Deleuze Fascism Security War Aesthetics:

Deleuze & Fascism Brad Evans, Julian Reid, 2013-05-29 This edited volume deploys Deleuzian thinking to re theorize fascism as a mutable problem in changing orders of power relations dependent on hitherto misunderstood social and political conditions of formation The book provides a theoretically distinct approach to the problem of fascism and its relations with liberalism and modernity in both historical and contemporary contexts It serves as a seminal intervention into the debate over the causes and consequences of contemporary wars and global political conflicts as well as functioning as an accessible guide to the theoretical utilities of Deleuzian thought for International Relations IR in a manner that is very much lacking in current debates about IR Covering a wide array of topics this volume will provide a set of original contributions focussed in particular upon the contemporary nature of war the increased priorities afforded to the security imperative the changing designs of bio political regimes fascist aesthetics nihilistic tendencies and the modernist logic of finitude the politics of suicide the specific desires upon which fascism draws and of course the recurring pursuit of power An important contribution to the field this work will be of great interest to students and scholars of international relations fascism and international relations theory

Resistance, Revolution and Fascism Anthony Faramelli, 2018-10-18 Examining the under theorized relationship between revolution and fascism this book outlines a politics of resistance to these forms of domination Through an examination of the psychic conditions created by integrated world capitalism as well as by the revolutionary projects that oppose this form of financial and social organization Anthony Faramelli identifies the limits of revolutionary thinking In doing so he argues that revolutionary projects inevitably reproduce the same organization of life and structures of control as capitalism Following its analysis of revolution and fascism this book argues for a way out of our current political stasis through the development of a philosophically informed practice of resistance termed assemblage politics Drawing on the resistant philosophies developed by Deleuze and Guattari Howard Caygill's defiant philosophy and the Zapatista insurgents the form of resistance proposed is marked by a structural fluidity that allows it to avoid being captured by capitalism's repressive structures Enabling a better understanding of the current social political landscape and providing a fuller context of the political necessity to move away from notions of revolution this book is relevant to those interested in postcolonial theory and Latin American politics political philosophy and the growing field of resistance studies

Drones and the Annihilation-Image in Contemporary Warfare Gabriel F. Caetano, 2024-10-26 This book analyses the entanglement between Washington and Hollywood to shed light on the violence inherent in the image as a semiotic material agent in contemporary warfare In the 21st century the weaponized military drone an image centered machine has spearheaded the geopolitical curatorship of the USA in the context of the war on terror Drone violence shares the same characteristics as cinema image and movement However a drone's image is not purely a reflection of the nature of war it is more than representational it is performative Building upon the concept of annihilation image this book argues that the image wields a destructive agency as it transitions from reflection to diffraction Rather than mirroring reality the annihilation image creates a brutal pattern of difference in the world It is a destructive ontology in which seeing and annihilating are in a state of superposition Therefore everything that is framed is potentially dead That is to say by framing bodies and objects in the terrain a state of superpositional violence is created in which one is alive but virtually dead Deleuze and Buddhism Tony See,Joff Bradley,2016-10-31 This book explores the resonances between Deleuze s philosophy and a range of philosophical concepts in Buddhism Focusing on this rarely examined relationship this book gathers perspectives from scholars around the globe to explore the continuities and discontinuities between Deleuze s and Buddhist thought They examine immanence intensity assemblages and desire and the concepts of ethics and meditation This volume will prove to be an important resource for readers and scholars interested in philosophy critical theory and comparative studies They will find this an engaging and invaluable examination of two different yet similar modes of thought Lacan, Deleuze and World Politics Andreja Zevnik,2016-02-26 This book aims to re think the way in which the subject is inscribed in the modern political and does so by exploring the potentiality of Lacano Deleuzian theoretical framework It concerns a different ontology and a non dualist understanding of political and legal existence by focusing on questions such as how to think alternative notions of political existence and what kind of political social and legal order do these come to create This investigation into political appearance of subjects through concepts of law body and life is led and influenced by the thought of Gilles Deleuze and Jacques Lacan as well as Alain Badiou Antonio Negri and Slavoj i ek The book takes on various conceptualisations of life explores the relationship between law and life and develops an alternative notion of legal and political existence in particular in the context of rights On the back of Guantamo s legal and political discourses this work aims to show why and how the problems of world politics or the limitations of human rights discourse require an engagement with questions such as what it means to exist as a human being what forms of life are politically recognised which are not and why this distinction By pointing to a different ontology for thinking and understanding global politics and demonstrating how a trans disciplinary and philosophical approaches can foster the debates in world politics this book will be of interest to postgraduates and scholars working on critical normative ideas in international politics critical security studies and critical legal studies The Far-Right, Education and Violence Michael A. Peters,Tina Besley,2020-10-19 In the last decade the far right associated with white nationalism identitarian politics and nativist ideologies has established itself as a major political force in the West making substantial electoral gains across Europe the USA and Latin America and coalescing with the populist movements of Trump Brexit and Boris Johnson s 2019 election in the UK This political shift represents a major new political force in the West that has rolled back the liberal internationalism that developed after WWI and shaped world institutions globalization and neoliberalism It has also impacted upon the democracies of the West Its historical origins date from the rise of fascism in Italy Germany and Austria from the 1920s In broad philosophical terms the movement can be conceived as a reaction against the rationalism and individualism of liberal democratic societies and a political revolt based on the philosophies of Nietzsche Darwin and Bergson that purportedly embraced irrationalism subjectivism and vitalism This edited collection of essays by Michael A Peters and Tina Besley taken from the journal Educational Philosophy and Theory provides a philosophical discussion of the rise of the far right and uses it as a canvas to understand the return of fascism white supremacism acts of terrorism and related events including the refugee crisis the rise of authoritarian populism the crisis of international education and Trump's end of globalism

