Clash Of Civilizations Over An Elevator In Piazza Vittorio:

Clash of Civilizations Over an Elevator in Piazza Vittorio Amara Lakhous, 2008-09-30 The immigrant tenants of a building in Rome offer skewed accounts of a murder in this prize winning satire by the Algerian born Italian author Publishers Weekly Piazza Vittorio is home to a polyglot community of immigrants who have come to Rome from all over the world But when a tenant is murdered in the building s elevator the delicate balance is thrown into disarray As each of the victim s neighbors is questioned by the police readers are offered an all access pass into the most colorful neighborhood in contemporary Rome With language as colorful as the neighborhood it describes each character takes his or her turn giving evidence Their various stories reveal much about the drama of racial identity and the anxieties of a life spent on society s margins but also bring to life the hilarious imbroglios of this melting pot Italian culture Their frequently wild testimony teases out intriguing psychological and social insight alongside a playful whodunit plot Publishers Weekly

Interrupted Narratives and Intersectional Representations in Italian Postcolonial Literature Caterina Romeo, 2023-01-17 This book argues for the importance of adopting a postcolonial perspective in analysing contemporary Italian culture and literature Originally published in Italian in 2018 as Riscrivere la nazione La letteratura italiana postcoloniale this new English translation brings to light the connections between the present the colonial past and the great historical waves of international and intranational migration By doing so the book shows how a sense of Italian national identity emerged at least in part as the result of different migrations and why there is such a strong resistance in Italy to extending the privilege of Italianity or Italianness to those who have arrived on Italian soil in recent years Exploring over 100 texts written by migrant and second generation writers the book takes an intersectional approach to understanding gender and race in Italian identity It connects these literary and cultural contexts to the Italian colonial past while also looking outwards to a more diffuse postcolonial condition in Europe

Global Rome Clough Isabella Marinaro, Bjørn Thomassen, 2014-06-06 Delving into topics from immigration to sustainability this is an original rich and important contribution to the study of Rome H Italy Is twenty first century Rome a global city Is it part of Europe s core or periphery This volume examines the real city beyond Rome s historical center exploring the diversity and challenges of life in neighborhoods affected by immigration neoliberalism formal urban planning and grassroots social movements The contributors engage with themes of contemporary urban studies the global city the self made city alternative modernities capital cities and nations urban change from below and sustainability Global Rome serves as a provocative introduction to the Eternal City and makes an original contribution to interdisciplinary scholarship

Coming Out Christian in the Roman World Douglas Ryan

Boin, 2015-03-03 The supposed collapse of Roman civilization is still lamented more than 1 500 years later and intertwined with this idea is the notion that a fledgling religion Christianity went from a persecuted fringe movement to an irresistible force that toppled the empire The intolerant zeal of Christians wrote Edward Gibbon swept Rome's old gods away and with them the structures that sustained Roman society Not so argues Douglas Boin Such tales are simply untrue to history and ignore the most important fact of all life in Rome never came to a dramatic stop Instead as Boin shows a small minority movement rose to transform society politically religiously and culturally but it was a gradual process one that happened in fits and starts over centuries Drawing upon a decade of recent studies in history and archaeology and on his own research Boin opens up a wholly new window onto a period we thought we knew His work is the first to describe how Christians navigated the complex world of social identity in terms of passing and coming out Many Christians lived in a dynamic middle ground Their quiet success as much as the clamor of martyrdom was a powerful agent for change With this insightful approach to the story of Christians in the Roman world Douglas Boin rewrites and rediscovers the fascinating early history of a world faith

The Routledge Companion to Literature and Food Lorna Piatti-Farnell, Donna Lee Brien, 2018-04-19 The Routledge Companion to Literature and Food explores the relationship between food and literature in transnational contexts serving as both an introduction and a guide to the field in terms of defining characteristics and development Balancing a wide reaching view of the long histories and preoccupations of literary food studies with attentiveness to recent developments and shifts the volume illuminates the aesthetic cultural political and intellectual diversity of the representation of food and eating in literature

Self-Translation and Power Olga Castro, Sergi Mainer, Svetlana Page, 2017-08-07 This book investigates the political social cultural and economic implications of self translation in multilingual spaces in Europe Engaging with the power turn in translation studies contexts it offers innovative perspectives on the role of self translators as cultural and ideological mediators The authors explore the unequal power relations and centre periphery dichotomies of Europe's minorised languages literatures and cultures They recognise that the self translator's double affiliation as author and translator places them in a privileged position to challenge power to negotiate the experiences of the subaltern and colonised and to scrutinise conflicting minorised vs hegemonic cultural identities Three main themes are explored in relation to self translation hegemony and resistance self minorisation and self censorship and collaboration hybridisation and invisibility This edited collection will appeal to scholars and students working on translation transnational and postcolonial studies and multilingual and multicultural identities

