Contesting Media Power Alternative Media In A Networked World:

Contesting Media Power Nick Couldry, James Curran, 2003 Contesting Media Power is the most ambitious international collection to date on the worldwide growth of alternative media that are challenging the power concentration in large media corporations Media scholars and political scientists develop a broad comparative framework for analyzing alternative media in Australia Chile China Indonesia Malaysia Russia Sweden South Africa the United Kingdom and the United States Topics include independent media centers gay online networks and alternative web discussion forums feminist film political journalism and social networks indigenous communication and church sponsored media This important book will help shape debates on the media's role in current global struggles such as the anti globalization movement The Alternative Media Handbook Kate Coyer, Tony Dowmunt, Alan Fountain, 2007-12-27 Alternative Media is the term used to describe non mainstream media forms that are independently run and community focussed such as zines pirate radio online discussion boards community run and owned broadcasting companies and activist publications such as Red Pepper and Corporate Watch The book outlines the different types of alternative Alternative Media and Politics of Resistance Joshua D. Atkinson, 2010 Scholars of journalism and media studies have illustrated the production of alternative media as a means for activists to generate dissent while communication scholars have examined activists performances and image events as challenges to dominant power structures The approaches of both fields have contributed to academic understanding of social movements in modern society but until now their findings have emerged separate from one another This book brings together both lines of research and demonstrates the role of alternative media in the performance of resistance against power structures by contemporary activists Specifically the book explores the role of alternative media in the establishment of activist networks in local communities the role of alternative media in the construction of strategies of resistance by networked activists and the role of interactivity between local and global networks in production of alternative media content The book is suitable for undergraduate and graduate courses concerning social movements within the fields of communication media and journalism The Routledge Companion to Alternative and Community Media Chris Atton, 2015-05-15 The Routledge Companion to Alternative and Community Media provides an authoritative and comprehensive examination of the diverse forms practices and philosophies of alternative and community media across the world The volume offers a multiplicity of perspectives to examine the reasons why alternative and community media arise how they develop in particular ways and in particular places and how they can enrich our understanding of the broader media landscape and its place in society The 50 chapters present a range of theoretical and methodological positions and arguments to demonstrate the dynamic challenging and innovative thinking around the subject locating media theory and practice within the broader concerns of democracy citizenship social exclusion race class and gender In addition to research from the UK the US Canada Europe and Australia the Companion also includes studies from Colombia Haiti India South

Korea and Zimbabwe enabling international comparisons to be made and also allowing for the problematisation of traditional often Western approaches to media studies By considering media practices across a range of cultures and communities this collection is an ideal companion to the key issues and debates within alternative and community media Remaking Media Robert Hackett, William Carroll, 2006-07-29 Remaking Media is a unique and timely reading of the contemporary struggle to democratize communication With a focus on activism directed towards challenging and changing media content practices and structures the book explores the burning question What is the political significance and potential of democratic media activism in the western world today Taking an innovative approach Robert Hackett and William Carroll pay attention to an emerging social movement that appears at the cutting edge of cultural and political contention and ground their work in three scholarly traditions that provide interpretive resources for the study of democratic media activism political theories of democracy critical media scholarship the sociology of social movements Remaking Media examines the democratization of the media and the efforts to transform the machinery of representation Such an examination will prove invaluable not only to media and communication studies students but also to students of political science The Contradictions of Media Power

Des Freedman, 2014-09-25 Media power is a crucial although often taken for granted concept We assume for example that the media are powerful if they were not why would there be so many controversies over the regulation control and impact of communicative institutions and processes Further we assume that this power is somehow problematic audiences are often treated as highly susceptible to media influence and too much power in the hands of one organization or individual is seen as risky and potentially dangerous These concerns have been at the heart of recent controversies involving the relationships between media moguls and political elites the consequences of phone hacking in the UK and the emerging influence of social media as vital gatekeepers Yet it is still not clear what we mean by media power or how effective it is This book evaluates contrasting definitions of media power and looks at the key sites in which power is negotiated concentrated and resisted politically technologically and economically Combining an evaluation of both previous literature and new research the book seeks to establish an understanding of media power which does justice to the complexities and contradictions of the contemporary social world It will be important reading for undergraduates postgraduates researchers and activists alike

Activism on the Web Veronica Barassi, 2015-05-22 Activism on the Web examines the everyday tensions that political activists face as they come to terms with the increasingly commercialized nature of web technologies and sheds light on an important yet under investigated dimension of the relationship between contemporary forms of social protest and internet technologies Drawing on anthropological and ethnographic research amongst three very different political groups in the UK Italy and Spain the book argues that activists everyday internet uses are largely defined by processes of negotiation with digital capitalism These processes of negotiation are giving rise to a series of collective experiences which are defined by the tension between activists democratic needs on one side and the cultural processes reinforced by digital capitalism on the other In looking at the encounter between activist cultures and digital capitalism the book focuses in particular on the tension created by self centered communication processes and networked individualism by corporate surveillance and data mining and by fast capitalism and the temporality of immediacy Activism on the Web suggests that if we want to understand how new technologies are affecting political participation and democratic processes we should not focus on disruption and novelty but we should instead explore the complex dialectics between digital discourses and digital practices between the technical and the social between the political economy of the web and its lived critique