War, Identity and the Liberal State Victoria Basham, 2013-07-24 This book critically examines the significance of gender race and sexuality to wars waged by liberal states Drawing on original field research with British soldiers it offers insights into how their everyday experiences are shaped by and shape a politics of gender race and sexuality that not only underpins power relations in the military but the geopolitics of wars waged by liberal states Linking the politics of daily life to the international is an intervention into international relations IR and security studies because instead of overlooking the politics of the everyday this book insists that it is vital to explore how geopolitical events and practices are co constituted reinforced and contested by it By utilising insights from Michel Foucault the book explores how shared and collectively mediated knowledge on gender race and sexuality facilitates certain claims about the nature of governing in liberal states and about why and how such states wage war against illiberal ones in pursuit of global peace and security The book also develops post structural work in international relations by urging scholars interested in the linguistic construction of geopolitics to consider the ways in which bodies objects and architectures also reinforce particular ideas about war identity and statehood

Eating Otherwise Maria Christou, 2017-09-28 This book explores the philosophical implications of the popular adage that you are what you eat through twentieth century literature It investigates the connections between the alimentary and the ontological between what or how one eats and what one is Maria Christou's focus is on two influential modernist figures Georges Bataille and Samuel Beckett and two influential postmodernist figures Paul Auster and Margaret Atwood She aims to theorize the relationship between modernism and postmodernism from a specifically alimentary perspective By examining the work of these major twentieth century authors this book focuses on strange or unusual acts of eating eating otherwise as a means to ways of being otherwise What can eating tell us about being about who we are and about our being in the world This powerful innovative study takes literary food studies in a new direction

Emotions, Politics and War Linda Åhäll, Thomas Gregory, 2015-07-03 A growing number of scholars have sought to re centre emotions in our study of international politics however an overarching book on how emotions matter to the study of politics and war is yet to be published This volume is aimed at filling that gap proceeding from the assumption that a nuanced understanding of emotions can only enhance our engagement with contemporary conflict and war Providing a range of perspectives from a diversity of methodological approaches on the conditions maintenance and interpretation of emotions the contributors interrogate the multiple ways in which emotions function and matter to the study of global politics

