Exploring Cultural Identities in Jean Rhys' Fiction Cristina-Georgiana Voicu,2014-10-02 Using a theoretical approach and a critical summary combining the perspectives in the postcolonial theory psychoanalysis and narratology with the tools of hermeneutics and deconstruction this book argues that Jean Rhys s work can be subsumed under a poetics of cultural identity and hybridity It also demonstrates the validity of the concept of hybridization as the expression of identity formation the cultural boundaries variability the opposition self otherness authenticity fiction trans textuality and the relevance of an integrated approach to multiple cultural identities as an encountering and negotiation space between writer reader and work The complexity of ontological and epistemological representation involves an interdisciplinary approach that blends a literary interpretive approach to social anthropological cultural and historical perspectives The book concludes that in the author s fictional universe cultural identity is represented as a general human experience that transcends the specific conditionalities of geographical contexts history and culture The construction of identity by Jean Rhys is represented by the dichotomy of marginal identity and the identification with a human ideal designed either by the hegemonic discourse or metropolitan culture or by the dominant ideology The identification with a pattern of cultural authenticity of racial ethnic or national purism is presented as a purely destructive cultural projection leading to the creation of a static universe in opposition to the diversity of human feelings and aspirations Jean Rhys s fictional discourse lies between the anxiety of authorship and the anxiety of influence and shows the postcolonial era of uprooting and migration in which the national ownership diluted the image of a home ambiguous located at the boundary between a myth of origins and a myth of becoming The relationship between the individual and socio cultural space is thus shaped in a dual hybrid position

Colonialism and the Modernist Moment in the Early Novels of Jean Rhys

Carol Dell'Amico,2013-10-31 Colonialism and the Modernist Moment in the Early Novels of Jean Rhys explores the postcolonial significance of Rhys s modernist period work which depicts an urban scene more varied than that found in other canonical representations of the period Arguing against the view that Rhys comes into her own as a colonial thinker only in the post WWII period of her career this study examines the austere insights gained by Rhys s active cultivation of her fringe status vis vis British social life and artistic circles where her sharp study of the aporias of marginal lives and the violence of imperial ideology is distilled into an artistic statement positing the outcome of the imperial venture as a state of homelessness across the board for colonized and metropolitans alike Bringing to view heretofore overlooked migr populations or their children alongside locals Rhys s urbanites struggle to construct secure lives not simply as a consequence of commodification alienation or voluntary expatriation but also as a consequence of marginalization and migration This view of Rhys s early work asserts its vital importance to postcolonial studies an importance that has been overlooked owing to an over hasty critical consensus that only one of her early novels contains significant colonial content Yet as this study demonstrates proper consideration of colonial elements long considered only incidental illuminates a colonial continuum in Rhys s work from her earliest publications

Ethnic Modernisms D. Konzett,2002-11-08 This study explores a new understanding of modernism and ethnicity as put forward in the transnational and diasporic writings of Anzia Yezierska Zora Neale Hurston and Jean Rhys In its selection of three modernists from apparently different cultural backgrounds it is meant to make us rethink the role of modernism in terms of ethnicity and displacement Konzett critiques the traditional understanding of the monocultural ethnic identity often highlighted in the studies of these writers and argues that all three writers are better understood as ironic narrators of diaspora and movement and as avant garde modernists As a result they offer an alternative aesthetics of modernism which is centered around the innovative narration of displacement Her analysis of the complexities of language and form and impact of the complex and ambiguous formal styles of the three writers on the history of their reception is a model of the effective integration of formalist historicist and theoretical
