Safety Precautions

Read before use

Before using this product, the user is requested to read the following precautions carefully to ensure the safety. Safety precautions must be taken for every year to prevent accidents.
 The safety requirements are classified into "warning" and "caution" according to the following interpretations.

	Warning	Suggesting that the user's mishandling can result in personal death or without injury.
	Caution	Suggesting that the user's mishandling can result in personal injury or damage to the property.

WARNING Over-temperature Protection

"Any control system design should take into account that any part of the system has the potential to fail".
 "The most dangerous condition of the system equipped with this product is continued heating, and the machine should be designed to automatically stop heating even if alarm is not issued at the time of failure of this product or due to any other reason".

- The following are the most common cases where continued heating cannot be detected with this product:
- 1) Failure to issuing an alarm even when this product fails.
 - 2) Disengagement of the temperature sensor from the system.
 - 3) A short-circuit in the thermocouple wiring.

- a place where a change in the ambient temperature is so rapid as to cause condensation.
- a place where corrosive gases and combustible gases, in particular, or combustible gases are emitted.
- a place where the unit is subject directly to vibration or shock. (vibration or shock may cause malfunction of the output relay.)
- a place exposed to water oil, chemicals, steam and vapor.
- (If interfered with rain, the unit should be covered by a rain cap to avoid an electrical leakage and firing.)
- a place where the unit is exposed to dust, salt air, or air containing iron particles.
- a place where the unit is subject to interference with static electricity, magnetism, and noise.

About EMC standard

- This equipment is designed as a Class A equipment that is for industrial locations. Do not use this equipment in domestic establishment such as residential areas, or it may cause radio interference. If you unavoidably use this equipment in domestic locations, take adequate measures on the outside of the equipment to reduce radio interference.
- Under the requirement of EMC standard, the maximum length of external cable including a sensor to be connected to this equipment is 30 m.

2-2. Cautions on installation on panel

- Insert the mounting bracket (provided) from the rear side until the main unit is securely fit into the panel. If there should be a gap, tighten two screws lightly until the gap is eliminated. (Do not tighten the screws excessively because the mounting bracket can be removed from the stopper by the force.)
 - The front panel needs NEMA 4X (equivalent to IP65) requirements. To ensure the waterproofness between the instrument and the panel, use packings that are provided as accessories in the following manner. (The improper fitting of packings will ruin the waterproofness.)
 - As shown in Figure 1, fit a packing to the case of the unit and then insert the PXR3 in the panel.
 - As shown in Figure 2, tighten the screws of the mounting adapter so that no gaps are given between the front panel of the instrument, packing, and the panel.
- Check that there are no deviation and deformation of packing as shown in Fig.3.

- If panel strength is weak, it may generate a gap between the packing and the panel, thus impairing water resistance.

Installation

- Caution
- Don't block the openings around this product, or radiation effect will be reduced.
 - Don't block the ventilation openings at the top of the terminal block.
