Doing Qualitative Research Differently Free Association Narrative And The Interview Method:

Doing Qualitative Research Differently Wendy Hollway, Tony Jefferson, 2000-04-28 This is both a how to book and one that critically reviews many of the assumptions claims and methods of qualitative research Applying a psycho social understanding of subjectivity to research practice involves conceptualising researcher and researched as co producers of meanings in the research relationship The authors use the notion of the defended subject to indicate that people will defend themselves against any anxieties in the information they provide in a research context To interpret interviewees responses should entail developing a method in which narratives are central as should a strategy of interpretation in which interviewees free associations are given precedence over narrative coherence The author

Doing Qualitative Research Differently Wendy Hollway, Tony Jefferson, 2012-11-12 Hollway and Jefferson have updated their ground breaking book for students and researchers looking to do qualitative research differently The new edition critically reviews many of the assumptions claims and methods of qualitative research and also acts as a how to guide to the method the authors call the Free Association Narrative Interview In the new edition the authors situate their arguments firmly within a tradition of psychosocial research and show how their method has developed over the last decade The book follows this approach through the phases of empirical research practice At each stage they use examples from their own research and end with an extended case study which demonstrates the value of their method in producing a psychosocial research subject that is one with socially imbued depth complexity and biographical uniqueness

How to Research Loraine Blaxter, Christina Hughes, Malcolm Tight, 2010-09-16 How to Research is a clear and accessible guide to the business of doing a research project It systematically takes the reader through from the planning to the writing up and finishing off The new edition of this book will include Expanded section on methodology Expanded section on Literature Reviews Inclusion of a glossary

Conceptualizing our Interpersonal Impressions Gillian Steggles, 2015-02-27 This book clarifies a thorny and knotty problem that has interfered with clear thinking among psychoanalysts for over 70 years It provides a rigorous examination of the views theories and contributions of psychoanalysts since their initial appearance to very mixed acclaim among the experimental psychoanalysts who were struggling professionally in war torn London in the early 1940s Extensive details of the data and their analysis have been included so that the scientific basis of the work s conclusion may be understood and appreciated Psychoanalysis is replete with theories but not so much evidence This book however produces evidence for scrutiny and as such provides new evidence based knowledge about psychoanalytic phenomena in everyday life as it is commonly understood and which is not derived from research on the couch The conclusions drawn in the book include the new knowledge that mental representations and internal objects do both occur in everyday life and can co exist

Hunger and Poverty in South Africa Jacqueline Hanoman, 2017-09-01 Hunger and Poverty in South Africa The Hidden Faces of Food Insecurity explores food insecurity as an issue of socioeconomic political cultural and environmental inequity and inequality

Based on extensive original research in Free State Province South Africa the book explores how people living in poverty make meaning of their food circumstances within the socio cultural political and economic contexts of post apartheid South Africa how they view the government s food security policies and programs and their perceived agency to affect change The personal narratives contained in the book show that food insecurity is shaped by many issues among which are structural poverty racism attempts or non attempts at reconciliation during and after apartheid public health issues such as HIV AIDS and environmental circumstances At a time when most discourse around food insecurity focuses on how to provide more food to people facing hunger this book s multidimensional approach is a valuable contribution to the contemporary dialogue on poverty food security insecurity sustainability and democratic agency both within South Africa and around the world This book will be of interest to researchers in the areas of food security multidimensional poverty democratic agency and sustainable development both in South Africa and internationally

What is Narrative Research?

Corinne Squire, Molly Andrews, Mark Davis, Cigdem Esin, Barbara Harrison, Lars-Christer Hyden, Margareta Hydén, 2014-11-20 Narrative research has become a catchword in the social sciences today promising new fields of inquiry and creative solutions to persistent problems This book brings together ideas about narrative from a variety of contexts across the social sciences and synthesizes understandings of the field Rather than focusing on theory it examines how narrative research is conducted and applied It operates as a practical introductory guide basic enough for first time researchers but also as a window onto the more complex questions and difficulties that all researchers in this area face The authors guide readers through current debates about how to obtain and analyse narrative data about the nature of narrative the place of the researcher the limits of researcher interpretations and the significance of narrative work in applied and in broader political contexts

Afterlives of war

Michael Roper, 2023-07-05 Afterlives of war documents the lives and historical pursuits of the generations who grew up in Australia

