artwork's authenticity is challenged. In addition, the standards and processes of authentication are critically examined and the legal complications which can inhibit the expression of expert opinions are discussed. The notion of authenticity has always commanded the attention of art market participants and the general art-minded public alike. Coinciding with this, forgery is often considered to be the world's most glamorous crime, packed with detective stories that are usually astonishing and often bizarre. The research includes findings by economists, sociologists, art historians, lawyers, academics, and practitioners, all of which yield insights into the mechanics and peculiarities of the art business and explain why it works so differently from other markets. However, this book will be of interest not only to academics but to everyone interested in questions of authenticity, forgery, and connoisseurship. At the same time, one of its main aims is to advocate best practices in the art market and to stress the importance of cooperation among all disciplines with a stake in it. The results are intended to offer guidance to art market stakeholders, legal practitioners, and art historians alike while also promoting mutual understanding and cooperation.

AC/E Digital Culture Annual Report 2016 Javier Celaya, Iván Martínez, Montecarlo, Mariana Moura Santos, Pau Waelder, Lara Sánchez Coterón, Pepe Zapata, 2016-04-05. Following the excellent reception of the first two editions of the AC/E Digital Culture Annual Report 2014 and 2015, more than 5,000 copies of each have been distributed over the past two years. We are pleased to share with culture sector professionals the third edition, which sets out to analyse the impact of new technologies on artistic creation and their use at cultural festivals. To achieve this aim, the broad-ranging content of the third edition of the report has been divided into two main sections to make it easier to read for the different audiences at which it is aimed. Smart Culture is the overarching theme established by the Advisory Committee of the AC/E Digital Culture Annual Report 2016 as a basis for choosing the six articles that make up the first part of this year's edition. Just as the first report's Focus dealt with the impact of the Internet on the performing arts (theatre, opera, dance, ballet, etc.) and that of the second edition analysed the use of new technologies in the world of museums, for this third edition it conducts a thorough analysis of the use of new technologies at some 50 Spanish and foreign cultural festivals.

The Routledge Handbook of Critical Finance Studies Christian Borch, Robert Wosnitzer, 2020-09-15. There has been an increasing interest in financial markets across sociology, history, anthropology, cultural studies, and related disciplines over the past decades, with particular intensity since the 2007-2008 crisis, which prompted new analyses of the workings of financial markets and how scandals of Wall Street might have huge societal ramifications. The sociologically inclined landscape of finance studies is characterized by different, more or less well-established homogeneous camps, with more micro-empirical social studies of finance approaches on the one end of the spectrum and more theoretical, often neo-Marxist approaches on the other. Yet alternative approaches are also gaining traction, including work that emphasizes the cultural homologies and interconnections with finance as well as work that more broadly is both empirically rigorous and theoretically ambitious. Importantly, across these various approaches to finance, a growing body of literature is taking shape, which engages finance in a critical manner. The term critical finance studies nonetheless remains largely unfocused and undefined Against this backdrop the key rationales of The Routledge Handbook of Critical Finance Studies are firstly to provide a coherent notion of this emergent field and secondly to demonstrate its analytical usefulness across a wide range of central aspects of contemporary finance As such the volume will offer a comprehensive guide to students and academics on the field of Finance and Critical Finance Studies Heterodox Economics Accounting and related Management disciplines Chapter 14 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

The Participator in Contemporary Art Kaija Kaitavuori, 2018-08-30 The early 21st century has seen contemporary art make continued use of audience participation in which the spectator becomes part of the artwork itself In this book Kaija Kaitavuori claims that the participator is a new artistic role that does not fall under the auspices of artist or spectator and in proving such she devises a four group typology of involvement Her classification distinguishes between different forms of engagement and identifies their specific features The key criteria she proposes are how concepts of authorship and ownership shift in relation to collectively created work how contracts regulating the use and production of shared work are arranged and the extent to which involvement in making art can be regarded as democratic This highly original book thus offers students and teachers the tools with which to improve their understanding of participatory art and removes the confusing terminology that has characterized so many other discussions

Boom Michael Shnayerson, 2019-05-21 The meteoric rise of the largest unregulated financial market in the world for contemporary art is driven by a few passionate guileful and very hard nosed dealers They can make and break careers and fortunes The contemporary art market is an international juggernaut throwing off multimillion dollar deals as wealthy buyers move from fair to fair auction to auction party to glittering party But none of it would happen without the dealers the tastemakers who back emerging artists and steer them to success often to see them picked off by a rival Dealers operate within a private world of handshake agreements negotiating for the highest commissions Michael Shnayerson a longtime contributing editor to Vanity Fair writes the first ever definitive history of their activities He has spoken to all of today s so called mega dealers Larry Gagosian David Zwirner Arne and Marc Glimcher and Iwan Wirth along with dozens of other dealers from Irving Blum to Gavin Brown who worked with the greatest artists of their times Jackson Pollock Andy Warhol Cy Twombly and more This kaleidoscopic history begins in the mid 1940s in genteel poverty with a scattering of galleries in midtown Manhattan takes us through the ramshackle 1950s studios of Coenties Slip the hipster locations in SoHo and Chelsea London s Bond Street and across the terraces of Art Basel until today Now dealers and auctioneers are seeking the first billion dollar painting It hasn t happened yet but they are confident they can push the price there soon Money
