Incomplete

State-Building in Central Asia Viktoria Akchurina, 2022-10-19 This book is about transformation of the state and an incomplete state building. It defies the transitology assumption of continuity, linearity and dichotomy of formal and informal in the transformation of the state. Contrary to the conventional approaches, it claims that any social order or its political scaffolding the state is always incomplete and we need to develop cognitive maps to better understand that incompleteness. It reflects on the social practices, processes and patterns that evolve as a non-linear result of three sets of factors: those that are historical, external and elite-driven. Three Central Asian states: Uzbekistan, Tajikistan and Kyrgyzstan are examined here comparatively as case studies as Central Asia represents an interesting terrain to challenge conventional understanding of the state. Specifically, the book captures a paradox at hand: how come three states which made different political, economic, cultural and social choices at the outset of their independence in the 1990s have ended up as so-called weak states in the 2000s and onwards. This puzzle can be better understood through looking at the relationship among three main sets of factors that shape state building processes: such as history, external actors and local elites. This book applies an interdisciplinary approach combining political anthropology, political economy, sociology and political science. It helps conceptualize and understand social and political order beyond the failed state paradigm. Being Muslim in Central Asia, 2018-01-03 This volume explores the changing place of Islam in contemporary Central Asia, understanding religion as a societal shaper, a roadmap for navigating quickly evolving social and cultural values. Islam can take on multiple colors and identities from a purely transcendental faith in God to a cauldron of ideological ferment for political ideology via diverse culture, community and history-based phenomena. The volume discusses what it means to be a Muslim in today's Central Asia by looking at both historical and sociological features, investigates the relationship between Islam, politics and the state, the changing role of Islam in terms of societal values and the issue of female attire as a public debate. Contributors include Aur lie Biard, Tim Epkenhans, Nurgul Esenamanova, Azamat Junisbai, Barbara Junisbai, Marlene Laruelle, Marantha Miles, Emil Nasritdinov, Shahnoza Nozimova, Yaacov Ro i, Wendell Schwab, Manja Stephan, Emmrich Rano, Turaeva Alon, Wainer Alexander Wolters, Galina M Yemelianova, Baurzhan Zhussupov. The Central Asia-Afghanistan Relationship Marlene Laruelle, 2017-08-14 Central Asia is a relatively understudied neighbor of Afghanistan. The region is often placed into a number of historical and political contexts: a section of the Silk Road, a pawn in the Great Game, the spillover state that exemplifies the failure of US foreign policy that limit scholarly understanding. This edited volume contributes by providing a broad long-term analysis of the Central Asia-Afghanistan relationship over the last several decades. It addresses the legacy of Soviet intervention with a unique first-hand selection of interviews of former Soviet Central Asian soldiers that fought in the Soviet Afghan War. It examines Afghanistan's northern neighbors, discussing Russia, Uzbekistan, Tajikistan and Turkmenistan, their strategy for Afghanistan, their perception of challenges and opportunities of the country and patterns of cooperation and conflict. The collection also looks at recent US strategic initiatives in the region, in particular the New Silk Road Initiative that

The Shanghai Cooperation Organization Sergey Marochkin,Yury Bezborodov,2022-05-15 The Shanghai Cooperation Organization SCO is one of the most rapidly developing centres of the multipolar world covering an enormous landmass including China India Russia and its southern Eurasian neighbours With both its eight member states and a growing group of observer states the SCO's activities have expanded beyond its initial focus on security and stability to broader cooperation with the UN and other groupings such as the G20 BRICS NATO and ASEAN Bringing together large and disparate nation states with often rival geostrategic agendas means that it not only faces substantial structural challenges but also has great potential The contributors to this volume representing a range of the states within the SCO evaluate the possibilities for the Organization and the challenges it faces in achieving them through a prism of legal regulation. They evaluate the bloc's prospects for economic humanitarian legal trade labour migration and environmental cooperation as well as its more traditional concerns with security and defence. The authors analyzing the quality of cooperation between states within the SCO note the controversial character of this process; it demonstrates both efficiency and declarative and decorative nature of the SCO. A valuable read for scholars and policy makers with a focus on Eurasian cooperation and processes of regionalism and universalism in international relationships.
