Defending Taiwan Us Pacific Commands Deterrent And Engagement Options:

Defending Taiwan: U.S. Pacific Command's Deterrent and Engagement Options, 2000 China's military modernization especially of its missile forces will soon require the United States Pacific Command USPACOM to seek proactive alternatives to carrier battle groups in order to continue to deter Chinese aggression against Taiwan. China's asymmetric niche in missile forces requires a determined effort to ensure the balance of power is not tipped to one side. Due to the military social and political change ongoing in the Peoples Republic of China PRC the next crisis across the Taiwan Strait may be less stable than the last one in 1996. As long as the PRC is in a transitional state toward democracy the propensity for conflict is greater than if the government was stable. This must be closely watched. USPACOM must lead the way in calling for missile defense systems for U S forces and for our allies. In the interim the objective of deterrence must be achieved through credibility communication and coercion when it is necessary. This can only be accomplished by increasing the current level of Sino U S military engagement. A sustained program of more bilateral exercises military to military contacts at decreasing levels of seniority and service school educational opportunities can be a positive approach to shaping the future of Sino U S relations. By proving to the PRC that the United States is not a paper tiger U S strength would serve as a credible deterrent to Chinese aggression across the Taiwan Strait. In this case time is on the side of peace and stability in the Asia Pacific region. The United States must be ready and able to provide that time. Department of Defense

As the U S military presence in the Middle East winds down Asia and the Pacific are receiving increased attention from the American national security community The Obama administration has announced a rebalancing of the U S military posture in the region in reaction primarily to the startling improvement in Chinese air and naval capabilities over the last decade or so This timely study sets out to assess the implications of this shift for the long established U S military presence in Asia and the Pacific This presence is anchored in a complex basing infrastructure that scholars and Americans generally too often take for granted In remedying this state of affairs this volume offers a detailed survey and analysis of this infrastructure its history the political complications it has frequently given rise to and its recent and likely future evolution American seapower requires a robust constellation of bases to support global power projection Given the rise of China and the emergence of the Asia Pacific as the center of global economic growth and strategic contention nowhere is American basing access more important than in this region Yet manifold political and military challenges stemming not least of which from rapidly improving Chinese long range precision strike capabilities complicate the future of American access and security here This book addresses what will be needed to maintain the fundamentals of U S seapower and force projection in the Asia Pacific and where the key trend lines are headed in that regard This book demonstrates that U S Asia Pacific basing and access is increasingly vital yet increasingly vulnerable It demands far more attention than the limited coverage it has received to date and cannot be taken for granted More must be done to preserve capabilities and access upon which American and allied security and prosperity depend

Rules of Engagement in Maritime Operations Russell Swinnerton,1994 Why Taiwan? Geostrategic Rationales for China's Territorial Integrity Alan M. Wachman,2008 Why has the PRC been so determined that Taiwan be part of China Why since the 1990s has Beijing been feverishly developing means to prevail in combat with the U S over Taiwan s status Why is Taiwan worth fighting for To answer this book focuses on the territorial dimension of the Taiwan issue and highlights arguments made by PRC analysts about the geostrategic significance of Taiwan rather than emphasizing the political dispute between Beijing and Taipei It considers Beijing s quest for Taiwan since 1949 against the backdrop of recurring Chinese anxieties about the island s status since the seventeenth century
