From The Extreme Urban Christian:

China's Urban Christians Brent Fulton, 2016-12-29 China's Urban Christians A Light that Cannot Be Hidden looks at how massive urbanization is redrawing not only the geographic and social landscape of China but in the process is transforming China's growing church as well The purpose of this book is to explore how Christians in China perceive the challenges posed by their new urban context and to examine their proposed means of responding to these challenges Although not primarily political in nature these challenges nonetheless illustrate the complex interplay between China's Christian community and the Chinese party state as it comes to terms with the continued growth and increasing prominence of Christianity in modern China

The First Urban Christians Wayne A. Meeks, 2003-01-01 Meeks analyzes the letters of Paul to see what kind of people joined the Christian groups in the urban centers and what it was like to be a Christian then

The Making of Christian Morality David G. Horrell, 2019-01-29 In this volume David Horrell focuses on themes of community ethics and ecology in Paul moving from the concrete social circumstances in which the earliest Christian communities gathered to the appropriation of Paul's writings in relation to modern ethical challenges Often questioning established consensus positions Horrell opens up new perspectives and engages with ongoing debates both in Pauline studies and in contemporary ethics After covering historical questions about the setting of the Pauline communities The Making of Christian Morality analyzes Pauline ethics through a detailed study of particular passages In the third and final section Horrell brings Pauline thought to bear on contemporary issues and challenges using the environmental crisis as a case study to demonstrate how Paul's ethics can be appropriated fruitfully in a world so different from Paul's own

From the Extreme Renea Collins, 2008 Rachael who has suffered through abandonment abuse pain and betrayal becomes a woman full of rage until she turns to God for help

Urban Apologetics Christopher W. Brooks, 2014-04-29 Much of the New Testament was written in urban settings in which the Christian communities had to deal head on with issues such as race equality justice sexuality money and economics But much of today's apologetics engagement with the questions that people are asking about Christianity come from suburban churches and academic studies Urban believers those who live and minister in America's inner cities often face unique issues not often addressed by the larger Christian community These questions aren't neat or easy to answer but need to be addressed by applying biblical truth in the culture and challenges of urban life Author Chris Brooks has ministered for years in the urban environment as well as received extensive theological training In Urban Apologetics he seeks to connect the riches of the Christian apologetic tradition with the issues facing cities such as poverty violence and broken families He brings an urban rhythm and sensitivity to the task of demonstrating the relevance of faith and the healing truth that Christ provides

Urban Ministry Manuel Ortiz, Harvie M. Conn, 2025-06-06 No. 3 in the Academy of Parish Clergy Top Ten Books of the Year The city presents serious challenges that cry out for answers poverty racism human exploitation and government corruption How can the church move ahead in the midst of these demands with the gospel of hope Here in one comprehensive volume Harvie Conn and Manuel Ortiz two noted scholars and proven practitioners of urban ministry address the vital work of the church in the city Their dual goal to understand the city and God s work in it Through four great waves of development Conn and Ortiz trace the history of the city around the world Then they tackle the critical issue of a biblical basis for urban mission How does the Bible view the city Are we closer to God in the country than the city Does the Bible have an anti urban bias These questions are given a thorough analysis that unveils God s urban mandate as reflected in both Old and New Testaments From this foundation the authors unpack the multifaceted nature of the city as place as process as center as power and as a place of change and stability They move us beyond fragmented stereotypes to a new way of seeing that is holistic enough for a fully biblical ministry to develop In addition Conn and Ortiz lay out what the social sciences have to offer urban mission including ethnographic and demographic studies and they focus on the particular issues and needs of urban leadership including a plan for developing and mentoring leaders while equipping the laity for ministry in the city This is the essential text for bringing God s kingdom to the city through the people of God Crossing Traditions Babacar

Daniel Newcomer,2004-01-01 Reconciling Modernity challenges the academic consensus of a simplistic Church State reconciliation in postrevolutionary Mexico and reveals instead a cultural power struggle between entrenched elite factions each intending to define Mexico s national identity Using documents found in regional archives Daniel Newcomer provides a new interpretation of how radically opposed conservative and revolutionary elites came to a political d tente in the traditional Catholic stronghold of Le n Guanajuato during the 1940s Le n s conservatives sought to limit the influence of the revolutionary government because state sponsored modernization projects threatened local character and institutions Tensions regarding the extent of state power culminated in the 1946 Le n massacre during which government troops gunned down more than two dozen citizens As the defining moment in local history the violent confrontation helped solidify a new elite consensus or an official story that hinged on negotiated tenets of modernity particularly ideals of industrialization and democracy and supposedly validated state power among the general population Newcomer argues that advocates of the revolutionary state and their local opposition including the pro Catholic Sinarquistas attempted to create hegemonic appearances to legitimate their claims to political power but ultimately relied on a rationalization of the use of state violence to enforce the social order they idealized Reconciling Modernity concludes that the postrevolutionary government proved unable to legitimize its rule among the popular classes and reveals how history written by the victors can obscure the processes of historical change

The Urban World and the First Christians Steve Walton, Paul Trebilco, David W. J. Gill, 2017 In the tradition of The First Urban Christians by Wayne Meeks this book explores the relationship between the earliest Christians and the city environment Experts in classics early Christianity and human geography analyze the growth development and self understanding of the early Christian movement in urban settings The book s contributors first look at how the urban physical cultural and social environments of the ancient Mediterranean basin affected the ways in which early Christianity progressed They then turn to how the earliest Christians thought and theologized in their engagement with cities With a rich variety of expertise and scholarship The Urban World and the First Christians is an important contribution to the understanding of early Christianity

Urban Religion in Late Antiquity Asuman Lätzer-Lasar, Emiliano Rubens Urciuoli, 2020-11-23 Urban Religion is an emerging research field cutting across various social science disciplines all of them dealing with lived religion in contemporary and mainly global cities It describes the reciprocal formation and mutual influence of religion and urbanity in both their material and ideational dimensions However this approach if duly historicized can be also fruitfully applied to antiquity Aim of the volume is the analysis of the entanglement of religious communication and city life during an arc of time that is characterised by dramatic and even contradicting developments Bringing together textual analyses and archaeological case studies in a comparative perspective the volume zooms in on the historical context of the advanced imperial and late antique Mediterranean space 2nd 8th centuries CE

Who Were the First Christians? Thomas Arthur Robinson,2017 Challenges the consensus view of the urban character of early Christianity Demonstrates that almost every scenario in reconstructing early Christian growth is mathematically improbable and in many case impossible unless a rural dimension of the Christian movement is factored in Points to the likelihood that the marginal and the rustic made up a larger part of its membership than is generally recognized
