Law, Narrative and Masterplot Chris Bevan, David Gurnham, 2025-06-13 The book brings together a range of socio legal and law and humanities scholars to elaborate and explore the idea of the legal masterplot There is a class of narrative sometimes referred to as masterplot or metanarrative that stands above the plethora of other stories plots and myths that may be found in law This book focuses on the masterplot concept as providing a productive yet largely under explored way of seeing understanding and responding to legal controversies and socio legal problems Masterplots may be understood as those prevalent and enduring ideas and narratives that form the basis of expectations assumptions stereotypes and prejudices In legal contexts masterplots give shape and significance to particular experiences or issues In aligning with them legal arguments judgments and reforms gain acceptability and can be presented as authoritative proportionate and legitimate Reflecting from different legal perspectives and subdisciplines on the masterplots at play in our current legal frameworks this collection illuminates the often hidden ways in which law functions This book will appeal to students and scholars of socio legal studies sociology social policy and humanities approaches to law

Narratives Unsettled Samuel Frederick, 2012-08-31 Narratives Unsettled argues by way of close readings of three very different German language writers that only if we conceive of narrativity unburdened by plot can we properly account for radical forms of digression

Dual Narrative Dynamics Dan Shen, 2022-12-30 Combining narratological and stylistic methods this book theorizes dual narrative dynamics consisting of plot development and covert progression and demonstrates the consequences for the interpretation of literary works In narratives with such dynamics writers work simultaneously with overt and covert trajectories of signification establishing a range of relationships between them The two parallel narrative movements may complement contradict or even subvert each other and these relationships significantly influence readers understanding not just of events but also of characters themes and aesthetic values The book provides a systematic theoretical account of such previously neglected dual narrative dynamics substantiated and enriched by the textual analysis of works by Ambrose Bierce Kate Chopin Franz Kafka and Katherine Mansfield The study explores the many ways that these authors have used dual dynamics to increase the power of their narratives In addition the book identifies the challenges such dual dynamics present not only for narratology but also for stylistics and translation studies and it develops sound and provocative proposals for meeting those challenges In taking an interdisciplinary approach this book will appeal to scholars and students in the fields of narrative and literary theory literary criticism literary stylistics and translation studies

Routledge Encyclopedia of Narrative Theory David Herman, Manfred Jahn, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2010-06-10 The past several decades have seen an explosion of interest in narrative with this multifaceted object of inquiry becoming a central concern in a wide range of disciplinary fields and research contexts As accounts of what happened to particular people in particular circumstances and with specific consequences stories have come to be viewed as a basic human strategy for coming to terms with time process and change However the very predominance of narrative as a focus of interest across multiple disciplines makes it imperative for scholars teachers and students to have access to a comprehensive reference resource

The Narrative Turn in Urban Planning Lieven Ameen, 2020-11-15 Narratives in the context of urban planning matter profoundly Planning theory and practice have taken an increasing interest in the role and power of narrative and yet there is no comprehensive study of how narrative and concepts from narrative and literary theory more broadly can enrich planning and policy The Narrative Turn in Urban Planning addresses this gap by defining key concepts such as story narrative and plot against a planning backdrop and by drawing up a functional typology of different planning narratives In two extended case studies from the planning of the Helsinki waterfront it applies the narrative concepts and theories to a broad range of texts and practices considering ways toward a more conscious and contextualized future urban planning Questioning what is meant when we speak of narratives in urban planning and what typologies we can draw up it presents a threefold taxonomy of narratives within a planning framework This book will serve as an important reference text for upper level students and researchers interested in urban planning

The Classical Plot and the Invention of Western Narrative N. J. Lowe, 2000-06 From Homer to Hollywood the western storytelling tradition has canonised a distinctive set of narrative values characterised by tight economy and closure This book traces the formation of that classical paradigm in the development of ancient storytelling from Homer to Heliodorus To tell this story the book sets out to rehabilitate the idea of plot notoriously disconnected from any recognised system of terminology in literary theory The first part of the book draws on developments in narratology and cognitive science to propose a way of formally describing the way stories are structured and understood This model is then used to write a history of the emergence of the classical plot type in the four ancient genres that shaped it Homeric epic fifth century tragedy New Comedy and the Greek novel with insights into the fundamental narrative poetics of each Empathy and Reading Suzanne Keen, 2022-06-23 This pioneering collection brings together Suzanne Keen's extensive body of work on empathy and reading charting the development of narrative empathy as an area of inquiry in its own right and extending cross disciplinary conversations about empathy evoked by reading The volume offers a brief overview of the trajectory of research following the 2007 publication of Empathy and the Novel with empathy understood as a suite of related phenomena as stimulated by representations in narratives The book is organized around three thematic sections theories empathetic readers and interdisciplinary applications each preceded by a short framing essay The volume features excerpts from the author's seminal works on narrative empathy and makes available her harder to access contributions The book brings different strands of the author's research into conversation with existing debates with the aim of inspiring future interdisciplinary research on narrative empathy This book will be of interest to students and scholars in such fields as literary studies cognitive science emotion studies affect studies and applied contexts where empathetic practitioners work

