Ecology And Faith The Writings Of Pope John Paul II:

Ecology and Faith Pope John Paul II, 1997 These addresses dating from 1986 to 1995 show his growing awareness of the ecological crisis and the need for a Christian response to the global challenge it presents They show the depth and extent of his knowledge of these issues Ecotheology in the Humanities Melissa Brotton, 2016-05-20 This book is a collection of essays about the interaction between God humans and nature in the context of the environmental challenges and Biblical studies Chapters include topics on creation care and Sabbath sacramental approaches to earth care classical and medieval cosmologies ecotheodicy how we understand the problem of nonhuman suffering in a world controlled by a good God ecojustice and how humans help to alleviate nonhuman suffering The book seeks to provide a way to understand Judeo Christian perspectives on human to nonhuman interaction through Biblical literary cultural film and music studies and as such offers an interdisciplinary approach with emphasis on the humanities which provides a broader platform for ecotheology

Essential Catholic Social Thought Bernard V. Brady, 2008 This book provides a broad view of the basic features of the rich tradition of Catholic reflection and action on social issues In the words of Brady the Catholic social tradition is about action and contemplation It calls on persons to take responsibility for themselves and for their neighbors It aims to reach the hearts and the minds of persons It seeks personal conversion and social transformation Written in an accessible style and designed for a one semester course it presents the principles of Catholic social thought along with their historical development and abridged excerpts from relevant documents Each chapter includes study discussion questions and begins and ends with a traditional Catholic prayer The Experiment of Faith Ramage, 2020-04-17 Pope Benedict XVI memorably remarked that the Christian faith is a lot like a Gothic cathedral with its stained glass windows From the outside the Church can appear dark dreary and worn with age the crumbling relic of an institution that no longer speaks to men and women living in our modern world Indeed for many people today Christian morality with all of its commandments appears to be a source not of life and joy but instead of suffering and oppression Even within the Church many wonder why should I submit to ancient doctrines and outdated practices that restrict my freedom and impede my happiness In this timely and original book his third exploring the riches of Benedict XVI s vast corpus theologian Matthew Ramage sets out to meet this challenge with an in depth study of the emeritus pontiff s wisdom on how to live Christian discipleship in today s increasingly secularized world Taking as his starting point Benedict s conviction that the truth of Christianity like the beauty of a cathedral s glorious windows can be grasped only from the inside Ramage draws on Benedict s insights to show how all Christians can make the experiment of faith by living the theological virtues of faith hope and charity in daily life Along the way he shares his personal reflections on how Benedict s wisdom has helped him to navigate difficulties in embracing the faith and provides a way forward to those struggling to live as disciples in a way that is intellectually serious without remaining merely intellectual In so doing he also presents a highly nuanced yet accessible approach to defending the truth of the gospel in a world where life in Jesus Christ tends to be seen as unfulfilling irrelevant or just one lifestyle choice among others Following St. Francis Marybeth Lorbiecki, 2014-04-01 The first book to present the environmental teachings of this beloved pope the newly canonized St John Paul and the hopeful words of Pope Francis thoughtfully synthesized into a complete spiritual and practical vision for the future The ecological crisis is a moral crisis So said Pope John Paul II an unexpected and fierce advocate for ecological responsibility throughout his papacy Rather than seeing environmental concerns as earthly or political he showed that they are in fact at the heart of the covenant between human beings and their Creator In dozens of addresses sermons and encyclicals Pope John Paul II made specific recommendations on twelve interconnected ecological issues including climate change ocean destruction water scarcity poverty the role of women and war He showed that each could become a source of spiritual social and economic transformation Following St Francis integrates Pope John Paul II s vision with that of St Francis of Assisi patron saint of ecology and the galvanizing words of Pope Francis Accessible and illuminating it speaks to hearts and minds to nonreligious readers as well as devoted Catholics incorporating Scripture current science and inspiring stories of solutions and restoration Marybeth Lorbiecki unifies and champions the late beloved pope s view that all life issues are related and that all forms of life deserve care And if we work with God and each other to protect them we can renew the face of the earth Psalm 104 30 Routledge Handbook of Ecocriticism and Environmental Communication Scott Slovic, Swarnalatha Rangarajan, Vidya Sarveswaran, 2019-02-01 Ecocriticism and environmental communication studies have for many years co existed as parallel disciplines occasionally crossing paths but typically operating in separate academic spheres These fields are now rapidly converging and this handbook aims to reinforce the common concerns and methodologies of the sibling disciplines The Routledge Handbook of Ecocriticism and Environmental Communication charts the history of the relationship between ecocriticism and environmental communication studies while also highlighting key new paradigms in information studies diverse examples of practical applications of environmental communication and textual analysis and the patterns and challenges of environmental communication in non Western societies Contributors to this book include literary film and religious studies scholars communication studies specialists environmental historians practicing journalists art critics linguists ethnographers sociologists literary theorists and others but all focus their discussions on key issues in textual representations of human nature relationships and on the challenges and possibilities of environmental communication The handbook is designed to map existing trends in both ecocriticism and environmental communication and to predict future directions This handbook will be an essential reference for teachers students and practitioners of environmental literature film journalism communication and rhetoric and well as the broader meta discipline of environmental humanities God and the Human Environment Osunkwo Jude Thaddeus Ikenna, 2015-07-02 God and the Human Environment Catholic Principles of Environmental Stewardship as a Template for Action in Nigeria brings into conversation the Churchs theological reflection on the mandate to care for Gods creation and the circumstances of the environment in Nigeria In vivid terms and with systemic thinking Fr Jude Osunkwo a theologian who specializes in Environmental Studies and Pastoral Catechesis explores the biblical theological magisterial and doctrinal bases that underlie a faithful response to contemporary environmental challenges After setting the stage with a summation of the issues and a survey of significant ecclesiastical statements on the topic of the environment God and the Human Environment addresses Catholic theological principles of stewardship Christian responsibility and the ethics of development Then the discussion turns to the environment of Nigeria assessing its current state and reviewing the causes and consequences of environmental challenges before proposing pastoral responses for the Church Finally some chapters address likely developments in Nigeria and the Church An extensive bibliography and several appendices provide additional support God and the Human Environment is a rigorously researched and passionately presented exploration of the issues growing out of the environmental circumstances Nigerians currently face Whether you live in Nigeria or count yourself as a member of the Catholic Church and live somewhere else God and the Human Environment explores a topic that promises to make a difference in your life and to protect the part of the environment that God has created for you to tend Faith on the Faith-based Identity and Curriculum in Catholic Schools Jim Gleeson, Peta Goldberg, 2019-11-25 Faith based Identity and Curriculum in Catholic Schools examines the relationship between faith based education and whole curriculum at a time when neoliberal ideologies and market values are having a disproportionate influence on national education policies Topics addressed include current challenges and dilemmas faced by Catholic Education leadership Catholic social teaching and its implications for whole curriculum the opinions of teachers in Queensland Catholic schools regarding faith based school identity with particular reference to whole curriculum an associated comparison of these opinions teachers with those of their USA peers school identity and Catholic social teaching in Ontario Catholic schools an action research approach to the integration of Catholic social teaching in Queensland Catholic schools longitudinal study of the views of pre service teachers at a Catholic university regarding the purposes and characteristics of Catholic schools Bringing together professionals and academics from across the world Faith based Identity and Curriculum in Catholic Schools will inspire Catholic and other faith based educators to appreciate the importance and potential of the integration of faith based perspectives such as countercultural Catholic social teaching across the school curriculum in an educationally appropriate manner AFER.