Britain and Germany after the First World War Although they were not direct witnesses to the conflict they experienced its effects from their earliest years Based on ninety oral history interviews and observation during the First World War Centenary this pioneering study reveals the contribution of descendants to the contemporary memory of the First World War and the intimate personal legacies of the conflict that animate their history making Therapeutic Correctional Relationships Sarah Lewis, 2016-04-20 The relationship between offender and criminal justice practitioner has shifted throughout rehabilitative history whether situated within psychological interventions prison or probation This relationship has evolved and adapted over time but interpersonal processes remain central to offender work However little work has critically focused upon the challenging task of developing and sustaining positive relationships with offenders This book addresses this gap providing an in depth exploration of the processes which underpin correctional relationships within probation Through an innovative methodology it examines how practitioners can enhance their practice by understanding how relationships form deepen and end effectively For the first time it draws on the experiences of offenders and practitioners to uncover the darker side to relationships identifying how they can rupture and break down From this exploration it presents alternative ways in which relationships can be repaired and safeguarded within correctional practice In essence this book assists practitioners in becoming successful supporters of change In an increasingly competitive and politicised climate this book outlines how political and organisational tensions can impact upon the flow of relationships across the criminal justice system Uniquely this book examines how these tensions can be overcome to produce transformative changes Lewis suggests that therapeutic correctional relationships can thrive within a number of correctional settings and presents the core principles of relational practice and dynamic model of therapeutic correctional relationships to assist in achieving quality and sustainable practice This book will appeal to criminological and psychological scholars as well as students studying probation and prison practice offender rehabilitation and desistance Lacan, Discourse, Event: New Psychoanalytic Approaches to Textual Indeterminacy Ian Parker, David Pavón-Cuéllar, 2013-10-30 Lacan Discourse Event New Psychoanalytic Approaches to Textual Indeterminacy is an introduction to the emerging field of Lacanian Discourse Analysis It includes key papers that lay the foundations for this research and worked examples from analysts working with a range of different texts The editors Ian Parker and David Pavón Cuéllar begin with an introduction which reviews the key themes in discourse analysis and the problems faced by researchers in that field of work including an overview of the development of discourse analysis in different disciplines psychology sociology cultural studies and political and social theory They also set out the conceptual and methodological principles of Lacan's work insofar as it applies to the field of discourse Ian Parker and David Pavón Cuéllar have divided the book into three main sections The first section comprises previously published papers some not yet available in English which set out the foundations for Lacanian Discourse Analysis The chapters establish the first lines of research and illustrate how Lacanian psychoanalysis is transformed into a distinctive approach to interpreting text when it is taken out of the clinical domain The second and third parts of the book comprise commissioned papers in which leading researchers from across the social sciences from the English speaking world and from continental Europe and Latin America show how Lacanian Discourse Analysis works in practice Lacan Discourse Event New Psychoanalytic Approaches to Textual Indeterminacy is intended to be a definitive volume bringing together writing from the leaders in the field of Lacanian Discourse Analysis working in the English speaking world and in countries where Lacanian psychoanalysis is part of mainstream clinical practice and social theory It will be of particular interest to psychoanalysts of different traditions to post graduate and undergraduate researchers in psycho social studies cultural studies sociology and social anthropology

International Handbook of Interpretation in Educational Research Paul Smeyers, David Bridges, Nicholas C. Burbules, Morwenna Griffiths, 2015-01-06 This handbook focuses on the often neglected dimension of interpretation in educational research It argues that all educational research is in some sense interpretive and that understanding this issue belies some usual dualisms of thought and practice such as the sharp dichotomy between qualitative and quantitative research Interpretation extends from the very framing of the research task through the sources which constitute the data the process of their recording representation and analysis to the way in which the research is finally or provisionally presented The thesis of the handbook is that interpretation cuts across the fields both philosophically organizationally and methodologically By covering a comprehensive range of research approaches and methodologies the handbook gives early career researchers what they need to know in order to decide what particular methods can offer for various educational research contexts fields An extensive overview includes concrete examples of different kinds of research not limited for example to teaching and learning examples as present in the Anglo Saxon tradition but including as well what in the German Continental tradition is labelled pädagogisch examples from child rearing and other contexts of non formal education with full description and explanation of why these were chosen in particular circumstances and reflection on the wisdom or otherwise of the choice combined in each case with consideration of the role of interpretation in the process The handbook includes examples of a large number of methods traditionally classified as qualitative interpretive and quantitative used across the area of the study of education Examples are drawn from across the globe thus exemplifying the different opportunities and constraints that educational research has to confront in different societies

Researching the Vulnerable Pranee Liamputtong, 2007 This book takes as its starting point the particular considerations and sensitivities of being a researcher faced with a subject group at the margins of society and explores the ethical practical and methodological implications of working with such groups Author Pranee Liamputtong explores qualitative methods using examples drawn from around the world and from the wide variety of contexts that might count as researching the vulnerable Numerous salient points for the conduct of research within vulnerable groups of people including ethical and moral issues are considered and discussed in the context of sensitive and innovative research methods

Making Sense Of: Health, Illness and Disease ,2021-10-25 Health illness and disease are topics well suited to interdisciplinary inquiry This book brings together scholars from around the world who share an interest in and a commitment to bridging the traditional boundaries of inquiry We hope that this book begins new conversations that will situate health in broader socio cultural contexts and establish connections between health illness and disease and other socio political issues This book is the outcome of the first global conference on Making Sense of Health Illness and Disease held at St Catherine s College Oxford in June 2002 The selected papers pursue a range of topics from the cultural significance of narratives of health illness and disease to healing practices in contemporary society as well as patients illness experiences Researchers and health care practitioners now live in the age of interdisciplinarity which has transformed both health care delivery and research on health The essays in this collection transcend the traditional boundaries of biomedicine and draw attention to the many ways in which health is embedded in socio cultural norms and how these norms in turn shape health practices and health care This volume is of interest not only to researchers but also to those delivering health care

Family Activism in the Aftermath of Fatal Violence Elizabeth A. Cook,2020-11-29 Family Activism in the Aftermath of Fatal Violence explores how family and family activism work at the intersection of personal and public troubles and considers what influence family testimonies of fatal violence can have on matters of crime justice and punishment The problem of fatal violence represents one end of a long continuum of violence that marks society the effects of which endure in families and friends connected through ties of kinship identity and social bonds The aftermath of fatal violence can therefore be an intensely personal encounter which confronts families with disorder and uncertainty Nevertheless bereaved families are often found at the forefront of efforts to expose injustice rouse public consciousness and drive forward social change that seeks to prevent violence from happening again This book draws upon ethnographic research with those bereaved by gun violence who became involved in family activism in the context of fatal violence namely the attempts by bereaved families to manage their experiences of violent death through public expressions of grief and become proxies for wider debates on social injustice This is an ever more pressing issue in a landscape which increasingly sees the delegation of responsibility to families and communities that are left to deal with the aftermath of violence An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology cultural studies and all those interested in learning more about the after effects of fatal violence