Home, Memory and Belonging in Italian Postcolonial Literature

Chiara Giuliani, 2021-08-27 This book examines the meaning of home through the investigation of a series of public and private spaces recurrent in Italian postcolonial literature The chapters by respectively considering Termini train station in Rome phone centres the condominium and the private spaces of the bathroom and the bedroom investigate how migrant characters inhabit those places and turn them into familiar spaces of belonging Home Memory and Belonging in Italian Postcolonial Literature suggests home spaces as a possible lens to examine these specific places and a series of practices enacted by their inhabitants in order to feel at home Drawing on a wide array of sources this book focuses on the role played by memory in creating transnational connections between present and past locations and on how these connections shape migrants sense of self and migrants identity Transcultural Italies Charles Burdett, Loredana Polezzi, Barbara Spadaro, 2020-12-01 The history of Italian culture stems from multiple experiences of mobility and migration which have produced a range of narratives inside and outside Italy This collection interrogates the dynamic nature of Italian identity and culture focussing on the concepts and practices of mobility memory and translation It adopts a transnational perspective offering a fresh approach to the study of Italy and of Modern Languages Muslim Writing, Writing Muslimness in Europe Carmen Zamorano Llena, Billy Gray, Carolina León Vegas, Carles Magrinyà Badiella, 2025-09-25 Throughout the first two decades of the twenty first century the so called Muslim question has intermittently though persistently taken centre stage in Western media and political discourses In terms of culture within the European context there is also a substantial body of literature that has engaged with Western anxieties projected onto the Muslim Other and in particular the Muslim migrant Other Literary criticism of Muslim writing and writing about Muslims in Europe has often highlighted the need to offer a more nuanced articulation of Muslim identity that contributes to challenging such othering practices Critical studies on Muslim writing produced over the last two decades have predominantly focused on contemporary literature and the novel in particular and they have often centred on specific linguistic and national frameworks This collection of essays adds complexity to existing analyses of contemporary Muslim writing and writing about Muslims and Islam in the European context by emphasizing the comparative perspective of writings produced in different epochs and different linguistic and cultural contexts Drawing on transcultural and world literature perspectives Muslim writing is redefined so as to incorporate genres other than the novel and critical approaches that expand on disciplinary redefinitions of literature and literary studies The thematic focus and the rigorous in depth analysis of the different case studies will make this collection relevant to students and academics within the fields of literary and cultural studies sociology and anthropology as well as to those in European studies and global studies The Fictions of Translation Judith Woodsworth, 2018-02-15 In The Fictions of Translation emerging and seasoned scholars from a range of cultures bring fresh perspectives to bear on the age old practice of translation The current movement of people knowledge and goods around the world has made intercultural communication both prevalent and indispensable Consequently the translator has become a more prominent figure and translation an increasingly present theme in works of literature Embedding translation in a fictional setting and considering its most extreme forms pseudotranslation or self translation for example are fruitful ways of conceptualizing the act of translating and extending the boundaries of translation studies Taken together the various translational fictions examined in this collection yield new insights into questions of displacement migration and hybridity all characteristic of the modern world The Fictions of Translation will thus be of interest to practising translators students and scholars of translation and literary studies as well as a more general readership

Migrant Writers and Urban Space in Italy Graziella Parati, 2017-09-15 This book is about migrants lives in urban space in particular Rome and Milan At the core of the book is literature as written by migrants members of a second generation and a filmmaker who defines himself as native It argues that the narrative authored by migrants refugees second generation women and one native Italian perform a reparative reading of Italian spaces in order to engender reparative narratives Eve Sedgwick wrote about our now traditional way of reading based on unveiling and on mainly negative affect We are trained to tear the text apart dig into it and uncover the anxieties that define our age Migrants writers seem to employ both positive and negative affects in defining the past present and future of the spaces they inhabit Their recuperative acts of writing constitute powerful models of changes in on place As they look at Italian exclusionary spaces they also rewrite them into a present whose transitivity allows to imagine a process of citizenship and belong constructed from below

Writing Migration through the Body Emma Bond, 2018-09-05 Writing Migration through the Body builds a study of the body as a mutable site for negotiating and articulating the transnational experience of mobility At its core stands a selection of recent migration stories in Italian which are brought into dialogue with related material from cultural studies and the visual arts Occupying no single disciplinary space and drawing upon an elaborate theoretical framework ranging from phenomenology to anthropology human geography and memory studies this volume explores the ways in which the skin itself operates as a border and brings to the surface the processes by which a sense of place and self are described and communicated through the migrant body Through investigating key concepts and practices of transnational embodied experience the book develops the interpretative principle that the individual bodies which move in contemporary migration flows are the primary agents through which the transcultural passages of images emotions ideas memories and also histories and possible futures are enacted

