Engineers Of Jihad The Curious Connection Between Violent Extremism And Education:

Engineers of Jihad Diego Gambetta, Steffen Hertog, 2017-11-28 A groundbreaking investigation into why so many Islamic radicals are engineers The violent actions of a few extremists can alter the course of history yet there persists a yawning gap between the potential impact of these individuals and what we understand about them In Engineers of Jihad Diego Gambetta and Steffen Hertog uncover two unexpected facts which they imaginatively leverage to narrow that gap they find that a disproportionate share of Islamist radicals come from an engineering background and that Islamist and right wing extremism have more in common than either does with left wing extremism in which engineers are absent while social scientists and humanities students are prominent Searching for an explanation they tackle four general questions about extremism Under which socioeconomic conditions do people join extremist groups Does the profile of extremists reflect how they self select into extremism or how groups recruit them Does ideology matter in sorting who joins which group Lastly is there a mindset susceptible to certain types of extremism Using rigorous methods and several new datasets they explain the link between educational discipline and type of radicalism by looking at two key factors the social mobility or lack thereof for engineers in the Muslim world and a particular mindset seeking order and hierarchy that is found more frequently among engineers Engineers presence in some extremist groups and not others the authors argue is a proxy for individual traits that may account for the much larger question of selective recruitment to radical activism Opening up markedly new perspectives on the motivations of political violence Engineers of Jihad yields unexpected answers about the nature and emergence of extremism

Education and Extremisms Farid Panjwani, Lynn Revell, Reza Gholami, Mike Diboll, 2017-08-09 Education and Extremisms addresses one of the most pressing questions facing societies today how is education to respond to the challenge of extremism It argues that the implementation of new teaching techniques curricular reforms or top down changes to education policy alone cannot solve the problem of extremism in educational establishments across the world Instead the authors of this thought provoking volume argue that there is a need for those concerned with radicalisation to reconsider the relationship between instrumentalist ideologies shaping education and the multiple forms of extremisms that exist Beginning with a detailed discussion of the complicated and contested nature of different forms of extremism including extremism of both a religious and secular nature the authors show that common assumptions in contemporary discourses on education and extremism are problematic Chapters in the book provide a careful selection of pertinent and topical case studies policy analysis and insightful critique of extremist discourses Taken together the chapters in the book make a powerful case for re engaging with liberal education in order to foster values of individual and social enrichment intellectual freedom criticality open mindedness flexibility and reflection as antidotes to extremist ideologies Recognising recent criticisms of liberalism and liberal education the authors argue for a new understanding of liberal education that is suitable for multicultural societies in a rapidly globalising world This book is essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students with an interest in religion citizenship education liberalism secularism counter terrorism social policy Muslim education youth studies and extremism It is also relevant to teacher educators teachers and policymakers American Journal of Islam and Society (AJIS) - Volume 37 Issues 1-2 Andrew F. March, Atif Suhail Siddiqui, Emad Hamdeh, Akhmad Akbar Susanto, Abu Zayd, Marion Holmes Katz, Asma M. Abdel Halim, Joshua Mugler, Maria Magdalena-Fuchs, Thomas Parker, Tayyaba Rafiq, Umar Shareef, Omar Anchassi, Moiz Mohammed, Saman Fazeli, Mohammed Rustom, 2020-06-01 You will notice the new name of our journal American Journal of Islam and Society AJIS that has replaced the older American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences AJISS Now in its thirty seventh year the journal has evolved along with the scholarly landscape and our global community of readers The new name reflects an expansion of the journal s scope which has in fact already reflected in the articles it has featured for years This change signals that social sciences and humanities are interrelated and that an Islamic engagement with one requires examining the other we therefore wish to underscore that we welcome all scholarship that pertains to the myriad ways in which Islam and human societies interact Furthermore in order to optimize our resources and further improve the quality of the content the journal will henceforth be published biannually rather than every quarter Ovamir Anjum Editor Extremist Islam Kumar Ramakrishna, 2022 Since the Bali terrorist attacks in 2002 law enforcement agencies have rigorously combatted terrorist networks in Southeast Asia yet groups motivated by violent extremist interpretations of Islam remain resilient and dangerous This book shines a light on specific beliefs behaviors and policies that impact these challenges ultimately offering cutting edge effective tools for response The book begins by challenging misguided and controversial notions that depict Islam as an inherently violent religion arguing that the theological ideological amalgam of what has been called Salafabism is the more useful lens for recognizing closed minded extremist currents The book carefully distinguishes this Salafabist extremist mindset from relatively open minded Salafabist radicalism paying due attention to nonviolent extremists and the ways they can contribute to rather than reduce violent terrorist activity in the region Using poignant case studies from Malaysia Singapore the Philippines and Indonesia the book clarifies a bewildering range of terminology associated with Islamist violence and explains how imprecise and oversimplified narratives are destructive to progress and worse empowering to terrorist organizations These chapters build up to research informed policies and rhetorical recommendations for improved outcomes With its novel insights into the root causes of extremist terrorism in Southeast Asia the ineffective policies that prohibit progress and promote unrest in this region and the avenues for positive change this book offers a comprehensive strategy for fostering theologically sound yet culturally authentic counterterrorist measures that defend the complex richly textured tapestry of culture in Southeast Asia A Theory of ISIS Mohammad-Mahmoud Ould Mohamedou, 2017-11-20 The Islamic State of Iraq and Syria has been the subject of intense scrutiny in the West Considered by many to be the most dangerous terrorist organisation in the world it has become shrouded in numerous myths and narratives many emanating from the US which often fail to grasp its true nature Against these narratives Mohammad Mahmoud Ould Mohamedou presents a bold new theory of ISIS By tracing its genealogy and documenting its evolution in Iraq and Syria he argues that ISIS has transcended Osama Bin Laden s original project of Al Qaeda mutating into an unprecedented hybrid form that distils postcolonial violence postmodernity and the emerging post globalisation international order This book analyses ISIS from a social sciences perspective and unpacks its dynamics by looking beyond superficial questions such as its terrorist nature and religious rhetoric It transforms our understanding of ISIS and its profound impact on the very nature of contemporary political violence

