

ECOLOGICAL RELATIONSHIPS

How do species interact with one another and shape marine ecosystems?

OVERVIEW

Students watch videos and discuss ecological relationships with a focus on observing symbiosis. Then they classify the ecological relationships they observe as mutualism, commensalism, and parasitism.

For the complete activity with media resources, visit:

<http://www.nationalgeographic.org/activity/ecological-relationships/>

DIRECTIONS

1. Introduce vocabulary terms related to ecological interactions and symbiosis.

Explain that in this activity students will use a series of videos, images, and scenarios to identify and discuss examples of ecological and symbiotic relationships in the ocean. Write the following terms on the board: competition, predation, symbiosis, mutualism, commensalism, and parasitism. Do not include the definitions yet. First, ask students to identify the root words and brainstorm what types of ecological and symbiotic relationships the terms describe. Then, review the definitions of the terms. Point out that the term symbiosis is an overarching term for mutualism, commensalism, and parasitism and that the ecological relationships predation and competition are not generally considered to be symbiotic.

- competition—when two or more organisms rely on the same environmental resource