Accordingly the innovative contribution of this volume is its specific engagement with the role of emotions and constitution of emotional subjects in a range of different contexts of politics and war including the gendered nature of war and security war traumas post conflict reconstruction and counterinsurgency operations Looking at how we analyse emotions in war why it matters and what emotions do in global politics this volume will be of interest to students and scholars of critical security studies and international relations alike

Race and Racism in International Relations Alexander Anievas, Nivi Manchanda, Robbie Shilliam, 2014-10-30 International Relations as a discipline does not grant race and racism explanatory agency in its conventional analyses despite such issues being integral to the birth of the discipline Race and Racism in International Relations seeks to remedy this oversight by acting as a catalyst for remembering exposing and critically re articulating the central importance of race and racism in International Relations Focusing especially on the theoretical and political legacy of W E B Du Bois s concept of the colour line the cutting edge contributions in this text provide an accessible entry point for both International Relations students and scholars into the literature and debates on race and racism by borrowing insights from disciplines such as history anthropology and sociology where race and race theory figures more prominently yet they also suggest that the field of IR is itself an intellectually and strategic field through which to further confront the global colour line Drawing together a wide range of contributors this much needed text will be essential reading for students and scholars in a range of areas including Postcolonial studies race racism in world politics and international relations theory

Critical Environmental Politics Carl Death, 2013-12-04 The aim of this book is to review central concepts in the study of environmental politics and to open up new questions problems and research agendas in the field The volume does so by drawing on a wide range of approaches from critical theory to poststructuralism and spanning disciplines including international relations geography sociology history philosophy anthropology and political science The 28 chapters cover a range of global and local studies illustrations and cases These range from the Cochabamba conference in Bolivia to climate camps in the UK UN summits in Rio de Janeiro and Johannesburg to climate migrants from Pacific islands forests in Indonesia to Dutch energy governance reform indigenous communities in Namibia to oil extraction in the Niger Delta survivalist militias in the USA to Maasai tribesmen in Kenya Rather than following a regional or issue based e g water forests pollution etc structure the volume is organised in terms of key concepts in the field including those which have been central to the social sciences for a long time such as citizenship commodification consumption feminism justice movements science security the state summits and technology those which have been at the heart of environmental politics for many years including biodiversity climate change conservation eco centrism limits localism resources sacrifice and sustainability and many which have been introduced to these literatures and debates more recently biopolitics governance governmentality hybridity posthumanism risk and vulnerability Features and benefits of the book Explains the most important concepts and theories in environmental politics Reviews the core ideas behind crucial debates in environmental politics Highlights the key thinkers both classic and contemporary for studying environmental politics Provides original perspectives on the critical potential of the concepts for future research agendas as well as for the practice of environmental politics Each chapter is written by leading international authors in their field This exciting new volume will be essential textbook reading for all students of environmental politics as well as provocatively presenting the field in a different light for more established researchers

Theory of the Political Subject Sergei Prozorov, 2013-11-07 Together these two companion volumes develop an innovative theory of world politics grounded in the reinterpretation of the concepts of world and politics from an ontological perspective Theory of the Political Subject continues the project of reconstruction of political universalism begun in Ontology of World Politics Having redefined world politics in terms of the affirmation of the universal ontological axioms of freedom equality and community in an infinite multiplicity of particular situations or worlds in this book Prozorov focuses on the way this affirmation is actually practiced analysing the conditions for the emergence within a world of the subject of its radical transformation Drawing on the contemporary reassessment of the notion of the subject in continental political thought particularly the work of Alain Badiou Prozorov defines the political subject in terms of one's subtraction from the positive order of one's world the weakening of one's particular identity that makes possible one's participation in the affirmation of the universal The book proceeds with outlining the path of the political subject within its world from the point of its inception to its confrontation with ethical epistemic and other limits to its activity This account of the subjective aspect of world politics also offers new and stimulating perspectives on such key issues of political theory as the relation of politics to human nature the role of violence in politics and the conditioning of politics by philosophical or scientific knowledge Systematic and accessible these works will be key reading for all students and scholars of political science and international relations

