Critical Ecofeminism Greta Gaard,2017-06-16 Australian feminist philosopher Val Plumwood coined the term critical ecofeminism to situate humans in ecological terms and non humans in ethical terms for the two tasks are interconnected and cannot be addressed properly in isolation from each other Various using the terms critical ecological feminism critical anti dualist ecological feminism and critical ecofeminism Plumwood s work developed amid a range of perspectives describing feminist intersections with ecopolitical issues i e toxic production and toxic wastes indigenous sovereignty global economic justice species justice colonialism and dominant masculinity Well over a decade before the emergence of posthumanist theory and the new materialisms Plumwood's critical ecofeminist framework articulates an implicit posthumanism and respect for the animacy of all earthothers exposing the linkages among diverse forms of oppression and providing a theoretical basis for further activist coalitions and interdisciplinary scholarship Had Plumwood lived another ten years she might have described her work as Anthropocene Ecofeminism Critical Material Ecofeminism Posthumanist Anticolonial Ecofeminism all of these inflections are present in her work Here Critical Ecofeminism advances upon Plumwood's intellectual activist and scholarly work by exploring its implications for a range of contemporary perspectives and issues critical animal studies plant studies sustainability studies environmental justice climate change and climate justice masculinities and sexualities With the insights available through a critical ecofeminism these diverse eco justice perspectives become more robust The Cambridge

Handbook of Environmental Sociology: Volume 2 Katharine Legun, Julie C. Keller, Michael Carolan, Michael M.

Bell, 2020-12-03 The Cambridge Handbook of Environmental Sociology is a go to resource for cutting edge research in the field This two volume work covers the rich theoretic foundations of the sub discipline as well as novel approaches and emerging areas of research that add vitality and momentum to the discipline Over the course of sixty chapters the authors featured in this work reach new levels of theoretical depth incorporating a global scope and diversity of cases This book explores the broad scope of crucial disciplinary ideas and areas of research extending its investigation to the trajectories of thought that led to their unfolding This unique work serves as an invaluable tool for all those working in the nexus of environment and society Frontlines Nick Meynen, 2019-12-14 Every unpacked frontline is one cutting edge of an

Local Food Systems Eva Fraňková, Willi Haas, Simron J. Singh, 2018-01-09 This book delves into diverse local food systems and critically assesses their ecological and societal benefits and trade offs their limits and opportunities for improving sustainability of food production and framework conditions which either hinder or promote their development More and more people with gradually meat heavier diets will demand growth in food production whilst our increasingly industrialized and globalized agri food system has already caused serious sustainability problems in the past This calls for a change in the way we produce distribute and consume food A re emerging debate on food security and food sovereignty seems to support this quest But what are the promising alternatives to mainstream developments Such a discussion regarding sustainability of local food systems requires a sound systemic understanding and thus invites a socio metabolic reading of local cases by analyzing the nexus between material and energy flows as well as land and time use This approach is needed to complement the so far mostly qualitatively based local food studies Applying socio metabolic approaches to local food systems fosters a better understanding of promises and pitfalls for sustainable pathways in the future Education and Innovative development of many areas of life and society bring humanity to another level of development Changes in the educational organizations are inevitable and the university must meet new requirements in a new paradigm Gafurov Safiullin Akhmetshin Gapsalamov from the excellence of academic productivism to the valorisation of pedagogy and teaching and training work from entrepreneurialism to a sense of community from entrepreneurship to public responsibility N voa 2019 The Political Ecology of Informal Waste Recyclers in India Federico Demaria,2023-06-26 Waste is increasingly a site of social conflict The questions related to waste management are not merely technical what how where and by whom become intrinsically political questions This book is about the power relations in recycling from the viewpoint of political ecology and ecological economics Informal waste recyclers are invisible for citizens and public policy This book focuses on environmental conflicts involving them with two emblematic case studies from India Firstly ship breaking where the metabolism of a global infrastructure namely shipping shifts social and environmental costs to very localized communities in order to obtain large profits Secondly the conflict around municipal solid waste management in Delhi shows how environmental costs are shifted to urban residents and recyclers are dispossessed of their livelihood source recyclable waste The first is an example of capital accumulation by contamination while the second involves both dispossession and contamination The struggles of informal recyclers constitute an attempt to re politicize waste metabolism beyond techno managerial solutions by fostering counter hegemonic discourses and praxis The book presents a range of experiences mostly in India but with examples from all over the world to inform theory on how environments are shaped politicized and contested Designs for the Pluriverse Arturo Escobar,2018-03-15 In Designs for the Pluriverse Arturo Escobar presents a new vision of design theory and practice aimed at channeling design s world making capacity toward ways of being and doing that are deeply attuned to justice and the Earth Noting that most design from consumer goods and digital technologies to built environments currently serves capitalist ends Escobar argues for the development of an autonomous design that eschews commercial and modernizing aims in favor of more collaborative and placed based approaches Such design attends to questions of environment experience and politics while focusing on the production of human experience based on the radical interdependence of all beings Mapping autonomous design s principles to the history of decolonial efforts of indigenous and Afro descended people in Latin America Escobar shows how refiguring current design practices could lead to the creation of more just and sustainable social orders