Narrative Methods for Organizational & Communication Research David M Boje, 2001 This work is a practical guide for researchers who need to look at alternative discourse analysis strategies Topics covered include deconstruction analysis microstoria analysis story network analysis and plot analysis The Materiality of Narrative Dynamics Stefan Iversen, Evan Van Tassell, 2025-06-02 The dynamic nature of storytelling has long been one of the major concerns of narrative research but relatively little scholarship has engaged with the relationship between storytelling dynamics and the underlying material forms of cultural texts This volume seeks to remedy this by asking questions such as How might the affordances of new media guide audience reception in subtle ways How might the dynamism of legacy media be better recognized when examined through a multimedial lens How do the physical processes of production define the horizons of both authorial activity and audience response The insight that drives these investigations is two fold first that functions and effects of narratives are deeply intertwined with material forces of production distribution and reception and second that an analysis of any specific narrative must include attention to these material matters and how they affect the unfolding of stories over time The chapters in this collection explore interplays between material forces and narrative dynamics across a range of genres and intellectual arenas In doing so they both fill gaps in current methodological frameworks and call attention to the many gaps that are yet to be filled Modern Management Based on Big Data II and Machine Learning and Intelligent Systems III

A.J. Tallón-Ballesteros,2021-12-03 It is data that guides the path of applications and Big Data technologies are enabling new paths which can deal with information in a reasonable time to arrive at an approximate solution rather than a more exact result in an unacceptably long time This can be particularly important when dealing with an urgent issue such as that of the COVID 19 pandemic This book presents the proceedings of two conferences MMBD 2021 and MLIS 2021 The MMBD conference deals with two main subjects those of Big Data and Modern Management The MLIS conference aims to provide a platform for knowledge exchange of the most recent scientific and technological advances in the field of machine learning and intelligent systems Both conferences were originally scheduled to be held from 8 11 November 2021 in Quanzhou China and Xiamen China respectively Both conferences were ultimately held fully online on the same dates hosted by Huaqiao University in Quanzhou and Xiamen respectively The book is in two parts and contains a total of 78 papers 54 from MMBD2021 and 24 from MLIS2021 selected after rigorous review from a total of some 300 submissions The reviewers bore in mind the breadth and depth of the research topics that fall within the scope of MMBD and MLIS and selected the 78 most promising and FAIA mainstream relevant contributions for inclusion in this two part volume All the papers present original ideas or results of general significance supported by clear reasoning compelling evidence and rigorous methods

Cognition, Emotion, and Aesthetics in Contemporary Serial Television Ted Nannicelli,Héctor J. Pérez,2021-11-25

This book posits an interconnection between the ways in which contemporary television serials cue cognitive operations solicit emotional responses and elicit aesthetic appreciation. The chapters explore a number of questions including: How do the particularities of form and style in contemporary serial television engage us cognitively, emotionally, and aesthetically? How do they foster cognitive and emotional effects such as feeling, suspense, anticipation, surprise, satisfaction, and disappointment? Why and how do we value some serials while disliking others? What is it about the particularities of serial television form and style in conjunction with our common cognitive, emotional, and aesthetic capacities that accounts for serial television's cognitive, socio-political, and aesthetic value and its current ubiquity in popular culture? This book will appeal to postgraduates and scholars working in television studies as well as film studies, cognitive media theory, media psychology, and the philosophy of art.

The History and Narrative Reader Geoffrey Roberts, 2001. Are historians story tellers? Is it possible to tell true stories about the past? These are just two of the questions raised in this comprehensive collection of texts about philosophy, theory, and methodology of writing history.

Narrative and Media Rosemary Huisman, Julian Murphet, Anne Dunn, 2006-01-26. Narrative and Media first published in 2006 applies narrative theory to media texts including film, television, radio, advertising, and print journalism. Drawing on research in structuralist and post-structuralist theory as well as functional grammar and image analysis, the book explains the narrative techniques which shape media texts and offers interpretive tools for analysing meaning and ideology. Each section looks at particular media forms and shows how elements such as chronology, character, and focalization are realized in specific texts. As the boundaries between entertainment and information in the mass media continue to dissolve, understanding the ways in which modes of story telling are seamlessly transferred from one medium to another and the ideological implications of these strategies is an essential aspect of media studies.