Italy and the Mediterranean N. Bouchard, V. Ferme, 2013-09-04 The Mediterranean has always loomed large in the history and culture of Italy and since the 1980s this relationship has been represented in ever more varied forms as both national and regional identities have evolved within a globalized context This interdisciplinary volume puts Italian artists writers musicians and filmmakers and intellectuals philosophers sociologists and political scientists in conversation with each other to explore Italy s Mediterranean identity while questioning the boundaries between Self and Other and between native and foreign bodies By moving beyond nation centric models of cultural and ethnic homogeneity based on myths of progress and rationality these wide ranging contributions fashion new ways of belonging that transcend the cultural economic religious and social categories that have characterized post Cold War Italy and Europe The Transcontinental Maghreb Edwige Tamalet Talbayev, 2017-10-24 The writer Gabriel Audisio once called the Mediterranean a liquid continent Taking up the challenge issued by Audisio s phrase Edwige Tamalet Talbayev insists that we understand the region on both sides of the Mediterranean through a transcontinental heuristic Rather than merely read the Maghreb in the context of its European colonizers from across the Mediterranean Talbayev compellingly argues for a transmaritime deployment of the Maghreb across the multiple Mediterranean sites to which it has been materially and culturally bound for millennia The Transcontinental Maghreb reveals these Mediterranean imaginaries to intersect with Maghrebi claims to an inclusive democratic national ideal yet to be realized Through a sustained reflection on allegory and critical melancholia the book shows how the Mediterranean decenters postcolonial nation building projects and mediates the nomadic subject s reinsertion into a national collective respectful of heterogeneity In engaging the space of the sea the hybridity it produces and the way it has shaped such historical dynamics as globalization imperialism decolonization and nationalism the book rethinks the very nature of postcolonial histories and identities along its shores The Novel and Europe Andrew Hammond, 2016-10-05 This book examines the ways in which fiction has addressed the continent since the Second World War Drawing on novelists from Europe and elsewhere the volume analyzes the literary response to seven dominant concerns ideas of Europe conflict borders empire unification migration and marginalization offering a ground breaking study of how modern and contemporary writers have participated in the European debate The sixteen essays view the chosen writers not as representatives of national literatures but as participants in transcontinental discussion that has occurred across borders cultures and languages In doing so the contributors raise questions about the forms of power operating across and radiating from Europe challenging both the institutionalized divisions of the Cold War and the triumphalist narrative of continental unity currently being written in Brussels Reconstructing Identity Nicholas Monk, Mia Lindgren, Sarah McDonald, Sarah Pasfield-Neofitou, 2017-07-31 This book examines the notion of identity through a multitude of interdisciplinary approaches It collects current thinking from international scholars spanning philosophy history science cultural studies media translation performance and marketing each with an outlook informed by their own subject and a mission to reflect on a theme that is greater than the sum of its parts This project was born out of a dynamic international and interdisciplinary pedagogical experience While by no means a teaching guide or textbook the authors experience of sharing the module with their students reinforced the fluidity and elusiveness of identity and its persistent facility to escape disciplinary classification Identity as a subject for analysis and discussion and as a lived reality for all of us has never been more complex and multi faceted Each chapter of this singular collection provides a lens through which the concept of identity can be viewed and as the book progresses it moves from ideas based in disciplinary contexts biology psychiatry philosophy to those developed in multi and inter disciplinary contexts such as area studies feminism and queer studies Pre-Occupied Spaces Teresa Fiore, 2017-05-23 Runner Up Winner of the Edinburgh Gadda Prize Established Scholars Cultural Studies Category Winner of the American Association for Italian Studies Book Prize 20th 21st Centuries Honorable Mention for the Howard R Marraro Prize By linking Italy's long history of emigration to all continents in the world contemporary transnational migrations directed toward it as well as the country's colonial legacies Fiore's book poses Italy as a unique laboratory to rethink national belonging at large in our era of massive demographic mobility Through an interdisciplinary cultural approach the book finds traces of globalization in a past that may hold interesting lessons about inclusiveness for the present Fiore rethinks Italy's formation and development on a transnational map through cultural analysis of travel living and work spaces as depicted in literary filmic and musical texts By demonstrating how immigration in Italy today is preoccupied by its past emigration and colonialism the book stresses commonalities and dispels preoccupations
