This book discusses the changing conceptions about the relationship between geometry and arithmetic within the Euclidean tradition that developed in the British context of the sixteenth and seventeenth century Its focus is on Book II of the Elements and the ways in which algebraic symbolism and methods especially as recently introduced by François Viète and his followers took center stage as mediators between the two realms and thus offered new avenues to work out that relationship in idiosyncratic ways not found in earlier editions of the Euclidean text Texts examined include Robert Recorde's Pathway to Knowledge 1551 Henry Billingsley's first English translation of the Elements 1570 Clavis Mathematicae by William Oughtred and Artis Analyticae Praxis by Thomas Harriot both published in 1631 Isaac Barrow's versions of the Elements 1660 and John Wallis Treatise of
