Consumer Survival Wendy Reiboldt, Melanie Horn Mallers, 2013-11-26 Designed to empower readers to advocate for themselves and others this wide ranging encyclopedia reveals a surprising range of resources and options that consumers have at their disposal The only book of its kind this two volume alphabetically arranged reference covers a broad array of topics related to consumer rights including those of interest to often overlooked populations such as older adults veterans and the homeless Specific entries address critical areas including food and product safety housing health care the financial industry the automobile industry and telecommunications The encyclopedia reviews the historical development of the consumer movement examines beliefs and values that drive the movement and identifies agencies and laws intended to safeguard consumers Expert contributors discuss key current issues as well as those likely to arise in the future Vignettes and case studies are used throughout and various sometimes contrasting viewpoints are shared to help readers better understand the content Related topics are easily discovered through a see also list and additional readings are provided at the end of each entry

The Politics of Economic Life Martin Beckstein, 2015-09-07 In recent years economic life has become increasingly politicized now every company has a philosophy promising its customers some ethical surplus in return for buying their products consumers shop for change workers engage in individualized forms of employee activism such as whistleblowing and governments contribute to the re configuration of the economic sphere as a site of political contestation by reminding corporate and private economic actors of their duty to do their bit The Politics of Economic Life addresses this trend by exploring the ways in which practices of consumption work production and entrepreneurship are imbued with political strategy and ideology and assesses the potentials and perils of the politicization of economic activity for democracy in the 21st century

A Culture of Engagement Cathleen Kaveny, 2016-03-01 Religious traditions in the United States are characterized by ongoing tension between assimilation to the broader culture as typified by mainline Protestant churches and defiant rejection of cultural incursions as witnessed by more sectarian movements such as Mormonism and Hassidism However legal theorist and Catholic theologian Cathleen Kaveny contends there is a third possibility a culture of engagement that accommodates and respects tradition It also recognizes the need to interact with culture to remain relevant and to offer critiques of social political legal and economic practices Kaveny suggests that rather than avoid the crisscross of the religious and secular spheres of life we should use this conflict as an opportunity to come together and to encounter challenge contribute to and correct one another Focusing on five broad areas of interest Law as a Teacher Religious Liberty and Its Limits Conversations about Culture Conversations about Belief and Cases and Controversies Kaveny demonstrates how thoughtful and purposeful engagement can contribute to rich constructive and difficult discussions between moral and cultural traditions This provocative collection of Kaveny s articles from Commonweal magazine substantially revised and updated from their initial publication provides astonishing insight into a range of hot button issues like abortion assisted suicide government sponsored torture contraception the Ashley Treatment capital punishment and the role of religious faith in a pluralistic society At turns masterful and inspirational A Culture of Engagement is a welcome reminder of what can be gained when a diversity of experiences and beliefs is brought to bear on American public life

Political Virtue and

Shopping M. Micheletti, 2003-09-05 Political consumerism is turning the market into a site for politics and ethics It is consumer choice of producers and products on the basis of attitudes and values of personal and family well being as well as ethical or political assessment of business and government practice In the face of economic globalization and a regulatory vacuum consumers increasingly take responsibility in their own hands making the market an important venue for political action through their decisions of what to purchase This book opens the readers eyes to a new way of viewing everyday consumer choices and the role of the market in our lives illuminating the broader theoretical and historical context of concerns about sweatshops responsible coffee and ethical and free trade Contemporary forms of political consumerism boycotts labelling schemes stewardship certification socially responsible investing etc are described and evaluated Individual actions are shown to be important in the complexity of globalization

Everything But the Coffee Bryant Simon, 2009 Simon knows more about Starbucks and about why so many Americans find perfection in their lattes than anyone He connects our deepest desires to be good smart ethical consumers with our equally strong yearning to consume in an authentic way Our coffee Simon shows is us Sharon Zukin author of Naked City

Forests and Development Philippe Delacote, 2012-04-27 This book is a fully up to date study of the major issues facing forest conservation and the forestry industry which considers developments at local national and global levels Environmental and development topics relating to each level are discussed for instance the use of forest products in a rural poverty context corruption and forest harvesting and consumption as a political device Delacote employs a quantitative approach in order to analyse the plight of tropical forests in the developing world and in doing so produces a range of interesting conclusions This methodology fills a crucial research gap in existing studies of forests in a development context increased use of theoretical tools to interpret real life situations might be beneficial to the field Therefore the first objective of this book is to provide a sample of theoretical analysis concerning the forests and development nexus The second objective is to supply empirical economists with new theoretical insights with the hope that those results can emerge with conclusive field testing and relevant policy recommendations

Ethics and Morality in Consumption Deirdre Shaw, Michal Carrington, Andreas Chatzidakis, 2016-04-14 Ethical consumerism is on the rise No longer bound to the counter cultural fringes ethical concerns and practices are reaching into the mainstream of society and being adopted by everyday consumers from considering carbon miles to purchasing free range eggs to making renewable energy choices The wide reach and magnitude of ethical issues in society across individual and collective consumption has given rise to a series of important questions that are inspiring scholars from a range of disciplinary areas These differing disciplinary lenses however tend to be contained in separate streams of research literature that are developing in parallel and in relative isolation Ethics in Morality and Consumption takes an interdisciplinary perspective to provide multiple vantage points in creating a more holistic and integrated view of ethics in consumption In this sense interdisciplinary presupposes the consideration of multiple and distinct disciplines which in this book are considered in delineated chapters In addition the Editors make an editorial contribution in the final chapter of the book by combining these separate disciplinary perspectives to develop a nascent interdisciplinary perspective that integrates these perspectives and presents platforms for further research

Consumer Politics in Postwar Japan Patricia L.

