Pentecostal Higher Education Daniel Topf, 2021-09-16 This book presents a theological and missiological argument for pentecostals to engage more forcefully in higher education by expanding and renewing their commitment toward operating their own colleges and universities The volume s first part describes past and present developments within higher education highlighting strengths and weaknesses of both pentecostal and post secular institutions The second part highlights the future potential of pentecostal higher education which is enriched by a Spirit empowered and mission minded spirituality that focuses on forming the hearts heads and hands of students Pentecostals increasingly desire to influence all spheres of society an endeavor that could be amplified through a strengthened engagement in higher education particularly one that encompasses a variety of institutions including a pentecostal research university In developing such an argument this research is both comprehensive and compelling inviting pentecostals to make a missional difference in the knowledge based economies that will characterize the twenty first century

Pentecostals Doing Church Mathew Clark, 2019-04-30 Pentecostal type Christians today make up close to 25% of the worldwide number of Christians of all creeds On any given Sunday morning they represent an even higher proportion of all Christian worshippers They are people who intensively do church in its every aspect This work investigates how they do it from everyday fellowship through leadership to styles of worship It balances established Western research into Pentecostalism with information and perspectives from the global stage engaging a wide spectrum of theological and social disciplines Analysing how Pentecostals have understood themselves it explores the biblical historical practical and missiological material they have utilised to establish both their implicit and explicit notions of church

Aimed at both scholars and lay people the style presentation and scope of the material are especially relevant to thinking Christians of all vocations and will also be useful for social scientists and historians intrigued by this recent Christian phenomenon The Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions, Volume V Mark P. Hutchinson, 2018-10-17

The five volume Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions series is governed by a motif of migration out of England. It first traces organized church traditions that arose in Britain and Ireland as Dissenters distanced themselves from a state church defined by diocesan episcopacy the Book of Common Prayer the Thirty Nine Articles and Royal Supremacy but then follows those traditions as they spread beyond Britain and Ireland and also analyses newer traditions that emerged downstream in other parts of the world from earlier forms of Dissent. Secondly it does the same for the doctrines church practices stances toward state and society attitudes toward Scripture and characteristic patterns of organization that also originated in earlier British and Irish dissent but that have often defined a trajectory of influence independent of ecclesiastical organizations. The Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions Volume V follows the spatial cultural and intellectual changes in dissenting identity and practice in the twentieth century as these once European traditions globalized. While in Europe dissent was often against the religious state dissent in a globalizing world could redefine itself against colonialism or other secular and religious monopolies. The contributors trace the encounters of dissenting Protestant traditions with modernity and globalization changing imperial politics challenges to biblical denominational and pastoral authority local cultures and languages and some of the century's major themes such as race and gender new technologies and organizational change. In so doing they identify a vast array of local and globalizing illustrations which will enliven conversations about the role of religion and in particular Christianity Missions in Southeast Asia Kiem-Kiok

Kwa, Samuel Ka-Chieng Law, 2022-09-26 As the boundaries between cultures and religions blur in an increasingly globalized world the church finds itself in need of new approaches to understanding and embracing otherness both inside and outside of its established communities. Southeast Asia has long been one of the world's most diverse regions with over a hundred ethnicities represented and members of every major religion living as neighbors. In this rich and complex environment the church has an equally rich and complex history at times flourishing at times floundering but inexorably taking root. In this collection of essays contributors from throughout the region reflect on the history and future of Christianity in Southeast Asia providing an overview of missions in the region and exploring how local churches are defining a uniquely Southeast Asian approach to interreligious engagement. Combining missiological research with contextual theology this volume offers profound insight into the challenges accompanying missions in a multireligious environment. From ethnic and religious conflict resolution to navigating hybrid identities this collection of essays makes an excellent contribution to global conversations surrounding the future of missions in a globalized world Transatlantic Charismatic Renewal,

Emerging Theologies from the Global South Mitri Raheb,Mark A. Lamport,2023-03-29 In recent decades there has been a seismic shift in world Christianity Whereas formerly Christianity existed as a Caucasian Euro American phenomenon the majority of Christians today reside in the Southern Hemisphere or the Global South And what is true for the demographics of Christianity has followed lockstep for its theological developments The era of German theologians setting the tone for global church are gone Today some of the loudest and most creative voices in theology speak from the emerging contingencies of the Global South for example promoting Latinx Black Caribbean and Asian theologies and their influence often influences the conversation in the United States and Europe In addition just as the center of Christianity has moved geographically from north to south so with theological seminaries in the west which have declined as training centers for clergy These events coincide with new theological centers are opening in Asia Africa Oceania and Latin America The bottom line is contemporary Christianity today looks significantly different than it did a century ago and publications have been slow to acknowledge let alone describe and elaborate upon this major shift to the largest religion in the world These shifts guide our intentions in this book Such a reference book which could also be used as a textbook therefore is very much needed In fact there is nothing like the contents of this single volume book in the publishing market which allows for high quality interdisciplinary and international dialogue

