Terminal Condition David Shobin, 2017-02-12 Imagine you're critically injured in a horrible accident Rushed to the emergency room you're fighting for your life But once you're there no one tries to help you Instead you're locked in a dark room with rows of comatose patients just lying there not dying but not living either Imagine you're a promising young doctor at New York's most prestigious hospital You're there to save lives but you soon find out that the hospital is run on greed and malice rather than compassion Horrific human experiments are taking place People are being robbed of vital fluids And for some reason no one seems concerned with healing the sick Here is a horrifying medical thriller with a premise so plausible you'll think twice about entering another hospital Master of medical suspense David Shobin bestselling author of The Center and The Unborn has done it again he's crafted a chilling tale so rich with intrigue action and excitement you won't put it down until the last heart pounding page

The Dying Process Julia Lawton, 2002-01-04 Taking as its focus a highly emotive area of study The Dying Process draws on the experiences of daycare and hospice patients to provide a forceful new analysis of the period of decline prior to death Placing the bodily realities of dying very firmly centre stage and questioning the ideology central to the modern hospice movement of enabling patients to live until they die Julia Lawton shows how our concept of a good death is open to interpretation Her study examines the non negotiable effects of a patient's bodily deterioration on their sense of self and in so doing offers a powerful new perspective in embodiment and emotion in death and dying A detailed and subtle ethnographic study The Dying Process engages with a range of deeply complex and ethically contentious issues surrounding the care of dying patients in hospices and elsewhere

Patient-Directed Dying Tom Preston M.D.,2007-04-26 Author Tom Preston MD and his terminally ill patients and their families often face the controversial predicament of how to die when suffering has been medically extended Through their conversations they demonstrate how dying is a process how physicians alter when and how we die and why natural death is a misnomer after medical interventions prolong the process Their cases also explain why patients not physicians or others should be able to make their own decisions about when and how to die Dr Preston gives compelling reasons as to why aid in dying is not suicide when used by terminally ill patients and why physicians who help them die are not assisting suicide He shows us the ethical aspects of aid in dying and how they are consistent with other current and legal medical practices that help patients end their suffering He debunks claims that legalized aid in dying would be abused for financial social or political reasons Dr Preston also shows how outdated cultural attitudes impede society's understanding of how we die why many physicians withdraw from their dying patients and how the sanctity of life principle has become distorted to obstruct physician assisted deaths Patient Directed Dying is a powerful manifesto calling for mercy and reason in helping terminally ill patients die a peaceful death

PsychoBabbleJabble Kurt D LaRose,2021-02-09 This book will likely irritate every reader at some point One chapter is so bold it intones the good of a mother who kills her children The chapter does not say the murderous mother was a good woman or that she did a good thing it doesn't say that her actions should be without penalty or consequence The chapter suggests basically in a metaphoric and anecdotal ending that the mother loves the ones she killed PsychoBabbleJabble is full of these kinds of challenges this book is written and designed to tackle human judgment My work as a therapist a clinician and as a helper in different settings and in different states even I am licensed in Florida the District of Columbia and Missouri plus with my hypnosis training all of these play a role in this writing The reader will see and experience the maneuvering of words each used to explain and help promote understanding in how people's judgments are formed Many judgments are those that I like to call terminal thoughts For some reason or another certain thoughts are seemingly non negotiable to the holder of them With terminal thoughts in mind we all have them I'm able to using my writing go with the reader using their various lines of thinking as if their beliefs are absolutely true Then near each chapter ending I include an alternative and new perspective where a question about the once absolute belief is now wedged toward and in between a different belief Wedged meaning a small detail of alternative thought is strategically placed juxtaposition to a terminal thought that the reader once used or uses still maybe to hold up a rationale supporting truth By each chapters end the belief is jolted loose a tiny bit hopefully It is in that jolting where a belief becomes finally questioned and questionable This text contains my best writing and some of my best clinical recall All of my training is included in some way in every part of this text the hypnosis training kicks my writing up a notch Here using people's RIGHTNESS as an ally in shaping a new belief I contradict the old truth while valuing it in key and passionate areas of what might be called life and the people that make it so That's what I'd say this book hopes to do to jolt loose just a little bit those absolute judgments we as humans may unknowingly without ill intent and possibly mistakenly hold as settled