Maclachlan,2001-12-26 Providing comparisons to the United States and Britain this book examines Japan s postwar consumer protection movement Organized largely by and for housewives and spurred by major cases of price gouging and product contamination the movement led to the passage of basic consumer protection legislation in 1968 Although much of the story concerns the famous iron triangle of big business national bureaucrats and conservative party politics Maclachlan takes a broader perspective She points to the importance of activity at the local level the role of minority parties the limited utility of the courts and the place of lawyers and academics in providing access to power These mild social strategies have resulted in a significant amount of consumer protection

Tourism, Sanctions and Boycotts Siamak Seyfi,C. Michael

Hall,2019-11-06 This is the first book to provide a comprehensive account of sanctions and boycotts in tourism and the economic and ethical complexities that policy makers tourists tourism destinations and businesses face Sanctions and boycotts are an important feature of the global tourism system and the emerging ethics of tourism Sanctions and embargoes are increasingly used as coercive instruments of diplomacy and foreign policy by the United Nations supranational organizations the US and other nations to change the actions and behaviors of countries organizations businesses and individuals At the same time boycotts and buycotts are a growing feature of political consumerism and interest group activism Tourism and hospitality destinations attractions and businesses can be profoundly affected by this with the legacy of a negative image lasting for decades International travel to some destinations may be severely restricted financial investment and supply chains disrupted and in the most comprehensive sanctions and boycotts substantial economic and personal hardship may be experienced This book is of interest not only to policy makers destination management and marketing organizations and students of crisis and politics in tourism and hospitality but also those who seek to address the interrelationships between sanctions tourism destinations and attractions and the tourists who boycott them

Boycotts

Past and Present David Feldman,2018-12-29 In this book historians and social scientists examine boycotts from the eighteenth century to the present day Employed in struggles against British rule in the American colonies against racial discrimination in the United States during the Civil Rights movement and Apartheid in South Africa today it is Israel that is the focus of a campaign for Boycott Divestment and Sanctions BDS Boycotts have featured in campaigns undertaken by labour consumer and nationalist movements Jews were the focus of some boycotts instigated by nationalist movements in Central and Eastern Europe and Jewish businesses were targeted by the National Socialist regime in Germany In this collection contributors explore the history of past boycott movements and examine the different narratives put forward by proponents and opponents of the current BDS movement directed against Israel one which places the movement within a history of struggles for human rights the other which regards BDS as the latest manifestation of an antisemitic tradition

Protest Politics in the Marketplace Caroline Heldman, 2017-10-15 Protest Politics in the Marketplace examines how social media has revolutionized the use and effectiveness of consumer activism In her groundbreaking book Caroline Heldman emphasizes that consumer activism is a democratizing force that improves political participation self governance and the accountability of corporations and the government She also investigates the use of these tactics by conservatives Heldman analyzes the democratic implications of boycotting socially responsible investing social media campaigns and direct consumer actions highlighting the ways in which such consumer activism serves as a countervailing force against corporate power in politics In Protest Politics in the Marketplace she blends democratic theory with data historical analysis and coverage of consumer campaigns for civil rights environmental conservation animal rights gender justice LGBT rights and other causes Using an inter disciplinary approach applicable to political theorists and sociologists Americanists and scholars of business the environment and social movements Heldman considers activism in the marketplace from the Boston Tea Party to the present In doing so she provides readers with a clearer understanding of the new permanent environment of consumer activism in which they operate

Kitchen Literacy Ann Vileisis, 2008-02 Ask children where food comes from and they ll probably answer the supermarket Ask most adults and their replies may not be much different Where our foods are raised and what happens to them between farm and supermarket shelf have become mysteries How did we become so disconnected from the sources of our breads beef cheeses cereal apples and countless other foods that nourish us every day Ann Vileisis s answer is a sensory rich journey through the history of making dinner Kitchen Literacy takes us from an eighteenth century garden to today s sleek supermarket aisles and eventually to farmer s markets that are now enjoying a resurgence Vileisis chronicles profound changes in how American cooks have considered their foods over two centuries and delivers a powerful statement what we don t know could hurt us As the distance between farm and table grew we went from knowing particular places and specific stories behind our foods origins to instead relying on advertisers claims The woman who raised plucked and cooked her own chicken knew its entire life history while today most of us have no idea whether hormones were fed to our poultry Industrialized eating is undeniably convenient but it has also created health and environmental problems including food borne pathogens toxic pesticides and pollution from factory farms Though the hidden costs of modern meals can be high Vileisis shows that greater understanding can lead consumers to healthier and more sustainable choices Revealing how knowledge of our food has been lost and how it might now be regained Kitchen Literacy promises to make us think differently about what we eat

Boycotts and Dixie Chicks Andrew S. McFarland, 2015-12-03 Boycotts and Dixie Chicks introduces the concept of creative political participation collective political actions which do not use traditional methods and which are innovative collaborative and creative in character Andrew S McFarland discusses creative participation on issues concerning the environment political corruption consumer rights and transnational issues He draws
