Handbook Of Banking And Finance In The Mena Region Khaled Hussainey, Tamanna Dalwai, 2024-03-19 According to World Bank 2021 the economic recovery post COVID 19 in the Middle East and North Africa MENA has been uneven and tumultuous Reasons for this include exposure to oil price fluctuations the impact of pandemic public demonstrations and political instability Although the MENA region encompasses a variety of countries wealthy stable and oil rich countries such as Saudi Arabia and Qatar as well as less secure countries such as Iraq and Syria it plays an important role in the global economy Handbook of Banking and Finance in the MENA Region explores the trends in finance and banking of the MENA region including theoretical and empirical perspectives from researchers around the globe The first part of the book explores numerous reforms in the region s banking and finance including digital technology financial technology fintech and green finance While financial inclusion in the Gulf Cooperation Council is much higher the other countries in the MENA region have yet to overcome this trend and the second part of the book provides specific case studies of ways in which banks have contributed to the region The final section of the book considers macroeconomic factors and financial development Together these perspectives enrich the discussion of facts and development challenges in the finance and banking of the MENA region as a whole

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2009 The UK Regional-National Economic Problem Philip McCann,2016-03-10 In recent years the United Kingdom has become a more and more divided society with inequality between the regions as marked as it has ever been In a landmark analysis of the current state of Britain s regional development Philip McCann utilises current statistics examines historical trends and makes pertinent international comparisons to assess the state of the nation The UK Regional National Economic Problem brings attention to the highly centralised top down governance structure that the UK deploys and demonstrates that it is less than ideally placed to rectify these inequalities The North South divide in the UK has never been greater and the rising inequalities are evident in almost all aspects of the economy including productivity incomes employment status and wealth Whilst the traditional economic dominance of London and its hinterland has continued along with relative resilience in the South West of England and Scotland in contrast the Midlands the North of England Northern Ireland and Wales lag behind by most measures of prosperity This inequality is greatly limiting national economic performance and the fact that Britain has a below average standard of living by European and OECD terms has been ignored The UK s economic and governance inequality is unlikely to be fundamentally rebalanced by the current governance and connectivity trends although this definitive study suggests that some areas of improvement are possible if they are well implemented This pivotal analysis is essential reading for postgraduate students in economics and urban studies as well as researchers and policy makers in local and central government

Global Human Resource Development Thomas N. Garavan,Alma M. McCarthy,Michael J. Morley,2016-02-05 Drawing on contributions from leading academics in the field this volume within the Routledge Series in Human Resource Development specifically focuses on Global Human Resource Development HRD Specifically the volume provides an overview of 17 regions 85 countries and includes one emerging market grouping CIVETS This book examines the role of the state in HRD the relationship between HRD and the level of economic development in the country or region the influence of foreign direct investment within the country or region and firm level HRD practices within countries or regions Global Human Resource Development analyzes HRD from institutional and cross cultural perspectives making it possible for the first time to analyze trends across countries and regions and to draw conclusions about the value of institutional and cross cultural perspectives in the HRD context There is currently no book on the market that conceptualizes the discipline of global HRD in this way making this a definitive book on HRD across the globe of particular interest to researchers and reflective practitioners Remittances and Financial Inclusion Vincent Guermond, 2023-10-11 This book comprehensively explores the messy and contested relationship between everyday practices of remittance sending and receiving processes of market making and operations of micro and global finance Remittances and Financial Inclusion critically investigates a global migration development agenda that aims to harness remittances for development by incorporating remittance flows and households into global financial circuits The book develops a multidisciplinary perspective and combines insights from economic development and financial geography as well as international political economy and economic anthropology It sets out a geographies of remittance marketisation approach to investigate the intricate and grounded ways in which remittance markets are constructed the extent to which remittance flows and households can be re configured and incorporated into global finance and why such processes are always fragile contested and in need of constant renegotiation Drawing on extensive fieldwork research the book provides an in depth critical interrogation of the policies and initiatives that underpin remittance marketisation in Senegal Ghana and beyond This volume will be especially useful to those researching and working in the areas of international development contemporary geographies of finance and market making and migration and remittances It should also prove of interest to policymakers practitioners and activists concerned with the relation between migration remittances and finance in the Global South