Politics and Suicide Nicholas Michelsen, 2015-10-08 Politics and Suicide argues that whilst the historical lineage of suicidal politics is recognised the fundamental significance of autodestruction to the political remains under examined It contends that practices like suicide bombing do not simply embody a strange or abnormal suicidal articulation of the political but rather that the existence of suicidal politics tells us something fundamental about the political as such and thinking about political violence more broadly Recent world events have emphatically shown our need for tools with which to develop better understandings of the politics of suicide Through the exploration of several arresting case studies including the Kamikaze bombers of World War Two Jan Palach's self immolation in 1969 Cold War nuclear deterrence and the suicide terrorist attacks of 9/11 Michelsen asks how we might talk of a political suicide in any of these contexts The book charts how political processes go suicidal and asks how we might still consider them to be political in such a case It investigates how suicide can function as politics A strong contribution to the fields of philosophy and international relations theory this work will also be of interest to students and scholars of political theory and terrorism political violence

Late Modern Palestine Laura Junka-Aikio, 2015-10-14 Late Modern Palestine looks at the ways in which the relationship between the subject and representation and the political problematic of postcolonial late modernity is articulated in the context of the Palestinians struggle for liberation Junko Aikio provides a rich theoretically and empirically and in part also visually grounded study of the complex ways in which ordinary Palestinians face negotiate and resist multiple regimes of power and desire in the context of everyday life in the West Bank and Gaza The volume examines the early years of the second Palestinian uprising an intifada whose political status remains highly disputed The book examines the ways in which Palestinian politics during the second intifada has been entangled with the broader social and political changes that are associated with postcolonial late modernity It is argued that the dislocation between modern colonial and late modern postcolonial regimes of power and subjectivity greatly complicates the map of power and resistance in contemporary Palestine and also renders articulation of national unity and hegemonic political strategy increasingly unlikely This work will be of great interest to students and scholars of Middle East Studies Postcolonial Studies International Relations Political Sociology Critical Security Studies and Political Theory Ontology and World Politics Sergei Prozorov, 2013-10-23 Together these two companion volumes develop an innovative theory of world politics grounded in the reinterpretation of the concepts of world and politics from an ontological perspective Ontology and World Politics presents a new approach to political universalism grounded in the reinterpretation of world politics from an ontological perspective In the discipline of International Relations the concept of world politics remains ambivalent functioning both as a synonym of international relations and their antonym denoting the aspirations for the overcoming of interstate pluralism in favour of a universalist politics of the global community or the world state Rather than distinguish world politics from international politics by its site level or issues Prozorov interprets it as another kind of politics Drawing on Martin Heidegger s account of world disclosure and Alain Badiou s phenomenology of worlds this book posits world politics as a practice of the affirmation of universal axioms across an infinite plurality of limited and particular situations or worlds Prozorov reinterprets the familiar principles of community equality and freedom in ontological terms as attributes of pure being subtracted from all positive determinations and presents them as axioms of universalist politics valid in any world whatsoever This approach to world politics serves as the groundwork for a comprehensive reconsideration of the central themes of political and international relations theory Systematic and accessible these works will be key reading for all students and scholars of political science and international relations International Politics and Performance Jenny Edkins, Adrian Kear, 2013-11-07 In recent years we have witnessed an increasing convergence of work in International Politics and Performance Studies around the troubled and often troubling relationship between politics and aesthetics Whilst examination of political aesthetics aesthetic politics and politics of aesthetic practice has been central to research in both disciplines for some time the emergence of a distinctive performative turn in International Politics and a critical return to the centrality of politics and the concept of the political in Performance Studies highlights the importance of investigating the productivity of bringing the methods and approaches of the two fields of enquiry into dialogue and mutual relation Exploring a wide range of issues including rioting youth driven protests border security practices and the significance of cultural awareness in war this text provides an accessible and cutting edge survey of the intersection of international politics and performance examining issues surrounding the politics of appearance image event and place and discusses the development and deployment of innovative critical and creative research methods from auto ethnography to site specific theatre making from philosophical aesthetics to the aesthetic thought of new securities scenario planning The book s focus throughout is on the materiality of performance practices on the politics of making spectating and participating in a variety of modes as political actors and audiences whilst also seeking to explicate the performative dynamics of creative and critical thinking Structured thematically and framed by a detailed introduction and conclusion the focus is on producing a dialogue between contributors and providing an essential reference point in this developing field This work is essential reading for students of politics and performance and will be of great interest to students and scholars of IR performance studies and cultural studies

