Policy, Belief and Practice in the Secondary English Classroom Bethan Marshall, Simon Gibbons, Louise Hayward, Ernest Spencer, 2018-11-01

Studies of comparative classroom practice in the teaching of secondary English are limited especially when it comes to exploration of the day to day practice of English teachers in the secondary classroom This book presents a case study analysis of secondary classroom practice in three countries Canada England and Scotland Each country has had different degrees of state involvement within the secondary English curriculum over the last twenty years England has had the highest degree of state involvement in that it has had several statutory national curricula and a variety of assessment regimes Scotland has had a non statutory curriculum and no national tests and Canada has had no national curriculum at all with education being determined at province level and each province varying its policies The research adopts a case study approach involving both classroom observation and interviews with teachers Through this the authors explore the impact of state involvement on the reality of what happens in secondary English classrooms The book invites readers to consider the applicability of the findings to their own contexts to examine their own practice in the light of this and to consider the nature of the relationships between policy personal belief and practice in the teaching of English

Cooperative and Work-Integrated Education in Asia Yasushi Tanaka, Karsten Zegwaard, 2018-09-28

It has been over a century since Cooperative System of Education a work study programme for higher education was initiated by Herman Schneider at University of Cincinnati in the United States Today it is known as Cooperative Education which is commonly included within the umbrella term of Work Integrated Learning and broadly referred to by the World Association of Cooperative Education WACE as Cooperative and Work Integrated Education CWIE Its development worldwide has been closely related to the socioeconomic background of the region This book offers the first attempt to focus on the development of CWIE in Asia To date the development of CWIE in the Asia region has been slow compared to their counterparts The analysis follows international comparisons of China Japan Korea Hong Kong Vietnam Thailand Malaysia and Singapore on their educational history vocational education CWIE and future issues Although the level of development varies among them there is no doubt that this region as a whole is experiencing a rapidly growing global demographic and economic prominence CWIE can and to some extent already does play an important supportive role as part of growth The book goes on to conclude that in order to enable further successful expansion of CWIE and improve its best practice it is imperative to establish national and regional associations for CWIE as well as establish collaborative research activities across the region with governmental funding support
