Globalization Difference And Human Security:

Globalization, Difference, and Human Security Mustapha Kamal Pasha, 2013-10-23 Globalization Difference and Human Security seeks to advance critical human security studies by re framing the concept of human security in terms of the thematic of difference Drawing together a wide range of contributors the volume is framed among others around the following key questions What are the silences and erasures of advancing a critical human security alternative without making recognition of difference its central plank How do we rethink the complex interplay of human security and difference in distinct and varied spatial and cultural settings produced by global forces What is the nexus between human security and the broader field of global development What new challenges to Human Security and International Relations are produced with the rise of the post liberal or post secular subject In what ways releasing human security from identification with the territorial state helps reconceptualize culture How does Human Security serve as a subspecies of modern humanitarian thought or the latter reinforce imperial imaginaries and the structures of order and morality Is the pursuit of indigenous rights fundamentally counterpoised to the pursuit of human security What difference it might make to take the doings and beings of communities of subsistence rather than basic needs wealth seeking individuals as a point of departure in critical human security studies How does reconstruction bind post war and post disaster states and societies into the global capitalist democratic political structure Globalization, Competitiveness and Human Security Cristóbal Kay, 2012-10-12 This collection explores the connections between globalization competitiveness and human security and their relevance for development studies These issues amongst others are also explored in a number of case studies taken from Asia Africa and Latin America Religion, Identity and Human Security Giorgio Shani, 2014-04-03 Religion Identity and Human Security seeks to demonstrate that a major source of human insecurity comes from the failure of states around the world to recognize the increasing cultural diversity of their populations which has resulted from globalization Shani begins by setting out the theoretical foundations dealing with the transformative effects of globalization on identity violence and security The second part of the volume then draws on different cases of sites of human insecurity around the globe to develop these ideas examining themes such as securitization of religious symbols retreat from multiculturalism rise of exclusivist ethno religious identities post 9 11 state religion colonization and the racialization of migration Highlighting that religion can be a source of both human security and insecurity in a globalizing world Shani offers a critical human security paradigm that seeks to de secularize the individual by recognizing the culturally contested and embedded nature of human identities The work argues that religion serves an important role in re embedding individuals deracinated from their communities by neo liberal globalization and will be of interest to students of International Relations Security Studies and Religion and Politics Critical Perspectives on Human Security David Chandler, Nik Hynek, 2010-09-13 This new book presents critical approaches towards Human Security which has become one of the key areas for policy and academic debate within Security

Studies and IR The Human Security paradigm has had considerable significance for academics policy makers and practitioners Under the rubric of Human Security security policy practices seem to have transformed their goals and approaches re prioritising economic and social welfare issues that were marginal to the state based geo political rivalries of the Cold War era Human Security has reflected and reinforced the reconceptualisation of international security both broadening and deepening it and in so doing it has helped extend and shape the space within which security concerns inform international policy practices However in its wider use Human Security has become an amorphous and unclear political concept seen by some as progressive and radical and by others as tainted by association with the imposition of neo liberal practices and values on non Western spaces or as legitimizing attacks on Iraq and Afghanistan This book is concerned with critical perspectives towards Human Security highlighting some of the tensions which can emerge between critical perspectives which discursively radicalise Human Security within frameworks of emancipatory possibility and those which attempt to deconstruct Human Security within the framework of an externally imposed attempt to regulate and order the globe on behalf of hegemonic power The chapters gathered in this edited collection represent a range of critical approaches which bring together alternative understandings of human security This book will be of great interest to students of human security studies and critical security studies war and conflict studies and international relations Globalization and Human Security Paul Battersby, Joseph M. Siracusa, 2009-03-16 This concise text presents a focused well rounded and clear eyed introduction to the concept of human security Questioning the utility of traditional national security frameworks in the postDCold War era Paul Battersby and Joseph Siracusa argue that we must urgently reconsider the principle of state sovereignty in a global world where threats to humanity are beyond the capacity of any one nation to address through unilateral action A welcome alternative to state centric approaches to security this balanced book will be a valuable supplement for courses in international and national security Human Security and Sustainable Development in East Africa Jeremiah O. Asaka, Alice A. Oluoko-Odingo, 2022-05-23 This book investigates contemporary human security issues in East Africa setting forth policy recommendations and a research agenda for future studies Human security takes a people centered rather than state centered approach to security issues focusing on whether people feel safe free from fear want and indignity This book investigates human security in East Africa encompassing issues as diverse as migration housing climate change displacement food security aflatoxins land rights and peace and conflict resolution In particular the book showcases innovative original research from African scholars based on the continent and abroad and together the contributors provide policy recommendations and set forth a human security research agenda for East Africa which encompasses Kenya Uganda Tanzania Somalia Rwanda Burundi South Sudan Sudan Ethiopia Eritrea and Djibouti As well as being useful for policy makers and practitioners this book will interest researchers across African Studies Security Studies Environmental Studies Political Science Global Governance International Relations and Human Geography The Open Access version of this book