, 2007 Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie, 2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa

A Greener Faith Roger S. Gottlieb, 2006-06-15 In a time of darkening environmental prospects frightening religious fundamentalism and moribund liberalism the remarkable and historically unprecedented rise of religious environmentalism is a profound source of hope In A Greener Faith Roger S Gottlieb chronicles the promises of this critically important movement illuminating its principal ideas leading personalities and ways of connecting care for the earth with justice for human beings He also shows how religious environmentalism breaks the customary boundaries of religious issues in political life Asserting that environmental degradation is sacrilegious sinful and an offense against God catapults religions directly into questions of social policy economic and moral priorities and the overall direction of secular society Gottlieb contends that a spiritual perspective applied to the Earth provides the environmental movement with a uniquely appropriate way to voice its dream of a sustainable and just world Equally important it helps develop a world making political agenda that far exceeds interest group politics applied to forests and toxic incinerators Rather religious environmentalism offers an all inclusive vision of what human beings are and how we should treat each other and the rest of life Gottlieb deftly analyzes the growing synthesis of the movement's religious social and political aspects as well as the challenges it faces in consumerism fundamentalism and globalization Highly engaging and passionately argued this book is an indispensable resource for people of faith environmentalists scholars and anyone who is concerned about our planet's future

A Sociotheological

Approach to Catholic Social Teaching Vivencio O. Ballano, 2022-10-31 This book introduces Catholic social teaching CST and its teaching on the common good to the reader and applies them in the realm of public health to critically analyze the major global issues of COVID 19 that undermine public interest It uses the sociotheological approach that combines the moral principles of CST and the holistic analysis of modern sociology and also utilizes the secondary literature as the main source of textual data Specifically it investigates the corporate moral irresponsibility and some unethical business practices of Big Pharma in the sale and distribution of its anti COVID vaccines and medicines the injustice in the inequitable global vaccine distribution the weakening of the United States Congress's legislative regulation against the pharmaceutical industry's overpricing and profiteering the inadequacy of the World Health Organization's WHO law enforcement system against corruption and the lack of social monitoring in the current public health surveillance system to safeguard the public good from corporate fraud and white collar crime This book highlights the contribution of sociology in providing the empirical foundation of CST's moral analysis and in crafting appropriate Catholic social action during the pandemic It is hoped that through this book secular scholars social scientists religious leaders moral theologians religious educators and Catholic lay leaders would be more appreciative of the sociotheological approach to understanding religion and COVID 19 This book brings into dialogue two bodies of literature documents of Catholic social teaching and modern sociology and its core thinkers and texts The author does especially well to describe how taking the sociotheological turn will benefit the credibility and dissemination of Catholic social thought Rev Fr Thomas Massaro S J Professor of Moral Theology Jesuit School of Theology Santa Clara University Berkeley California

