Fugger Welser Museum Historie Marketing:

German Entanglements in Transatlantic Slavery Heike Raphael-Hernandez, Pia Wiegink, 2020-04-02 Germany has long entertained the notion that the transatlantic slave trade and New World slavery involved only other European players Countering this premise this collection re charts various routes of German participation in profiteering from and resistance to transatlantic slavery and its cultural political and intellectual reverberations Exploring how German financiers missionaries and immigrant writers made profit from morally responded to and fictionalized their encounters with New World slavery the contributors demonstrate that these various German entanglements with New World slavery revise preconceived ideas that erase German involvements from the history of slavery and the Black Atlantic Moreover the collection brings together these German perspectives on slavery with an investigation of German colonial endeavors in Africa thereby seeking to interrogate historical processes or fantasies of empire building colonialism and slavery which according to public memory seem to have taken place in isolation from each other The collection demonstrates that they should be regarded as part and parcel of a narrative that ingrained colonialism and slavery in the German cultural memory and identity to a much larger extent than has been illustrated and admitted so far in general discourses in contemporary Germany This book was originally published as a special issue of Atlantic Studies Cultural Heritage and Slavery Stephan Conermann, Claudia Rauhut, Ulrike Schmieder, Michael Zeuske, 2023-11-20 In the recent cultural heritage boom community based and national identity projects are intertwined with interest in cultural tourism and sites of the memory of enslavement Questions of historical guilt and present responsibility have become a source of social conflict particularly in multicultural societies with an enslaving past This became apparent in the context of the Black Lives Matter movement in 2020 when statues of enslavers and colonizers were toppled controversial debates about streets and places named after them re ignited and the European Union apologized for slavery after the racist murder of George Floyd Related debates focus on museums on artworks acquired unjustly in societies under colonial rule the question of whether and how museums should narrate the hidden past of enslavement and colonialism including their own colonial origins with respect to narratives about presumed European supremacy and the need to establish new monuments for the enslaved their resistance and abolitionists of African descent In this volume we address this dissonant cultural heritage in Europe with a strong focus on the tangible remains of enslavement in the Atlantic space in the continent This may concern for instance the residences of royal noble and bourgeois enslavers charitable and cultural institutions universities banks and insurance companies financed by the traders and owners of enslaved Africans merchants who dealt in sugar coffee and cotton and the owners of factories who profited from exports to the African and Caribbean markets related to Atlantic slavery The Fugger News-letter Victor Klarwill, 1924 The Fugger News-letters Victor Klarwill, 1925 The Fugger News-letters, Second Series Victor Klarwill, 1926 Fugger und Welser, 2015-07-09 Cyclopedia of Painters and Paintings John Denison Champlin, Charles Callahan Perkins, 1886