Environmental and Human Security in the Arctic Gunhild Hoogensen Gjørsvig, Dawn Bazely, Marina Goloviznina, Andrew Tanentzap, 2013-10-08 This is the first comprehensive exploration of why human security is relevant to the Arctic and what achieving it can mean covering the areas of health of the environment identity of peoples supply of traditional foods community health economic opportunities and political stability The traditional definition of security has already been actively employed in the Arctic region for decades particularly in relation to natural resource sovereignty issues but how and why should the human aspect be introduced What can this region teach us about human security in the wider world The book reviews the potential threats to security putting them in an analytical framework and indicating a clear path for solutions Contributions come from natural social and humanities scientists hailing from Canada Russia Finland and Norway Environmental Change and Human Security in the Arctic is an essential resource for policy makers community groups researchers and students working in the field of human security particularly for those in the Arctic regions

Gendering Human Security in Afghanistan Ben Walter, 2017-06-14 This book employs the concept of human security to show what the term means from the perspective of women in Afghanistan It engages with a well established debate in academic and policy making contexts regarding the utility of human security as a framework for understanding and redressing conflict The book argues that this concept allows the possibility of articulating the substantive experiences of violence and marginalisation experienced by people in local settings as well as their own struggles towards a secure and happy life In this regard it goes a long way to making sense of the complex dynamics of conflict which have confounded Western policy makers in their ongoing state building mission in Afghanistan However despite this inherent potential the idea of human security still needs refinement Crucially it has benefitted from critical feminist and critical social theories which provide the conceptual and methodological depth necessary to apprehend what a progressive ethical program of security looks like and how it can be furthered Using this framework the work provides a critical reconstruction of the effect of the US led Western Intervention on women's experiences of insecurity in the three provincial contexts of Nangarhar Bamiyan and Kabul This reconstruction is drawn from a wealth of historical and contemporary sociological research alongside original fieldwork undertaken in Delhi India during 2011 with women and men from the country's different communities This book will be of much interest to students of human security state building gender politics war and conflict studies and IR in general

Rethinking Humanitarian Intervention in the 21st Century Aiden Warren, 2017-06-02 Since the end of the Cold War humanitarian interventions have continued to evolve and respond to a wide range of political crises These insightful essays focus on the challenges associated with interventions when facing conflict and human rights violations unmitigated systematic violence state rebuilding human mobility and dislocation Each chapter is linked to the rest through three defining themes that permeate the book the evolution of humanitarian interventions in a global era the limits of sovereignty and the ethics of interventions and the politics of post intervention re building and humanitarian engagement The authors incorporate a variety of case studies including Kosovo Timor Leste Syria Libya and Iraq and examine the complexity of interventions across their different dimensions including relevant doctrines such as R2P Use of Force and Human Security

Semiotics of Happiness Ashley Frawley,2015-02-26 The Semiotics of Happiness examines the rise of happiness and its various satellite terminologies as a social and political semiotic exploring its origins in the US and subsequent spread into the UK and across the globe The research takes as its starting point the development of discussions about happiness in UK newspapers in which dedicated advocates began to claim that a new science of happiness had been discovered and argued for social and political change on its behalf Through an in depth analysis of the written and visual rhetoric and subsequent activities of these influential claims makers Frawley argues that happiness became a serious political issue not because of a growing unhappiness in society nor a demand on the ground for new knowledge about it but rather because influential and dedicated insiders took the issue on at a cultural moment when problems cast in emotional terms were particularly likely to make an impact Emerging from the analysis is the observation that while apparently positive and light hearted the concern with happiness implicitly affirms a vulnerability model of human functioning encourages a morality of low expectations and in spite of the radical language used to describe it is ultimately conservative and ideally suited to an era of no alternative to capitalism

