Classed Intersections By Yvette Taylor 2010 04 01:

Classed Intersections Yvette Taylor, 2016-05-23 Classed Intersections examines the salience transformation and tension of class analysis at a crucial juncture in its return to and reinvention of sociological agendas. The contributors, including both established and emerging academics, examine class as produced through combined social, cultural, and economic practices but are clear not to reify class over and above other paradigms. Instead, a number of key intersections are foregrounded, including gender, ethnicity, and sexuality. The collection draws on a variety of methodological positions, including in-depth interviews, ethnographies, and auto-biographical approaches. It scrutinizes classed intersections across a wide range of social spheres and practices, including education, the workplace, everyday life, citizenship, struggles, consumption, the family, and sexuality. Taken together, this volume will enhance efforts to establish new working class studies both in the UK and around the world.

The Intersection of Class and Space in British Postwar Writing Simon Lee, 2022-12-29 Centering on the British kitchen sink realism movement of the late 1950s and early 1960s, specifically its documentation of the built environment's influence on class consciousness, this book highlights the settings of a variety of novels, plays, and films, turning to archival research to offer new ways of thinking about how spatial representation in cultural production sustains or intervenes in the process of social stratification. As a movement that used gritty documentary-style depictions of space to highlight the complexities of working class life, the period's texts chronicled shifts in the social and topographic landscape while advancing new articulations of citizenship in response to the failures of post-war reconstruction. By exploring the impact of space on class, this book addresses the contention that critical discourse has overlooked the way the built environment informs class identity.

Reading Literature and Theory at the Intersections of Queer and Class Maria Alexopoulos, Tomasz Basiuk, Susanne Hochreiter, Tijana Ristic Kern, 2024-09-25 Reading Literature and Theory at the Intersections of Queer and Class focuses on the crossover of queer and class, examining a range of texts across languages and genres and spanning nearly a century. This collection of chapters considers the intersection of queer and class in relation to literary aesthetics, a locus in which the interaction between sexuality and class is rendered with lucidity. Each chapter puts forward class and its manifestations as central to queer analysis of literary and cultural texts in historical and contemporary contexts. The readings adopt Kimberl Crenshaw's intersectional paradigm by pointing to its activist as well as literary precedents and elaborations. These chapters emerged from a long-standing collaboration among three Central European universities whose faculty and graduate students established a joint queer literature and theory research seminar. They are supplemented by a roundtable discussion in which the contributing authors and their colleagues discuss how the concepts of queer and class in theory and academic practice have informed their current and previous work. Reading Literature and Theory at the Intersections of Queer and Class is intended for scholars in gender and queer studies. Theorizing Intersectionality and Sexuality Y. Taylor, S. Hines, M. Casey, 2010-11-24 This book re-examines political conceptual and methodological concerns of intersectionality bringing these into conversation with sexuality studies. It explores sexual identifications, politics and inequalities as these disconnect across time and place and are re-constituted in relation to class, disability, ethnicity, gender and age.

Fitting into Place? Yvette Taylor, 2016-04-15 Fitting into Place adopts a multi-dimensional interdisciplinary approach to explore shifting geographies and temporalities that re-constitute city publics and the place of the public sociologist. Class, race and gender disadvantages are situated in relation to urban/rural contrasts where future selves are reconfigured in and through local and global sites. People inhabit shifting times and places from industrial landscapes of the past to a current present and imagined cosmopolitan regenerated future. The rhetorics and vocabularies of place as affective and material suggest a more complex fit than the language of masculine crisis for past times or feminised fit into new futures suggests. Across the generations, women's labour is still effaced as maps of loyalty hold up families as reference points of belonging and fitting in such architecture of place complicates reified geographies of choice which centre a middle-class mobile subject. Based upon funded empirical research, this book will be of interest to sociologists and geographers.

Sexuality, Citizenship and Belonging Francesca Stella, Yvette Taylor, Tracey Reynolds, Antoine Rogers, 2015-10-23 This book brings together a diverse range of critical interventions in sexuality and gender studies and seeks to encourage new ways of thinking about the connections and tensions between sexual politics, citizenship and belonging. The book is organized around three interlinked thematic areas focusing on sexual citizenship, nationalism and international borders. Part 1: sexuality and race; Part 2: sexuality and religion; Part 3: In revisiting notions of sexual citizenship and belonging, contributors engage with topical debates about sexual nationalism or the construction of western European nations as exceptional in terms of attitudes to sexual and gender equality vis-à-vis an uncivilized racialized Other. The collection explores macro-level perspectives by attending to the geopolitical and socio-legal structures within which competing claims to citizenship and belonging are played out at the same time; micro-level perspectives are utilized to explore the interplay between sexuality and race, nation, ethnicity and religious identities. Geographically, the collection has a prevalently European focus yet contributions explore a range of trans-national spatial dimensions that exceed the boundaries of Europe and of European nation-states.

