Faith And Learning A Practical Guide For Faculty:

Faith and Learning Kenneth Rea Badley, Patrick Allen, 2014-09-01 Christian colleges expect faculty to clearly articulate an understanding of the impacts that Christian faith has on their teaching research and service Many faculty find this dimension of their work often labeled the integration of faith and learning confusing and difficult to realize in practice to assess and to describe This volume begins by clarifying two things It summarizes the faith learning discussion and offers a working conception of faith integration specifically for Christian college faculty It then outlines what deans provosts and tenure promotion committees typically expect faculty in Christian colleges to know and do Allen and Badley introduce the highly regarded framework of Ernest Boyer and the Carnegie Foundation Scholarship Reconsidered 1990 They then present both a framework for assessing faith learning integration in the three dimensions of teaching research and service and step by step instructions for reporting and describing the individual faculty member s approach and success The book closes by calling both the Christian college and the individual professor to the vocation of teaching shaping and sending

The Scandal of the Evangelical College Martin Spence, 2025-06-30 Despite heady claims about Christ centeredness Evangelical colleges are scandalously secular institutions in thrall to the regnant assumptions of the market economy and mainstream higher education Paradigms intended to integrate faith and learning often ironically fracture and distort Christianity Even the spiritual dimensions of the Christian college presumed to keep it safe from religious declension are prone to secularizing tendencies because the American Evangelical culture from which the college receives its spiritual cues and from which it accepts its donors money is itself captive to a set of sub biblical economic social and political assumptions This book argues that the cause of the scandal is the absence of the church in the imagination of the Evangelical college It therefore proposes that the mission and practice of the Evangelical college should be to summon equip and renew the people of God While this may sound like a return to an obsolete bible school model of Christian education the ecclesial vision only sounds narrow because we lack a robust understanding of the vocation of the church itself By simultaneously restricting our vision of the Evangelical college while broadening our understanding of the church a more fully evangelical educational endeavor might emerge

Christian Higher Education David S. Dockery, Christopher W. Morgan, 2018-12-10 Our world is growing increasingly complex and confused a unique and urgent context that calls for a grounded and fresh approach to Christian higher education Christian higher education involves a distinctive way of thinking about teaching learning scholarship curriculum student life administration and governance that is rooted in the historic Christian faith In this volume twenty nine experts from a variety of fields including theology the humanities science mathematics social science philosophy the arts and professional programs explore how the foundational beliefs of Christianity influence higher education and its disciplines Aimed at equipping the next generation to better engage the shifting cultural context this book calls students professors trustees administrators and church leaders to a renewed commitment to the distinctive work of Christian higher education for the good of the society the good of the church and the glory of God Habits of Hope Todd C. Ream, Jerry Pattengale, Christopher J. Devers, 2024-11-12 Christians called to academic vocations need authentic hope to sustain their work and they need to be able to share that hope with a weary world Combining theology and practical application essays from master practitioners focus on how six educational practices can cultivate hope for educators their students and everyone they serve Essays in Faith and Learning Michael Bollenbaugh, Steven N. Goetz, 2015-12-07 This book represents the collected thinking of a few people who have had strong personal connections to Dr Song Nai Rhee Because the integration of faith and learning is a core value held by Dr Rhee the various authors have written essays on this topic in honor of his life and work Such a book is typically referred to as a Festschrift a celebratory writing given for a special person Dr Rhee s robust career at Northwest Christian College University is celebrated by the essays brought together in this book All the authors have known Dr Rhee as students or as academic colleagues or both What they write about ranges from topics found in biblical literature to expressly theological ideas to matters that are eminently practical Yet each essay is held in place by its relevancy to the ongoing conversations about how faith and learning are integrated in the context of the Christian liberal arts university More important each author has a deep and abiding respect for Dr Song Nai Rhee His teaching and mentoring at Northwest Christian College University have left an indelible mark on each of their lives