Security and Crime Alison Wakefield,2021-06-09 Security and Crime is an authoritative and multidisciplinary analysis of the relationship between security and crime addressing much of the confusion about its nature and meaning clarifying its relevance to criminological analysis and giving due attention to the interdisciplinary nature of the topic Providing an historical and prospective look at issues within security the book will trace the development of security across disciplines situate this contested concept within criminological discourse and concerns explore the rising attention in politics and academic scholarship to security issues as they relate to crime examine the nature and organisation of interventions to deliver security establish clearly the relationship between security crime and criminology International in scope and broad in coverage Security and Crime sets out the need to broaden the study of security in a clear concise style that is easy for students to digest With comprehensive pedagogical feature including chapter overviews key terms study questions further reading and a glossary this book is essential for students studying security in criminology criminal justice international relations and related disciplines

Routledge Handbook of Postcolonial Politics Olivia U. Rutazibwa,Robbie Shilliam,2018-02-21 Engagements with the postcolonial world by International Relations scholars have grown significantly in recent years The Routledge Handbook of Postcolonial Politics provides a solid reference point for understanding and analyzing global politics from a perspective sensitive to the multiple legacies of colonial and imperial rule The Handbook introduces and develops cutting edge analytical frameworks that draw on Black decolonial feminist indigenous Marxist and postcolonial thought as well as a multitude of intellectual traditions from across the globe Alongside empirical issue areas that remain crucial to assessing the impact of European and Western colonialism on global politics the book introduces new issue areas that have arisen due to the mutating structures of colonial and imperial rule This vital resource is split into five thematic sections each featuring a brief orienting introduction Points of departure Popular postcolonial imaginaries Struggles over the postcolonial state Struggles over land Alternative global imaginaries Providing both a consolidated understanding of the field as it is and setting an expansive and dynamic research agenda for the future this handbook is essential reading for students and scholars of International Relations alike

A Changing Environment for Human Security Linda Sygna, Karen O'Brien, Johanna Wolf, 2013-06-26 Environmental change presents a new context and new opportunities for transformational change This timely book will inspire new ways of understanding the relationship between environmental change and human security A Changing Environment for Human Security Transformative Approaches to Research Policy and Action both supports and informs a call for new transformative approaches to research policy and action The chapters in this book include critical analyses case studies and reflections on contemporary environmental and social challenges with a strong emphasis on those related to climate change Human thoughts and actions have contributed to an environment of insecurity manifested as multiple interacting threats that now represent a serious challenge to humanity Yet humans also have the capacity to collectively transform the economic political social and cultural systems and structures that perpetuate human insecurities These fresh perspectives on global environmental change from an interdisciplinary group of international experts will inspire readers whether students researchers policy makers or practitioners to think differently about environmental issues and sustainability The contributions show that in a changing environment human security is not only a possibility but a choice

Protesting Citizenship: Migrant Activisms Imogen Tyler, 2017-07-05 What does it mean to state No One is Illegal This rallying call is what unifies migrant protests against exclusionary border regimes around the world bringing migrants citizens legal and illegal people onto the streets in ever greater numbers Indeed the last decade has witnessed an explosion of immigrant protests political mobilizations by irregular migrants and pro migrant activists This edited collection aims to contribute to the growing body of scholarship on migrant resistance movements and to consider the implications of these struggles for critical understandings of citizenship and borders It offers a rich series of theoretical and political interventions which together explore the tensions between integrationist and autonomous approaches and between migrant and activist strategies of invisibility and visibility By bringing immigrant protests to the heart of debates about citizenship it also extends discussions about the limits and the possibilities of citizenship as the material and conceptual horizon of critical social analysis political participation and democracy today This book was published as a special issue of Citizenship Studies

Transforming World Politics Anna M. Agathangelou, L.H.M. Ling, 2009-06-02 This book provides a critical understanding of contemporary world politics by arguing that the neoliberal approach to international relations seduces many of us into investing our lives in projects of power and alienation These projects offer few options for emancipation consequently many feel they have little choice but to retaliate against violence with more violence The authors of this pioneering work articulate worldism as an alternative approach to world politics It intertwines non Western and Western traditions by drawing on Marxist postcolonial feminist and critical security approaches with Greek and Chinese theories of politics broadly defined The authors contend that contemporary world politics cannot be understood outside the legacies of these multiple worlds including axes of power configured by gender race class and nationality which are themselves linked to earlier histories of colonizations and their contemporary formations With fiction and poetry as exploratory methods the authors build on their multiple worlds approach to consider different sites of world politics arguing that a truly emancipatory understanding of world politics requires more than just a shift in ways of thinking above all it requires a shift in ways of being Transforming World Politics will be of vital interest to students and scholars of International Relations Political Science Postcolonial Studies Social Theory Women s Studies Asian Studies European Union and Mediterranean Studies and Security Studies