The Anglican Church in Singapore Edward Jarvis, 2024-04-15 The Anglican Church in Singapore has a unique place both in the study of World Christianity and in the history of Southeast Asia From its beginnings as a Church for colonial settlers to its role as an unlikely agent of change in Singapore's postcolonial transition and its reinvention as part of a highly prosperous hyperglobalized supercapitalist aspiration driven modern state the extraordinary trajectory of the Anglican Church in Singapore merits considerable attention This study draws on archival material incisive scholarship and candid memoirs to chart the two hundred year history of Singapore's Anglican Church through world wars and communist insurgency towards hard won national independence and the unparalleled social transformation of today but this book goes far beyond mere chronological narrative The author's approach is inquisitive rigorous and ardently multidisciplinary providing insights from theological anthropological political and sociolinguistic perspectives Homing in on critically important and currently relevant themes this book subjects the colonial era Anglican Church's social ethnic and interreligious engagement to scrutiny The Church's more recent and controversial commitment to the Anglican Realignment movement and its unexpected reorientation towards Pentecostalism are thoroughly investigated The remarkable case of Singapore's Anglican Church is indispensable for a complete understanding of World Christianity and Christianity in Asia today

 What sort of experience of grace does the Holy Spirit give Pentecostals when they celebrate the Eucharist? This book aims to answer that question by investigating Holy Communion through a Pentecostal spirituality framework and process known as search encounter transformation. Doing so enriches the theology and spirituality of Pentecostalism and broadens its understanding of the journey of salvation. The author argues that the invocation of the Spirit in the Eucharist the epiclesis grants the church a pneumatological imagination enabling it to properly remember the anamnesis the work of Christ. The outcome of remembering will be to see the Eucharist as a meal of solidarity and justice a meal that manages the hunger of the world a meal that offers healing a meal for missional nourishment a meal reorienting eschatology by providing a preview of the restoration of all things apokatastasis in the wedding supper of the Lamb. Ultimately this book encourages Pentecostals to desire a weekly celebration of the Eucharist in order to become truly Pentecostal.

Women in Pentecostal and Charismatic Ministry, 2016-11-01 Women in Pentecostal and Charismatic Ministry: Informing a Dialogue on Gender, Church and Ministry co-edited by Margaret English de Alminana and Lois E. Olena concerns women and Pentecostalism. It introduces the way the Pentecostal charismatic movement has been shaped by and has shaped women from its beginning and offers a wide variety of responses to the opportunities and limitations women have experienced in their commitment to religious service. Scholars, activists, leaders, and exemplars from a variety of disciplines reflect on the question: How have women responded to a religious context that has depended upon their gifts while at the same time limited their voices and perspectives? This volume offers missing and/or silent voices an important corrective and a way forward to shape gender-focused discussions. Contributors are Estrela Yvonne Alexander, Peter Althouse, Linda M. Ambrose, Melissa L. Archer, Amy C. Artman, Denise A. Austin, Kate Bowler, Barbara Cavaness Parks, Loralie Robinson, Crabtree, Naomi Dowdy, Margaret English de Alminana, Beth A. Christ-Centered Robert P. Menzies, 2020-10-05 Pentecostals are often portrayed as emotional people who are driven largely by experience. In Christ-Centered Menzies argues that this caricature misses the fact that Pentecostals are fundamentally people of the book. Although Pentecostals encourage spiritual experience they do so with a constant eye to Scripture. The Bible and particularly the book of Acts fosters and shapes pentecostal experience. Additionally Pentecostals are defined by their emphasis on a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. At its heart the pentecostal movement is not Spirit-centered but rather Christ-centered. The work of the Spirit as Pentecostals understand it centers on exalting and bearing witness to the Lordship of Christ. Menzies develops these themes by examining the origins, biblical foundations, and missional orientation of the modern pentecostal movement. He concludes that in spite of contradictory messages from some in fundamentalist pews and the pentecostal academy Pentecostals are and have always been solidly evangelical.
