

Clara Barton

Clara Barton was a nurse and the founder of the American Red Cross. She was born in Massachusetts in 1821, and she died in Maryland in 1912. Clara Barton believed in equality and women's rights. When Clara was eleven years old, her brother got hurt from falling off a roof. Clara helped take care of her brother and get him healthy again. It was this experience that helped Clara realize he enjoyed caring for people. As a woman, she went to college and earned a degree in education. She helped build a school and worked as a school teacher. Her experience being paid less as a woman made her want to fight for women's rights. She moved to Washington D.C. to work at a patent office and was fired for being a woman. When the Civil War began, Clara and her sister helped take care of wounded soldiers as they arrived in Washington D.C. She helped organize and get medical supplies to soldiers on the front lines. Eventually, Clara traveled from battlefield to battlefield, helping treat wounded soldiers. She became known as the "Angel of the Battlefield" for her bravery. Clara learned of the International Red Cross—an organization that helped wounded soldiers in battle. Clara wanted to bring the Red Cross to America. Clara founded the American Red Cross in May of 1881. The American Red Cross still exists today, helping people after natural disasters. Clara never married or had children. She worked for the American Red Cross into her 80s.