Making Progress in Housing Sean McNelis, 2014-01-21 This book presents a new approach to housing research one that is relevant to all the social sciences Housing research is diverse and operates across many disciplines approaches and methods making collaboration difficult This book outlines a methodological framework that enables researchers from many different fields to collaborate in solving complex and seemingly intractable housing problems It shows how we can make progress in housing research and deliver better housing outcomes through an integrated approach Drawing on the work of renowned Canadian methodologist philosopher theologian and economist Bernard Lonergan 1904 1984 McNelis outlines a framework for collaborative research Functional Collaboration This new form of collaboration divides up the work of housing research into functional specialties These distinguish eight inter related questions that arise in the process of moving from the current housing situation through to providing practical advice to decision makers To answer each question a different method is required Making progress in housing is the result of finding new answers to this complete set of eight inter related questions This approach to collaboration opens up a new discourse on method in housing and social research as well as new debates on progress and the nature of science Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 Joyce in the Belly of the Big Truck;

Workbook Joyce A. Cascio, 2005-05 Regional Economic Development and Policy David Pinder, 2017-09-05 Originally published in 1983 when Europe's economies were facing the worst recession since the 1930s this book reviews the outcome of a quarter of a century of research and practical experience in the field of regional economic management In the spatial context of the European Community the author explores central issues by integrating the results of his own research with those of economists geographers economic historians and psychologists It provides a wide survey of the subject demonstrates the complexity of the spatial economic systems which the regional economic planner seeks to modify analyses the strategies for regional development employed by national and international agencies and offers a substantial annotated bibliography Contradictions arising from the contrasting spatial perspectives of national governments and the European Commission are emphasised Among other things it concludes that many regional problems strongly reflect perception and behavioural factors as well as purely economic constraints

Regional Economic Problems A. J. Brown, E. M. Burrows, 2017-08-25 Originally published in 1977 This book provides the first concise non technical account of what the main kinds of regional problems are how they arise and the kinds of policy which have been used to tackle them in the UK USA and Western Europe The book starts with a discussion of why regional problems really are situations which call for special action followed by a short preliminary classification of problem regions including those in the less developed countries then on to a more detailed survey of the origins and experience of selected problem regions in the more developed market economies The authors focus on four broad kinds of problem region agricultural regions coal mining regions old textile regions and so called congested regions They conclude with a selective survey of regional policies in these more advanced economies distinguishing and comparing the main trends and the different national styles

City-systems in Advanced Economies Allan Pred, 2017 Regional Economics Marion Temple, 1994 A study of regional economic theory and policy in the context of the European Community and the national and local government authorities

Regional Economics David L. McKee, 1970 Regional Industrial Analysis and Development Geoffrey J. D. Hewings, 2017-09-05 Originally published in 1977 This book provides an introduction to some of the more important techniques of regional analysis techniques derived from geographical regional economic and regional science theory and describes the way some of these techniques have been applied in the identification of problems development of strategy and evaluation of regional programmes The theory and applications of methods of regional analysis are integrated with the use of examples taken from the USA the UK and Canada The author introduces the problems which are encountered in the field of regional analysis describes some of the analytical tools beginning with the fundamental model of the economic base approach and then examines regional flows and the applicability of international trade theory to interregional trade Considering the shortcomings of the aggregated base approach input output analysis is also examined

Regional Dynamics Gordon L. Clark, Meric S. Gertler, John E. M. Whiteman, 2017-09-05 Originally published in 1986 This book is concerned with how regional economies adapt and respond to changing circumstances and especially with the spatial system and processes of restructuring Throughout the book there is a methodological commitment to adjustment theory a unique analytical framework for the study of the dynamics of advanced capitalist economies Instead of homogenising space in the manner of neoclassical economic theory the authors focus on adjustment processes that produce and reproduce spatial differentiation The most important facets of regional economic structure are covered employment wages prices migration and capital investment in terms of their own dimensions and their connections with the larger theoretical framework Each part of the book develops one particular dimension of regional adjustment and each has an overview and summary Within each part there is a sequence of related studies focussing on the empirical aspects theoretical logic and distributive consequences of regional adjustment Routledge Advances in Regional Economics, Science and Policy ,2013
