

Adversity Then Strength

I did not understand at first touch but it is that conflict in life that has shaped me to who I am today these strengths were once weaknesses and this love was once hate being a caged bird has revealed to me the beauty of freedom so if you wish to be successful let yourself fail if you wish to be loved let yourself hurt

The Buddhist Poetry of the Great Kamo Priestess Edward Kamens, 2021-01-19 Senshi was born in 964 and died in 1035 in the Heian period of Japanese history 794-1185 Most of the poems discussed here are what may loosely be called Buddhist poems since they deal with Buddhist scriptures practices and ideas For this reason most of them have been treated as examples of a category or subgenre of waka called Shakkyōka Buddhist poems Yet many Shakkyōka are more like other poems in the waka canon than they are unlike them In the case of Senshi's Buddhist poems their language links them to the traditions of secular verse Moreover the poems use the essentially secular public literary language of waka to address and express serious and relatively private religious concerns and aspirations In reading Senshi's poems it is as important to think about their relationship to the traditions and conventions of waka and to other waka texts as it is to think about their relationship to Buddhist thoughts practices and texts The Buddhist Poetry of the Great Kamo Priestess creates a context for the reading of Senshi's poems by presenting what is known and what has been thought about her and them As such it is a vital source for any reader of Senshi and other literature of the Heian period