Faith and Culture Emmanuel Osigwe, 2022-12-05 The recognition of the intersection of faith and culture has become a significant trend in contemporary theology Cultures are locations of divine activity The Sacramental Theology of Elochukwu Uzukwu in Light of Vatican II and Its Application in African Context brings freshness to the dominant Catholic sacramental thinking by offering an African appropriation of the Christian faith through African cultures It demonstrates the historical interaction of the Christian faith with multiple anthropologies that resonates with different peoples to celebrate rituals that convey divine activity This work engages the theology of Elochukwu Uzukwu a recent African sacramental liturgical theologian whose work reflects the elements of sacramental and liturgical renewal of the Second Vatican Council especially in its openness to a plurality of cultures This book retrieves resources from the African universe to offer a contextual appropriation of the interface between faith and African cultures It highlights the African view of the body in its expressive worship and significance of relationality as an undergirding existential philosophy of life Consequently it offers a flexible theological methodology that avoids polarities It provides an additional resource to the philosophical and theological approach to the perennial problem of duality and theologies constructed on this template This study moves beyond monocultural sacramental expression to engage symbols and indigenous resources to articulate an African sacramental theology

Environmental Ethics, 2004

Theories of Justice Stephanie Mar Brettman, 2015-04-30 What is justice How do we know justice How is justice cultivated in society These are the three questions that guide this critical dialogue with two representatives of the Catholic and Protestant traditions Karl Barth and Karol Wojtyla John Paul II Though the two thought leaders are shaped within divergent theological traditions and historical contexts they both appeal to Christian anthropology as a starting point for justice Their explorations into the nature of humanity yield robust new theories of justice that remain relevant for our contemporary era The third interlocutor our female author brings her own voice fully into the dialogue in the third part of the book in order to address the shortcomings in their theories and build upon their insights all the while seeking theories of humanity and social justice that result in justice for all persons

Welfare and Religion in 21st Century Europe Anders Bäckström, Grace Davie, Ninna Edgardh, Per Pettersson, 2023-04-21 Historically European churches have played a large part in the provision of welfare Responsibility however has gradually shifted to the state a shift that forms an integral part of the process of secularization and one that has been readily accepted by European populations But what happens when the state itself begins to recede a process that is occurring in most if not all European societies for a wide variety of reasons The implications for welfare are considerable not least for the role of the churches which begin to resume the responsibilities previously shed but in new and different ways This book looks at the connections between religion and welfare in Europe exploring in detail eight European societies Finland Norway Sweden England Germany France Italy and Greece The different theological traditions different church state relationships and different welfare regimes are all examined The analysis is based on first hand empirical research which considers not only the changing situation on the ground but attitudes towards this within a range of different constituencies the churches local government and the general public Particular attention is paid to the significance of gender in both the process of change and in attitudes towards this Welfare and Religion in 21st Century Europe Volume 1 represents comparative research at its best and highlights key policy implications for the future A companion book Welfare and Religion in 21st Century Europe Volume 2 explores thematically the changing nature of religion and welfare and the new relationships that are emerging between the religious and the secular and between church and state in the 21st century

Systematic Theology and Climate Change Michael S. Northcott, Peter M. Scott, 2014-06-05 This book offers the first comprehensive systematic theological reflection on arguably the most serious issue facing humanity and other creatures today Responding to climate change is often left to scientists policy makers and activists but what understanding does theology have to offer In this collection the authors demonstrate that there is vital cultural and intellectual work for theologians to perform in responding to climate science and in commending a habitable way forward Written from a range of denominations and traditions yet with ecumenical intent the authors explore key Christian doctrines and engage with some of the profound issues raised by climate change Key questions considered include What may be said about the goodness of creation in the face of anthropogenic climate change And how does theology handle a projected future without the human The volume provides students and scholars with fascinating theological insight into the complexity of climate change

Creation and Hope Nicola Hoggard Creegan, Andrew Shepherd, 2018-04-25 We live in an ecological age Science in the last few hundred years has given us a picture of nature as blind to the future and mechanical in its workings even while ecology and physics have made us aware of our interconnectedness and dependency upon the web of life As we witness a possible sixth great mass extinction there is increasing awareness too of the fragility of life on this planet In such a context what is the nature of Christian hope St Paul declares that all of creation will be set free from its bondage to decay and will obtain the freedom of the glory of the children of God How are we to imagine this freedom when death and decay are essential to biological life as we currently experience it and when the scientific predictions for life are bleak at best This book explores these questions reflecting on how our traditions shape our imagination of the future and considering how a theology of hope may sustain Christians engaged in conservation initiatives The essays in this volume are partly in dialogue with the ground breaking work of Celia Deane Drummond and are set in the context of global and local Aotearoa New Zealand ecological challenges
