James,2017-06-01 In this masterful new study of the ancient poetry of the Song of Songs Elaine T James explores the Song s underlying interest in the natural world Engaging with the fields of geography landscape architecture and literature James critiques the tendency of scholars to reify a perceived dichotomy between nature and culture and instead argues that the poetic attention to landscape indicates an awareness of a viewer Nature is here a poetic device that informs James s close readings of agrarianism gardens cities social control and feminism and the gaze in the Song With this two fold emphasis on landscape and lyric Landscape of the Song of Songs shows how the Song persistently envisions a world in which human lovers are embedded in the natural world complexly enfolded in relationships of fragility and care Sacred Landscapes of Imperial China Giulio Magli, 2020-06-15 This book analyses the magnificent imperial necropolises of ancient China from the perspective of Archaeoastronomy a science which takes into account the landscape in which ancient monuments are placed focusing especially but not exclusively on the celestial aspects The power of the Chinese emperors was based on the so called Mandate of Heaven the rulers were believed to act as intermediaries between the sky gods and the Earth and consequently the architecture of their tombs starting from the world famous mausoleum of the first emperor was closely linked to the celestial cycles and to the cosmos This relationship however also had to take into account various other factors and doctrines first the Zhao Mu doctrine in the Han period and later the various forms of Feng Shui As a result over the centuries diverse sacred landscapes were constructed Among the sites analysed in the book are the pyramids of Xi an from the Han dynasty the mountain tombs of the Tang dynasty and the Ming and Qing imperial tombs The book explains how considerations such as astronomical orientation and topographical orientation according to the principles of Feng Shui played a fundamental role at these sites Agency and Identity in the Ancient Near East Sharon R. Crellin, Craig N. Cipolla, Lindsay M. Montgomery, Oliver J. T. Harris, Sophie V. Moore, 2020-11-09 Archaeological Theory in Dialogue presents an innovative conversation between five scholars from different backgrounds on a range of central issues facing archaeology today Interspersing detailed investigations of critical theoretical issues with dialogues between the authors the book interrogates the importance of four themes at the heart of much contemporary theoretical debate relations ontology posthumanism and Indigenous paradigms The authors who work in Europe and North America explore how these themes are shaping the ways that archaeologists conduct fieldwork conceptualize the past and engage with the political and ethical challenges that our discipline faces in the twenty first century The unique style of Archaeological Theory in Dialogue switching between detailed arguments and dialogical exchange makes it essential reading for both scholars and students of archaeological theory and those with an interest in the politics and ethics of the past Archaeological Theory in the New Millennium Oliver J. T.

Harris, Craig Cipolla, 2017-06-26 Archaeological Theory in the New Millennium provides an account of the changing world of archaeological theory and a challenge to more traditional narratives of archaeological thought. It charts the emergence of the new emphasis on relations as well as engaging with other current theoretical trends and the thinkers archaeologists regularly employ. Bringing together different strands of global archaeological theory and placing them in dialogue, the book explores the similarities and differences between different contemporary trends in theory while also highlighting potential strengths and weaknesses of different approaches. Written in a way to maximise its accessibility in direct contrast to many of the sources on which it draws, Archaeological Theory in the New Millennium is an essential guide to cutting edge theory for students and for professionals wishing to reacquaint themselves with this field.