The Dark Social Capital of Religious Radicals Johannes Saal,2021-05-04 With the departure of European Muslims to the Islamic State and a wave of terrorist attacks in Europe in recent years the questions of why and how individuals radicalize to Jihadi extremism attracted keen interest This thesis examines how individuals radicalize by applying a theoretical framework that primarily refers to social capital theory the economics of religion and social movement theory The analysis of the biographical backgrounds pathways of radicalization and network connections of more than 1 300 Jihadi extremists from Germany Austria and Switzerland shows that radicalization primarily need to be considered as a social process of isolation from former social contacts and affiliation with a new religious group Radicalization is characterized by the transformation of social capital and often channeled through so called strong ties to friends and family members These peer networks constitute the social fundament of radical clusters on the local level which are usually linked to a broader milieu through exclusive mosque communities and religious authorities Bonding social capital within these radical groups minimizes the risk of betrayal and promotes trust essential for clandestine and risky activities

Taner Edis,2023-12-07 Within Muslim populations debates about the compatibility between science and religion tend to be framed by the long standing competition between modernizing reformers particularly westernizers and theological conservatives Much like their liberal Christian counterparts reformers propose to embrace technical knowledge and reinterpret traditional beliefs undermined by modern science Conservatives are more open to challenging the content of science especially when science appears to support materialist views Islamists promote an alternative non western style of modernity nurturing a more pious professional class that contrasts with westernized elites By scientific standards westernizers appear to have the upper hand especially as conservative apologetics is drawn toward distortions of science such as creationism or fruitless attempts to Islamize science But conservatives can also point to some success in defusing tensions between scientific and religious institutions without adopting the full secularization of science seen in post Christian countries Trending Islam: Cases from Southeast Asia Norshahril Saat,A'an Suryana,Mohd Faizal Musa,2023-09-22
