and confession On the Verge of a Planetary Civilization Sam Mickey, 2014-09-18 On the Verge of a Planetary Civilization presents a philosophical contribution to integral ecology an emerging approach to the field that crosses disciplinary boundaries of the humanities and sciences In this original book Sam Mickey argues for the transdisciplinary significance of philosophical concepts that facilitate understandings of and responses to the boundaries involved in ecological issues Mickey demonstrates how much the provocative French philosopher Gilles Deleuze contributes to the development of such concepts situating his work in dialogue with that of his colleagues Felix Guattari and Jacques Derrida and with theorists who are adapting his concepts in contemporary contexts such as Isabelle Stengers Catherine Keller and the speculative realist movement of object oriented ontology The book focuses on the overlapping existential social and environmental aspects of the ecological problems pervading our increasingly interconnected planet It explores the boundaries between self and other humans and nonhumans sciences and humanities monism and pluralism sacred and secular fact and fiction the beginning and end of the world and much more Theorizing Rituals Jens Kreinath, Michael Strausberg, 2006 Volume two of Theorizing Rituals mainly consists of an annotated bibliography of more than 400 items covering those books edited volumes and essays that are considered most relevant for the field of ritual theory Instead of proposing yet another theory of ritual the bibliography is a comprehensive monument documenting four decades of theorizing rituals Developing Theory

Through Qualitative Inquiry , Societies in Transition Carolina Rehrmann, Rafael Biermann, Phillip Tolliday, 2020-01-20 Since the end of the Cold War the collapse of the Soviet Union and the dissolution of Yugoslavia the Mediterranean and Black Sea regions have been faced with multiple upheavals of interethnic violence bloody secessions and ethnic cleansing Up to the present both regions are confronted with unresolved border minority and security issues matters of recognition protracted traumata and claims for justice After the fall of the iron curtain simmering ethnic tensions turned into hot wars that created new states new power political hierarchies and a heritage of violence Reaching back to the early 1990s several international and national transitional justice measures have been applied to face these heritages and lay the foundations for a common future For the former Yugoslavia they range from broad criminal trials to a series of restorative justice mechanisms in the North and South Caucasus they encompass numerous mediation measures and primarily restorative justice efforts The present volume is concerned with strategies of conflict resolution and prevention subsumed under the concept of reconciliation It aims at understanding the socio emotional root causes of political cleavages and daily realities of post conflict societies especially regarding the impact of competing narratives and unprocessed pasts on exclusive identities and strategic political choices Applying reconciliation theory insights from collective memory and transitional justice to a series of selected field studies it sheds light on the origins of interethnic violence aims at finding explanations for the fact that many of the above mentioned conflicts have become intractable and discusses the chances and challenges for transforming interests emotions perspectives roles and identities between and within the respective societies Reading

Joshua as Christian Scripture Douglas S. Earl, 2010-06-30 The book of Joshua has been received and used as Christian Scripture throughout Christian history The challenge today however is how Christians should appropriately continue to read Joshua as Scripture not least in the light of well known historical and ethical difficulties with the narrative In Reading Joshua as Christian Scripture Douglas Earl draws on conceptual resources offered by recent anthropological approaches to myth and combines this with a close literary reading of the text in order to argue that Joshua is misconstrued when it is treated as a historical account of conquest Instead in its ancient Israelite context Joshua functioned to reshape accepted norms of community identity as reflected in the book of Deuteronomy by forming a new cultural memory Furthermore Earl reconsiders the traditional notion of the spiritual sense of Scripture in terms of a rich account of symbol and also makes use of the narrative hermeneutics of Paul Ricoeur The result is a fresh and unexpected reading of Joshua as Christian Scripture that develops the original function of the narrative in a way that resonates with classic premodern readings and is also challenging to contemporary Christian understandings of identity and faithfulness