Educational Diversity Y. Taylor, 2012-09-26 This collection explores the relationship between new equality regimes and continued societal inequalities, exploring change, ambivalence and resistance specifically in relation to compulsory and post-compulsory education, seeking to more fully situate the educational journeys and experiences of staff and students.

Queer Presences and Absences Yvette Taylor, Michelle Addison, 2013-04-09 This book explores changes and continuations in lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer lives, identities and spatial practices in the 21st century from around the globe using a range of methods to connect pasts, places and policies with contemporary times, linking individual and social presences and absences affectively and materially.

The Entrepreneurial University Y.

Taylor,2014-05-05 The entrepreneurial university has been tasked with making an impact This collection presents professional personal reflections on research experience and interpretative accounts of navigating fieldwork and broader publics politics and practices of dis engagement primarily through a feminist queer and gender studies lens Intimacies, Critical Consumption and Diverse Economies Yvette Taylor,Emma Casey,2015-10-21 This collection explores the relationships between the emotional and material engaging with and developing the debates surrounding the emotional and material labour involved in producing and reproducing domestic and intimate spaces The contributions examine the geographies and spaces of consumption in international and local global spheres Sexualities: Past Reflections, Future Directions Sally Hines,Yvette Taylor,2012-05-09 This collection examines recent theoretical and methodological debates shifts in law and policy and social and cultural changes around sexuality It sets out new ways of conceptualizing and researching sexuality and explores persistently marginalised and re traditionalised sexual practices subjectivities and identities Rooted Globalism Kevin Funk,2022-10-18 Does the concept of nationality apply to the economic elite or have they shed national identities to form a global capitalist class In Rooted Globalism Kevin Funk unpacks dozens of ethnographic interviews he conducted with Latin America s urban based Arab descendant elite class some of whom also occupy positions of political power in countries such as Argentina Brazil and Chile Based on extensive fieldwork Funk illuminates how these elites navigate their Arab ancestry Latin American host cultures and roles as protagonists of globalization With the term rooted globalism Funk captures the emergence of classed intersectional identities that are simultaneously local national transnational and global Focusing on an oft ignored axis of South South relations between Latin America and the Arab world Rooted Globalism provides detailed analysis of the identities worldviews and motivations of this group and ultimately reveals that rather than obliterating national identities global capitalism relies on them Widening Participation in Higher Education T. Hinton-Smith,2012-10-30 This collection offers an authoritative up to date commentary on the challenges facing higher education today across both the UK and internationally The book charts the impact of global economic trends and recent policy developments for students academics providers and changing course provision From Civil Partnerships to Same-Sex Marriage Nicola Barker,Daniel Monk,2015-04-17 The Civil Partnership Act 2004 and the Marriage Same Sex Couples Act 2013 are important legal social and historical landmarks rich in symbolic material and cultural meanings While fiercely opposed by many within mainstream narratives they are often represented as a victory in a legal reform process that commenced with the decriminalisation of homosexuality Yet at the same time for others they represent a problematic and ambivalent political engagement with the institution of marriage Consequently understood or labelled as revolutionary progressive and conservative these legal reforms provide a space for thinking about issues that arguably affect everyone regardless of sexual orientation or relationship status This edited collection brings together scholars and commentators from a range of backgrounds generations and disciplines to reflect on the first ten years of civil partnerships and the introduction of same sex marriage Rather than rehearsing the arguments for and against relationship recognition the essays ask original questions draw on a variety of methods and collectively provide a detailed and reflective snap shot of a critical moment a history of the present as well as providing a foundation for innovative ways of thinking about and engaging with the possibilities and experiences arising from the new reality of relationship recognition for gays and lesbians Making Space for Queer-Identifying Religious Youth Yvette Taylor, 2016-03-24 Making Space for Queer Identifying Religious Youth charts young people s understanding of religion investigating the experiences choices and identities of queer lesbian gay bisexual transgender youth involved in inclusive churches Rather than assume that sexuality and religion and in this case Christianity are separate and divergent paths this book explores how they might mutually and complexly construct one another in times of religious sexual citizenship Taylor presents a methodological discussion on the public sociology of religion and sexuality studies and provides an illustrative focus on substantive fields often separated in disciplinary dis orientations These examples illustrate how participation shapes identifications how marginalization and discrimination are managed and how religion and sexuality serve as vehicles for various forms of belonging identification and expression Religion and sexuality are mutually constructed through gendered spaces online spaces and sensory spaces Feeling Academic in the Neoliberal University Yvette Taylor, Kinneret Lahad, 2018-02-09 This book offers a contemporary account of what it means to inhabit academia as a privilege risk entitlement or a failure Drawing on international perspectives from a range of academic disciplines it asks whether feminist spaces can offer freedom or flight from the corporatized and commercialized neoliberal university How are feminist voices felt heard received silenced and masked What is it to be a feminist academic in the neoliberal university How are expectations entitlements and burdens felt in inhabiting feminist positions and what of bad feeling or unhappiness amongst feminists The volume consider these issues from across the career course including from early career and senior established scholars as these diverse categories are themselves entangled in academic structures sentiments and subjectivities they are solidified in for example entry and promotion schemes as well as funding calls and they ask us to identify in particular stages of being or becoming academic while arguably denying the possibility of ever arriving It will be essential reading for students and researchers in the areas of Education Sociology and Gender Studies Privilege, Agency and Affect C. Maxwell, P. Aggleton, 2013-10-22 Drawing on a range of theoretical perspectives and engaging with new empirical evidence from around the world this collection examines how privilege agency and affect are linked and where possibilities for social change might lie Cities, Diversity and Ethnicity Martin Bulmer, John Solomos, 2017-10-02 This volume brings together a variety of studies on the question of cities ethnicity and diversity Contributions cover various facets of life in contemporary cities ranging from the role which street markets play in diverse neighbourhoods to everyday multiculturalism in a specific street the role of community and hometown associations among migrant communities expressions of ethnicity in urban neighbourhoods and the changing dynamics of integration and community cohesion This book will be of interest to those who are concerned with developing a better understanding of how urban communities are being transformed by the development of new patterns of migration and ethnic mobilisation. With contributions from a wide range of scholarly and national backgrounds each chapter helps to provide an overview both of current trends and of historical patterns and processes. Collectively they provide important insights into the shifting patterns of community and identity in increasingly diverse communities and neighbourhoods. This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies.

