Das Beil Von Wandsbek:

Das Beil Von Wandsbek Arnold Zweig, 1954 German Literary Culture at the Zero Hour Stephen Brockmann, 2009
The zero hour of the title was 1945 when Germany had to confront total devastation the crimes of Nazism the onset of the Cold War the division of the country It was a time of intense intellectual debate here reviewed through the mediums of literature literary discourse The Cambridge History of German Literature Helen Watanabe-O'Kelly, 2000-06-12 This is the first book to describe German literary history up to the unification of Germany in 1990 It takes a fresh look at the main authors and movements and also asks what Germans in a given period were actually reading and writing what they would have seen at the local theatre or found in the local lending library it includes for example discussions of literature in Latin as well as in German eighteenth century letters and popular novels Nazi literature and radio plays and modern Swiss and Austrian literature A new prominence is given to writing by women Contributors all leading scholars in their field have re examined standard judgements in writing a history for our own times The book is designed for the general reader as well as the advanced student titles and quotations are translated and there is a comprehensive bibliography Disability in Twentieth-Century German Culture Carol Poore, 2007-09-25 This book offers a groundbreaking exploration of disability in Germany from the Weimar Republic to the fall of the Berlin Wall Disability in Twentieth Century German Culture reveals the contradictions of a nation renowned for its social services programs yet notorious for its history of compulsory sterilization and eugenic dogma Covering the entire scope of Germany's most tragic and tumultuous century this comprehensive volume reveals how central the notion of disability is to modern German cultural history Carol Poore examines a wide range of literary and visual depictions of disability focusing particular attention on disability and Nazi culture Other topics explored include the exile community's response to disability socialism and disability in East Germany current bioethical debates and the rise and gains of the disability rights movement Twentieth Century Germany gives students scholars and all those interested in disability studies Germans studies visual culture Nazi history and bioethics the opportunity to explore controversial questions of individuality normalcy citizenship and morality The History of German Literature on Film Christiane Schönfeld, 2023-06-15 A 2024 CHOICE OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC TITLE This book tells the story of German language literature on film beginning with pioneering motion picture adaptations of Faust in 1897 and early debates focused on high art as mass culture It explores analyzes and contextualizes the so called golden age of silent cinema in the 1920s the impact of sound on adaptation practices the abuse of literary heritage by Nazi filmmakers and traces the role of German language literature in exile and postwar films across ideological boundaries in divided Germany in New German Cinema and in remakes and movies for cinema as well as television and streaming services in the 21st century Having provided the narrative core to thousands of films since the late 19th century many of German cinema's most influential masterpieces were inspired by canonical texts popular plays and even children's literature Not being restricted to German adaptations however this book also traces the role of literature originally written in German in international film productions which sheds light on the interrelation between cinema and key historical events It outlines how processes of adaptation are shaped by global catastrophes and the emergence of nations by materialist conditions liberal economies and capitalist imperatives political agendas the mobility of individuals and sometimes by the desire to create reflective surfaces and perhaps even art Commercial cinema s adaptation practices have foregrounded economic interest but numerous filmmakers throughout cinema history have turned to German language literature not simply to entertain but as a creative contribution to the public sphere marking adaptation practice at least potentially as a form of active citizenship

DEFA at the Crossroads of East German and International Film Culture Marc Silberman, Henning Wrage, 2014-05-21 Motion picture production distribution exhibition and reception has always been a transnational phenomenon yet East Germany situated at the edge of the post war Iron Curtain separated by a boundary that became materialized in the Berlin Wall in 1961 resembles nothing if not an island a protected space where film production developed under the protection of government subsidy and ideological purity This volume proposes on the contrary that the GDR cinema was never just a monologue Rather its media landscape was characterized by constant dialogue if not competition with both the capitalist West and socialist East These thirteen essays reshape DEFA cinema studies by exploring international networks identifying lines of influence beyond national boundaries and recognizing genre qualities that surpass the temporal and spatial confines The international team of film specialists present detailed analyses of over fifty films including fiction features adaptations of literary classics children s films documentaries and examples from genres such as music sci fi Westerns and crime films With contributions by Sen Allan Hunter Bivens Benita Blessing Barton Byg Jaimey Fisher Sabine Hake Nick Hodgkin Manuel K ppen Anke Pinkert Larson Powell Brad Prager Marc Silberman Stefan Soldovieri and Henning Wrage

Screening Nostalgia Alexandra Ludewig, 2014-03-15 The Heimat film genre assumed to be outdated by so many is very much alive Who would have thought that this genre which has been almost unanimously denounced within academic circles but which seems to resonate so deeply with the general public would experience a renaissance in the 21st century The genre s recent resurgence is perhaps due less to an obsession with generic storylines and stereotyped figures than to a basic human need for grounding that has resulted in a passionate debate about issues of past and present This book traces the history of the Heimat film genre from the early mountain films to Fatih Akin s contemporary interpretations of Heimat

Divided, But Not Disconnected Tobias Hochscherf, Christoph Laucht, Andrew Plowman, 2010-12-01 The Allied agreement after the Second World War did not only partition Germany it divided the nation along the fault lines of a new bipolar world order This inner border made Germany a unique place to experience the Cold War and the German question in this post 1945 variant remained inextricably entwined with the vicissitudes of the Cold War until its end This volume explores how social and cultural practices in both German states between 1949 and 1989 were shaped by the existence of this inner border putting them on opposing sides of the ideological divide between the Western and Eastern blocs as well as stabilizing relations between them This volume s interdisciplinary approach addresses important intersections between history politics and culture offering an important new appraisal of the German experiences of the Cold War