The Personality of Power Brian Massumi, 2025-02-28 I am the Chosen One With this exclamation Donald Trump crowns the national exceptionalism his base upholds with a claim of personal exceptionalism He leaves no doubt as to the emotional note I am your vengeance He personifies reaction for the masses Except in today s microsegmented social media environment the masses no longer exist Fascism s cultural conditions have shifted In The Personality of Power Brian Massumi retheorizes the conditions of contemporary fascism through the prism of Trump s persona Older theories based on identification of the masses with a charismatic leader no longer hold Rather an affective regime of reaction agitates bodies and orients lives at the molecular level Massumi examines this agitation in relation to race gender personhood and conspiracy thinking The Personality of Power is a political treatise on fascism and its precursor movements coupled with a philosophical inquiry into becoming reactionary as a collective process Massumi calls the very concept of the person into question asking what collective personhood means concretely Nothing less than an alternative political logic is needed turned to the task of thinking collective individuation

Political Aesthetics Arundhati Virmani, 2015-09-07 Political Aesthetics highlights the complex and ambiguous connections of aesthetics with social cultural and political experiences in contemporary societies If today aesthetics seems a rather overused term mixing a variety of historical realities and complex personal states of being its relevance as a connecting agent between individual state and society is stronger than ever The actual context of political and economic crisis generates new relations between official imposed aesthetics and the resistance and critiques they trigger Considered beyond the poles of power and protest the book examines how traditional or innovative artistic practices may acquire unexpected capacities of subversion It nourishes the current debate around the new political stakes of aesthetics as an inviolable right of ordinary citizens an essential element of empowerment and agency in a democratic every day It will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations political culture and political aesthetics as well as critical sociology and history It will also be useful for some broad courses in media studies cultural studies and sociology

European-East Asian Borders in Translation Joyce C.H. Liu, Nick Vaughan-Williams, 2014-08-21 European East Asian Borders is an international trans disciplinary volume that breaks new ground in the study of borders and bordering practices in global politics It explores the insights and limitations of border theory developed primarily in the European context to a range of historical and contemporary border related issues and phenomena in East Asia The essays presented here question rather than assume the various borders between inclusion exclusion here there us them that condition the impossibility of translating between histories cultures and identities Contributors suggest that the act of translation offers new ways of thinking about how border logics operate taking on the concept of translation itself as border problematic and therefore raising questions of power and authority such as who gets to act as a translator or who benefits from the outcome The book will appeal not only to upper level students and scholars with a geopolitical historical interest in East Asia but also to those who work in the inter disciplinary field of border studies and others with an interest more generally in translation and the extent to which theory travels across time and space The Palgrave Handbook of Affect Studies and Textual Criticism

Donald R. Wehrs, Thomas Blake, 2017-12-01 This volume provides a comprehensive account of how scholarship on affect and scholarship on texts have come to inform one another over the past few decades The result has been that explorations of how texts address elicit shape and dramatize affect have become central to contemporary work in literary film and art criticism as well as in critical theory rhetoric performance studies and aesthetics Guiding readers to the variety of topics themes interdisciplinary dialogues and sub disciplinary specialties that the study of interplay between affect and texts has either inaugurated or revitalized the handbook showcases and engages the diversity of scholarly topics approaches and projects that thinking of affect in relation to texts and related media open up or enable These include but are not limited to investigations of what attention to affect brings to established methods of studying texts in terms of period genre cultural contexts rhetoric and individual authorship