Walking in the European City Timothy Shortell, Evrick Brown, 2016-02-24 Sociologists have long noted that dynamism is an essential part of the urban way of life. However walking as a significant social activity and crucial research method in spite of its ubiquity as part of urban life has often been overlooked. This volume considers walking in the city from a variety of perspectives in a variety of places and with a variety of methods to engage with the question of how walking can contribute to the sociological imagination and reveal sociological knowledge. Bringing together new research on sites across Europe Walking in the European City addresses the nature of everyday mobility in contemporary urban settings shedding light not only on the ways in which walking relates to other social institutions and practices but also as a method for studying urban life. With attention to intersections of race and ethnicity gender and class as well as the manner in which processes of gentrification transform urban space this book examines questions of access to public places exploring the ways in which urban dwellers use of and relation to neighbourhood spaces are shaped by inequalities of status and power. As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology geography and anthropology with interests in urban studies mobility and research methods.

Vom Arbeiterkind zur Professorin Julia Reuter, Markus Gamper, Christina Möller, Frank Blome, 2021-04-01 Noch immer gibt es große Hindernisse für einen Bildungsaufstieg nach wie vor stammt nur eine Minderheit der Professorinnen aus der Arbeiterklasse. Was bedeutet es diesen Aufsteigerinnen eine Professur erreicht zu haben? Wie erleben sie die Universität und das Versprechen der Chancengleichheit? Und wie haben ihre eigenen Aufstiegserfahrungen sie als Wissenschaftlerinnen geprägt? Erstmals ufern sich in diesem Buch Professorinnen unterschiedlicher Fächer zu ihrem Klassenbergang und zur Verknüpfung von sozialer Herkunft und Wissenschaft. Gerahmt werden die persönlichen Schilderungen durch ausgewählte Beiträge aus der Ungleichheitsforschung und von Christoph Butterwegge, Michael Hartmann und Andrea Lange Vester.
