Local Languageing, Literacy and Multilingualism in a West African Society Kasper Juffermans,2015-09-14 This book aims to enhance and challenge our understanding of language and literacy as social practice against the background of heightened globalisation Juffermans presents an ethnographic study of the linguistic landscape of The Gambia arguing that language should be conceptualised as a verb languageing rather than a countable noun a language languages He goes on to argue that sociolinguistics should not be defined as the study of who speaks what language to whom and when and to what end as Fishman defined it but as the study of who uses which linguistic features under particular circumstances in a particular place and time The book is therefore in part an exercise to unpluralise language which Juffermans argues is necessary for a more realistic understanding of what language is what it does and what people do with it The book will be of interest to sociolinguistics researchers especially those focusing on Africa and the global South     Education pamphlets ,1929
