The Hidden History of New Women in Serbian Culture

Svetlana Tomic, 2022-02-10 Settled in the nineteenth century a period of national liberation this book presents facts about the contribution of women to Serbian culture The story is however of an equal contemporary as well as of historical relevance work of these authors remained hidden as they were neither adequately evaluated in school curriculums and textbooks nor recognized by the general public Does the absence from textbooks and literary histories imply their literature is not worth reading Or that the histories of literature are simply biased and inadequate The answers to these questions are elaborated in this book The author carefully investigates the strategies of historians and official politics of remembrance arguing that the link between women's education and emancipation of the society has yet to be properly explained The reader whether a student researcher social scientist or an intellectual interested in the history social development literature or politics of Serbia or the Balkan in general will benefit from the numerous original sources consulted This book is a reminder that understanding society means uncovering the hidden and giving voice to the ignored providing evidence that contradicts dominant theories rather than simply repeating what we are told

The Routledge Handbook of the New African Diasporic Literature Lokangaka Losambe, Tanure Ojaide, 2024-05-16 The Routledge Handbook of the New African Diasporic Literature introduces world literature readers to the transnational multivocal writings of immigrant African authors. Covering works produced in Europe, North America, and elsewhere in the world, this book investigates three major aesthetic paradigms in African diasporic literature: the Sankofan wave (late 1960s–early 1990s), the Janusian wave (1990s–2020s), and the Offshoots of the New Arrivants (those born and growing up outside Africa). Written by well-established and emerging scholars of African and diasporic literatures from across the world, the chapters in the book cover the works of well-known and not so well-known Anglophone, Francophone, and Lusophone writers from different theoretical positionalities and critical approaches, pointing out the unique innovative artistic qualities of this major subgenre of African literature. The focus on the diasporic consciousness of the writers and their works sets this handbook apart from others that solely emphasize migration, which is more of a process than the community of settled African people involved in the dynamic acts of living reflected in diasporic writings. This book will appeal to researchers and students from across the fields of Literature, Diaspora Studies, African Studies, Migration Studies, and Postcolonial Studies.
