Digging the Seam Ian W. Macdonald,Simon Popple,2012-11-15 The 1984 5 Miners Strike was one of the most important political events in British history It was a bitter dispute that polarised public opinion divided nation and families alike and the results in terms of the destruction of centuries of industrial and cultural tradition are still keenly felt The social and political consequences of this dispute which have resonated for the past quarter century have been subject to detailed analysis and reflection The consequences for the arts and popular culture are less clearly mapped This book attempts to begin to redress this imbalance and signal the importance of popular cultural activity both during and after the strike The essays that appear in this book represent diverse and multidisciplinary responses to the questions raised by the strike and its relationships to a broad range of cultural forms which include literature film photography music theatre television drama and documentary painting public art and heritage interventions These responses are organised around four themes that map the interrelatedness between cultural representation cultural intervention and historical memory The first deals with the idea of mining culture and pre strike representations in popular sentiment film and literature The second examines the role cultural forms played directly in the context of the strike as a means of political commentary activism and fund raising The third looks at subsequent cultural renderings or reconstructions of the strike and the final section looks at the current process of memorialisation and commemoration The book draws together a range of voices from academia heritage cultural and mining backgrounds and offers both a historical perspective on the range of cultural activities in the course of the dispute and subsequent readings and re readings It aims both to provide a record of cultural intervention and stimulate new dialogues and perspectives English Mechanic and World of Science ,1884 Going to the dogs Keith Laybourn,2019-01-14

Greyhound racing emerged rapidly in Britain in 1926 but in its early years was subject to rabid institutional middle class opposition largely because of the legal gambling opportunities it offered to the working class Though condemned as a dissipate and impoverishing activity it was in fact a significant leisure opportunity for the working class which cost little for the minority of bettors involved in what was clearly little more than a bit of the flutter This book is the first national study of greyhound racing in Britain from its beginnings to its heyday in the 1930s and 1940s and up its long slow decline of the late twentieth century Much of the study will be defined by the dominating issue of working class gambling and the bitter opposition to both it and greyhound racing although the attractions of this American Night Out will also be examined The Bazaar, Exchange and Mart, and Journal of the Household ,1871 Spirit of the Times and the New York Sportsman ,1865

Enjoying the Song of Expression: An Psychological Symphony within Dogs Free Good Home Barnsley

In a world taken by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of immediate conversation, the melodic elegance and emotional symphony created by the written term often fade into the backdrop, eclipsed by the relentless noise and interruptions that permeate our lives. But, located within the pages of Dogs Free Good Home Barnsley a charming fictional prize filled with raw feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by an elegant composer of language, that captivating masterpiece conducts viewers on an emotional journey, well unraveling the concealed melodies and profound affect resonating within each carefully constructed phrase. Within the depths of the touching analysis, we can discover the book is key harmonies, analyze their enthralling writing model, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
