rise of extremism There are also other dangerous trends and those call for inspired solutions springing from an understanding that traditional conflict resolution evolved in the shadow of the Cold War is no longer effective and needs to change
