From The Ground Up Rethinking Industrial Agriculture:

From the Ground Up Helena Norberg-Hodge, Peter Goering, John Page, 2001-02 Modern industrial agriculture is in crisis The dream of global abundance promised by chemical and biological technology is becoming a nightmare of health risks degraded land and ailing communities There is mounting public distrust of conventional agricultural practices From the Ground Up explores the fundamental principles which underlie the growth at any cost thinking of modern society and highlights some of the most promising alternative ways of producing environmentally healthy food Wisdom for a Livable Planet Carl N. McDaniel, 2011-04-15 The author profiles the work of eight visionaries who have dedicated their lives to various environmental issues Each story provides a portrait of an individual's valiant and inspiring campaign to improve the conditions for life on our planet Taken together the work of these people points the way toward creating an ecologically centered civilization in which a brighter future for all life including human is possible Terri Swearingen takes on one of the world's largest hazardous waste incinerators burning toxic waste next door to an elementary school Stephen Schneider establishes the scientific basis for climate change Herman Daly advocates a dynamic steady state economy that respects the laws of nature and human behavior David Orr champions educational reform to make universities a place where students learn how to be environmentally aware citizens Werner Fornos works toward empowering every person with the knowledge and means to decide when and how many children to have Helena Norberg Hodge champions local living with appropriate technologies to enhance our spiritual and ecological well being Wes Jackson promotes sustainable agriculture based on local ecology and community values Dave Foreman leads the effort to rewild almost half of North America with wolves mountain lions jaguars falcons and others to restore functional ecosystems and preserve biodiversity Alternatives to Economic Globalization International Forum on Globalization. Alternatives Task Force, 2002 Written by a premier group of thinkers from around the world this book is the defining document of the anti globalization movement and the culmination of a three year project by the International Forum on Globalization Alternatives to Economic Globalization John Cavanagh, Jerry Manders, 2004-10-09 Written by a premier group of 21 thinkers from around the world the second edition of Alternatives to Economic Globalization lays out democratic ecologically sound socially just alternatives to corporate globalization more fully specifically and thoughtfully than has ever been done before Focusing on constructive achievable goals the authors present ten governing principles for establishing truly sustainable societies and describe alternatives to the World Bank the IMF and the WTO that would better serve the needs of the planet They offer detailed proposals for protecting vital goods and services from corporate exploitation limiting corporate privileges and power rebuilding economies to make them more responsive to human needs and more This revised and expanded edition features a new opening chapter on the global balance of power a new section on the media and globalization and a new final chapter on what ordinary citizens can do to fight the injustices of globalization It also includes many new charts sidebars and other updated information The Practice of Technology

Alan R. Drengson, 1995-01-01 Asks why current practices of technology negatively impact humans and the earth and how we can gain a holistic understanding so technology practices can be changed to support the environment Sustainable Agriculture in Print, 1997 Metaphors for Change Penny Allen, Christophe Bonazzi, David Gee, 2017-09-29 How can we get from where we are to where we want to be Metaphors for Change attempts to answer this question and provide a roadmap for sustainability by bringing together the thoughts of a unique collection of leading change agents from business government and academia Environmental questions have previously been dealt with metaphorically by catastrophism or manicheism zero growth Malthusianism Deep Ecology man is the enemy less is more These metaphors have had limited impact because they have failed to connect with the mainstream of cultural political and business ideas This book examines a number of new metaphors and related partnerships tools and action which appear to have greater possibilities for the world in which we now live The editors argue that Metaphors for Change can deliver to the public and to decision makers new perceptions structured knowledge that can help interpret the past and the present and help us forge the future The wider the gap between the now and the necessary the stronger the bridging perceptions have to be in order to break through barriers of fear and conservatism Some of the concepts considered are sustainable development the polluter pays principle the precautionary principle eco efficiency eco effectiveness life cycle assessment design for the environment eco services dematerialization industrial symbiosis industrial ecology and zero emissions There are of course other useful metaphors on the horizon some of them included in this book Including key contributions from the ground breaking conferences ECO 97 and ECO 99 along with other specially commissioned and reprinted pieces Metaphors for Change provides a treasure chest of new ideas innovations and action Accessible and forward thinking it will prove indispensable both as a student learning tool and as a panoramic overview of the sustainability metaphors key thinkers believe we should be putting into practice

This volume gathers stories about how various art and creative forms of expression are used to enable voices from the margins that is of underrepresented individuals and communities to take shape and form Voice is not enough stories and truths must be heard must be listened to And so the stories gathered here also speak to how creative processes enable conditions for listening and the development of empathy for other perspectives which is essential for democracy The chapters including some that describe international projects illustrate a variety of art making practices such as poetry visual art film theatre music and dance and how they can support individuals and groups at the edges of mainstream society to tell their story and speak their truths often the first steps to valuing one's identity and organizing for change Some of the authors are community based artists who share stories thus bringing these creative endeavors into the wider conversation about the power of arts making to open up spaces for dialogue across differences Art practices outlined in this book can expand our visions by encouraging critical thinking and broadening our worldview At this time on the earth when we face many serious challenges the arts can stimulate hope openness and individual and collective imaginations for preferred futures Inspiration comes from people who at the edges of their community communicate their experience Sustainable Agriculture in Print Louis L'Amour, 1998-12 An annotated bibliography of current books on sustainable and alternative agriculture Entries include title author editor publisher and annotation Indexed by author and editor Includes update of current books for 1998

Special Reference Briefs, 1983 The Ethics of Food Gregory E. Pence, 2002 Food makes philosophers of us all Death does the same but death comes only once and choices about food come many times each day In The Ethics of Food Gregory E Pence brings together a collection of voices who share the view that the ethics of genetically modified food is among the most pressing societal questions of our time This comprehensive collection addresses a broad range of subjects including the meaning of food moral analyses of vegetarianism and starvation the safety and environmental risks of genetically modified food issues of global food politics and the food industry and the relationships among food evolution and human history Will genetically modified food feed the poor or destroy the environment Is it a threat to our health Is the assumed healthfulness of organic food a myth or a reality The answers to these and other questions are engagingly pursued in this substantive collection the first of its kind to address the broad range of philosophical sociological political scientific and technological issues surrounding the ethics of food The Fatal Harvest Reader Andrew Kimbrell, 2002-05 Fatal Harvest takes an unprecedented look at our current ecologically destructive agricultural system and offers a compelling vision for an organic and environmentally safer way of producing the food we eat It gathers together more than forty essays by leading ecological thinkers including Wendell Berry Wes Jackson David Ehrenfeld Helena Norberg Hodge Vandana Shiva and Gary Nabhan Providing a unique and invaluable antidote to the efforts by agribusiness to obscure and disconnect us from the truth about industrialized foods it demonstrates that industrial food production is indeed a fatal harvest fatal to consumers fatal to our landscapes fatal to genetic diversity and fatal to our farm communities As it exposes the ecological and social impacts of industrial agriculture s fatal harvest Fatal Harvest details a new ecological and humane vision for agriculture It shows how millions of people are engaged in the new politics of food as they work to develop a better alternative to the current chemically fed and biotechnology driven system Designed to aid the movement to reform industrial agriculture Fatal Harvest informs and influences the activists farmers policymakers and consumers who are seeking a safer and more sustainable food future

Redesigning Life? Brian Tokar, 2001-05-04 Genetic engineering technologies are being promoted as keys to a brighter future These writings examine the hidden hazards of the new genetic technologies and reveal the emergence of worldwide resistance to unfettered exploitation
