Mass Communications and the Influence of Information During Times of Crises Al-Suqri, Mohammed Nasser,Alsalmi, Jamal Mattar,Al-Shaqsi, Obaid Said,2021-12-17 Although global pandemics are not a new phenomenon the COVID 19 pandemic has taken place in a very different information environment than any pandemic before it In today s world information plays a critical role in all areas of life with much of this information being delivered over the internet and social media. People have access to unprecedented amounts of information from both official and unofficial sources. While these channels are beneficial for enabling authorities to obtain information necessary to manage the pandemic, there is also a higher risk of misinformation spread. Mass Communications and the Influence of Information During Times of Crises provides a comprehensive overview of research conducted into the role of information and the media during times of international crises, particularly examining the COVID 19 pandemic. This text provides a better understanding of how to use the media as a tool for managing pandemics in the event of future global health crises. Covering topics such as crisis communication, data acquisition, and social media usage, this book is a dynamic resource for government policymakers, public health authorities, information and communications specialists, researchers, graduate and post graduate students, professors, and academicians in a wide range of both public health and information related disciplines.

The Aftermath of the Bangladesh Liberation War of 1971 Amit Ranjan, Taj Hashmi, Mazhar Abbas, 2024-09-02. This book analyses the human dimension during and after the Bangladesh Liberation War of 1971. The chapters investigate questions of belonging and being an alien, civil rights and ethnic demands, and broader issues of citizenship and statelessness. The analysis centres around the situation of those who crossed into the Indian side of the border during the Liberation War: the Bengali speaking population who chose Pakistan as their country after the birth of Bangladesh, and stranded Pakistani or Bihari Muslims living in Bangladesh. The book addresses three key questions: how do the modern nation states of India, Pakistan, and Bangladesh categorize citizens based on the narratives of 1971; how the acceptance of certain groups as part of the Indian citizenry affected its concept of belonging; and after 1971, how do Pakistan and Bangladesh define who is part of their citizenry and how do so-called aliens negotiate their identity in national debates. A timely contribution to the subject of forced migration, citizenship, and identities in South Asia, edited by three academics with Indian, Pakistani, and Bangladeshi heritage, this book will be of interest to a variety of academics studying the history, politics, and sociology of South Asia.

A Transplanted Chicago Robert E. Gutsche, Jr., 2014-05-21. This book looks at the movement of urban American blacks into the Midwest through the experience of Iowa City, a town desperately trying to redefine itself. Pressing questions have plagued the community for decades: Why are people from Chicago coming here? Who gets to define community identity? Who makes decisions on housing, employment, and education? Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here.