Hollywood Behind the Wall Daniela Berghahn, 2005-07-15 This book is a representative history of East German film culture from 1946 to the present examining both DEFA s celebrated classics and the most acclaimed post unification feature films by East German directors As Berghahn shows East German cinema occupies an ambivalent position between German national cinema on the one hand and East European and Soviet cinema on the other It includes a wide ranging exploration of post unification cinema from East Germany including cult films such as Sun Alley and Goodbye Lenin and provides contextualized readings of twenty significant films referencing one hundred and ninety East German films in total along with numerous West German and East European classics

Detectives, Dystopias, and Poplit Bruce Campbell, Alison Guenther-Pal, Vibeke Rützou Petersen, 2014. The first broad treatment of German genre fiction containing innovative new essays on a variety of genres and foregrounding concerns of gender, environmentalism, and memory. Some of the most exciting research and teaching in the field of German Studies is being done on genre fiction, including detective fiction, science fiction, and what is often called poplit, to name but a few. Such non-canonical literature has long been marginalized by the German tradition of Bildung and the disciplinary practice of German literary studies, Germanistik. Even today, when the examination of non-canonical texts is well established and uncontroversial in other academic contexts, such texts remain understudied in German. And yet, the trend toward German Studies and cultural studies approaches within the field has raised considerable interest in the analysis of genre fiction, resulting in both a great deal of new scholarship and a range of new courses. This first broad treatment of German genre fiction brings together innovative new scholarship foregrounding themes of gender, environmentalism, and memory. It is an ideal companion to research and teaching. Written in accessible English, it speaks to a wide variety of disciplines beyond German Studies. Contributors: Bruce B. Campbell, Ray Canoy, Kerry Dunne, Sonja Fritzsche, Maureen O. Gallagher, Adam R. King, Molly Knight, Vibeke Rützou Petersen, Evan Torner, and Ailsa Wallace. Bruce B. Campbell is Associate Professor of German Studies at the College of William and Mary. Alison Guenther-Pal is Assistant Professor of German and Film Studies at Lawrence University. Vibeke Rützou Petersen is Professor Emerita of Women's Studies at Drake University.

Heroes and Heroism in German Culture

,2021-10-18 As Brecht's Galileo observed a country which needs heroes is unfortunate indeed words which suggest that a society's need for heroes is always a function of its shortcomings By examining the role that heroes and heroism have played in German literature and culture over the past two centuries the essays in this volume illuminate and contour both a flawed German society in need of heroes and the flawed but essential heroes brought forth by that society Beginning in the era of the anti Napoleonic Wars of Liberation advancing to the challenging situation Germany faced at the end of World War II and concluding with the current reemergence of a unified Germany after almost half a century of division this volume broadens our understanding of the inadequacies and breakdowns of German society In addition to analyses of heroism in German culture during the last two centuries this volume contains the first major essays in English on cultural representations of disability in German culture and on AIDS in German literature as well as two essays on the scholarly accomplishments of Jost Hermand to whom all of the essays in the volume are dedicated

Everyday Life as Alternative Space in Exile Writing

Andrea Hammel,2008 This book is the first comparative study of the novels written by five German speaking women Anna Gmeyner Selma Kahn Hilde Spiel Martina Wied and Hermynia Zur Mühlen who had to flee National Socialist Central Europe Gmeyner Spiel Wied and Zur Mühlen found refuge in Britain and thus added together with male colleagues such as Stefan Zweig and Robert Neumann an important but rarely investigated new dimension to the British literary landscape The aim of this study is to reassess the women refugee writers narrative strategies and integrate their work within feminist literary studies The author investigates the five writers narrativisation of everyday life used to subvert the dominant discourse and their portrayal of the intersection between class racial and gender oppression She also shows their innovative ways of picturing the gendered tension between the experiences of exile and exile as a modernist metaphor as well as their search for ways to refute the Nationalist Socialist rewriting of history The book situates the novels within the theoretical discussions surrounding exile studies social history and women's writing

Red Orchestra Anne Nelson,2023-08-24

For years the history of the anti Nazi resistance in Germany was hidden and distorted by Cold War politics Providing a much needed corrective Red Orchestra presents the dramatic story of a circle of German citizens who opposed Hitler from the start choosing to stay in Germany to resist Nazism and help its victims The book shines a light on this critical movement which was made up of academics theatre people and factory workers Protestants Catholics and Jews around 150 Germans all told and from all walks of life Drawing on archives memoirs and interviews with survivors award winning scholar and journalist Anne Nelson presents a compelling portrait of the men and women involved and the terrifying day to day decisions in their lives from the Nazi takeover in 1933 to their Gestapo arrest in 1942 Nelson traces the story of the Red Orchestra Rote Kapelle resistance movement within the context of German history showing the stages of the Nazi movement and regime from the 1920s to the end of the Second World War She also constructs the narrative around the life of Greta Kuckhoff and other female figures whose role in the anti Nazi resistance fight is too often unrecognised or under appreciated This revised edition includes A new introduction which explores elements of the Red Orchestra s experience that resonate with our times including the impact of new media technologies the dangers of political polarization and the way the judiciary can be shaped to further the ends of autocracy The introduction will also address the long standing misconception that the German Resistance only took action when it was clear that Germany was losing the war Historiographic updates throughout the book which take account of recent literature and additional archival sources