Nurturing Faith Fred P. Edie, Mark A. Lamport, 2021-09-07 Faith left on rocky soil withers But faith nurtured in the good soil of Christian teaching formation and mentorship grows to maturity and yields thriving community Educational ministries are so often where this happens where the desires of the human heart are shaped toward a love for God a love for one s neighbor and a love for the world In this comprehensive guide to educational ministries in the twenty first century Fred Edie and Mark Lamport explore how church leaders and others involved in Christian education can nurture a robust cruciform faith within their communities When discussing strategies and goals Edie and Lamport consider a range of contexts and a variety of related fields that might give insight into educational ministry theology pedagogy philosophy social science and more Those working with any age group children adolescents and adults will find a relevant discussion of key underlying theological themes a guide to concrete practices and indispensable help in navigating shifting cultural dynamics Exceedingly practical and consistent with the teachings of the gospel the wisdom in this book will speak to all who long to foster discipleship in their church school or missional community Key Features A Road Map at the beginning of each chapter concisely introduces the chapter s topic and essential themes Sidebars throughout the text provide deeper insight into particular important or nuanced concepts Discussion questions at the end of each chapter facilitate further reflection especially in conversation with others Suggestions for further reading are provided at the end of each chapter for those interested in exploring the chapter s ideas in greater depth Concluding the book is a series of afterwords from experts in the field of Christian educational ministries Martyn Percy Almeda Wright Craig Dykstra Kirsten Oh Elizabeth DeGaynor and

Thomas Groome Foundations Matthew Etherington, 2025-05-16 This book is for undergraduate and graduate students teachers school administrators organizational leaders theologians researchers and education practitioners It uncovers topics exclusive to education in general particularly Christian education while highlighting the experiences and perspectives of individual scholars in various contexts This tenth anniversary volume focuses on language community agency and identity topics Each chapter ends with discussion questions that offer the reader freedom of thought and expression and an opportunity to engage with others preferably in smaller groups Resources in Education , 2001-04 Integrating Faith and Learning , 2006 Encountering Faith in the Classroom Miriam R. Diamond, 2023-07-03 When faculty unexpectedly encounter students religious ideologies in the classroom they may respond with apprehension frustration dread or concern Instructors may view this exchange as a confrontation that threatens the very heart of empirical study and worry that this will lead to a dead end in the learning process The purpose of this book is to explore what happens and what can happen in the higher education and even secondary school classroom when course content meets or collides with students religious beliefs It also considers the impact on learning in an environment where students may feel threatened angry misunderstood or in which they feel their convictions are being discredited This is a resource that offers ways of conceptualizing engaging with and responding to student beliefs This book is divided into three sections student views on the role of religion in the classroom general guidelines for responding to or actively engaging religious beliefs in courses such as legal and diversity considerations and specific examples from a number of disciplines including the sciences social sciences humanities and professional education Professors from public private and religious institutions share their findings and insights The resounding lessons of this book are the importance of creating a learning space in which students can express their beliefs dissonance and emotions constructively without fear of retribution and of establishing ground rules of respectful discussion for this process to be valuable and productive This is an inspirational and practical guide for faculty navigating the controversial sensitive yet illuminating lessons that can be learned when religion takes a seat in the classroom A Practical Guide to Teaching Music in the Secondary School Julie Evans, Chris Philpott, 2009-04-07 A Practical Guide to Teaching Music in the Secondary School provides valuable support guidance and creative ideas for student teachers mentors and practising teachers who want to develop their music teaching Written to accompany the successful textbook Learning to Teach Music in the Secondary School it will help you understand important current developments and explore new possibilities for teaching and learning Focusing on teaching music musically the book explores musical learning through placing pupils at the centre of a musical experience Considering the revised KS3 curriculum and the 14 19 agenda in music it also seeks to broaden the perspectives of music teachers through engaging with collaborative practice transitions and cross curricular work Key issues explored include personalising musical learning teaching creatively and promoting creativity approaches to using ICT in the classroom musical collaboration with other adults assessment for learning in music making