Recognition, Conflict and the Problem of Global Ethical Community Shannon Brincat, 2017-10-02 Recognition is a fundamental aspect of all social interactions between individuals groups local communities and sovereign states Recognition refers to those sociological processes whereby two or more entities such as states groups such as ethnic or cultural communities or individuals interact with one another and come to understand themselves and the other as mutually free individuals as social agents whose identities interests and outlooks are equally bound together Without the foundational act of recognition relations can become unequal and antagonistic leading to social pathologies denigration and even open conflict This volume brings together leading international scholars of recognition theory in world politics to discuss the potential for recognition to pacify relations between states groups and individuals and to develop recognition processes in the global community It examines the implications of recognition theory in helping to understand the problem of conflict and the possibilities for forging a form of global ethical community This book was published as a special issue of Global Discourse

Violence against Women in and beyond Conflict Julia Carolin Sachseder, 2022-09-16 Violence against Women in and beyond Conflict explores the processes and structures that underlie and contribute to sexual violence and internal displacement in armed conflict utilizing extensive ethnographic research to provide cutting edge insights The author argues that the key to understanding violence against women lies at the intersection of transnational capital race and gender that not only contribute to its production but also to its persistence The book uses the Colombian armed conflict as the primary case study but develops a broader framework for theorizing the relationship between the global political economy the history of coloniality and intersectional constructions of gender and race with regard to conflict and violence It offers an understanding of violence against women as not isolated from but part and a symptom of a larger system of political social and economic inequality that is rooted in colonialism and exploited and exacerbated by transnational capital relations The author also shows how the state and non state actors most prominently paramilitaries are involved in this relationship of violence The book highlights implications for meaningful and sustainable peace in post conflict contexts This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of international relations gender studies and conflict studies as well as policymakers non governmental organizations and practitioners interested in conflict and security Migration, Globalisation and Human Security David T. Graham, Nana K. Poku, 2005-08-04 Migration Globalisation and Human Security looks at a range of security and human security issues related to the displacement of civilian populations and shows how the tenuous existence of migrants can lead to a myriad of human security threats Providing major theoretical analyses of recent migration trends and in depth case studies this book shows that a redefinition of the notion of human security is now needed Women in Academia Crossing North-South

Borders Zuleika Arashiro, Malba Barahona, 2015-12-09 Drawing broadly on decolonial studies postcolonial feminist scholarship and studies on identity this interdisciplinary edited volume brings together personal accounts written by female scholars who migrated from Latin America and joined universities in the Global North Australia the United States and the Netherlands and female scholars who moved from the Global North to teach in Latin American universities The seven contributors examine how their lived experiences with gender race and place displacement have impacted their social identities and on their roles as researchers and teachers They describe how personal and intellectual negotiations in their new location have influenced their fight for plural forms of knowing and being This book expands the debate on geopolitics of knowledge and the position of female scholars from the Global South beyond the United States as a site of experiences

Time, Temporality and Violence in International Relations Anna Agathangelou, Kyle Killian, 2016-03-02 Time transforms the way we see world politics and insinuates itself into the ways we act In this groundbreaking volume Agathangelou and Killian bring together scholars from a range of disciplines to tackle time and temporality in international relations The authors critical theorists artists and poets theorize and speak from the vantage point of the anticolonial postcolonial and decolonial event They investigate an array of experiences and structures of violence oppression neocolonization slavery war poverty and exploitation focusing on the tensions produced by histories of slavery and colonization and disrupting dominant modes of how we understand present times This edited volume takes IR in a new direction defatalizing the ways in which we think about dominant narratives of violence peace and liberation and renewing what it means to decolonize today s world It challenges us to confront violence and suffering and articulates another way to think the world arguing for an understanding of the present as a vulnerable space through which radically different temporal experiences appear And it calls for a disruption of the everyday politics of expediency in the guise of neoliberalism and security This volume reorients the ethical and political assumptions that affectively imaginatively and practically captivate us simultaneously unsettling the familiar but dubious promises of a modernity that decimates political life Re animating an international political the authors evoke people s struggles and movements that are neither about redemption nor erasure

but a suspension of time for radical new beginnings
