The Routledge Companion for Architecture Design and Practice Mitra Kanaani, Dak Kopec, 2015-11-06 The Routledge Companion for Architecture Design and Practice provides an overview of established and emerging trends in architecture practice Contributions of the latest research from international experts examine external forces applied to the practice and discipline of architecture Each chapter contains up to date and relevant information about select aspects of architecture and the changes this information will have on the future of the profession The Companion contains thirty five chapters divided into seven parts Theoretical Stances Technology Sustainability Behaviorism Urbanism Professional Practice and Society Topics include Evidence Based Design Performativity Designing for Net Zero Energy The Substance of Light in Design Social Equity and Ethics for Sustainable Architecture Universal Design Design Psychology Architecture Branding and the Politics of Identity The Role of BIM in Green Architecture Public Health and the Design Process Affordable Housing Disaster Preparation and Mitigation Diversity and many more Each chapter follows the running theme of examining external forces applied to the practice and discipline of architecture in order to uncover the evolving theoretical tenets of what constitutes today's architectural profession and the tools that will be required of the future architect This book considers architecture's interdisciplinary nature and addresses its current and evolving perspectives related to social economic environmental technological and globalization trends These challenges are central to the future direction of architecture and as such this Companion will serve as an invaluable reference for undergraduate and postgraduate students existing practitioners and future architects

Perspectives on Social Sustainability and Interior Architecture Dianne Smith, Marina Lommerse, Priya Metcalfe, 2014-04-30 This book argues that interior architects have a responsibility to practice their profession in collaborative ways that address the needs of communities and of to be the agents of social justice and cultural heritage The book is divided into three sections based on three pivotal themes community engagement social justice and cultural heritage Each section has chapters that put forward the principles of these themes leading into a variety of fascinating case studies that illustrate how socially sustainable design is implemented in diverse communities across the world The second section includes four concise case studies of community housing issues including remote area indigenous housing and housing for the homeless The third section offers two extensively researched essays on design and cultural heritage a case study of the development of a redundant industrial site and a historical study of gendered domestic interiors The book appeals to a wider audience than the design community alone and challenges mainstream interior design interior architecture practitioners nationally and internationally to take a leading role in the field of socially responsible design The issues raised by the authors are relevant for individuals communities government and non government organisations professionals and students In the twenty first century we seem to have entered into a new world of knowledge discovery where many of the most exciting insights come not from the authority of a traditional discipline but from the dialogue that happens at the hubs and intersections of thought the arenas where different disciplines and approaches different schools and habits of thinking come together to collaborate and contend This collection is a good example of this and I hope the book will be widely read and its lessons learned and applied Tim Costello Officer of the Order of Australia Chief Executive World Vision Australia

Social Housing in the Middle East Mohammad Gharipour, Kivanc Kilinc, 2019-03-01 As oil rich countries in the Middle East are increasingly associated with soaring skyscrapers and modern architecture attention is being diverted away from the pervasive struggles of social housing in those same urban settings Social Housing in the Middle East traces the history of social housing both gleaming postmodern projects and bare bones urban housing structures in an effort to provide a wider understanding of marginalized spaces and their impact on identities communities and class While architects may have envisioned utopian or futuristic experiments these buildings were often constructed with the knowledge and skill sets of local workers and the housing was in turn adapted to suit the modern needs of residents This tension between local needs and national aspirations are linked to issues of global importance including security migration and refugee resettlement The essays collected here consider how culture faith and politics influenced the solutions offered by social housing they provide an insightful look at how social housing has evolved since the 19th century and how it will need to adapt to suit the 21st

The Routledge Companion to Architecture and Social Engagement Farhan Karim, 2018-05-11 Socially engaged architecture is a broad and emerging architectural genre that promises to redefine architecture from a market driven profession to a mix of social business altruism and activism that intends to eradicate poverty resolve social exclusion and construct an egalitarian global society The Routledge Companion to Architecture and Social Engagement offers a critical enquiry of socially engaged architecture s current context characterized by socio economic inequity climate change war increasing global poverty microfinance the evolving notion of professionalism the changing conception of public and finally the growing academic interest in re visioning the social role of architecture Organized around case studies from the United States Brazil Venezuela the United Kingdom South Africa Rwanda Burkina Faso Nigeria Nepal Pakistan Iran Thailand Germany Australia Taiwan and Japan the book documents the most important recent developments in the field By examining diverse working methods and philosophies of socially engaged architecture the handbook shows how socially engaged architecture is entangled in the global politics of poverty reconstruction of the public sphere changing role of the state charity and neoliberal urbanism The book presents debates around the issue of whether architecture actually empowers the participators and alleviates socio economic exclusion or if it instead indirectly sustains an exploitive capitalism Bringing together a range of theories and case studies this companion offers a platform to facilitate future lines of inquiry in education research and practice

problem of judgment particularly in the realm of architectural technics and the codes that regulate it The struggle to define sustainability and thus judge architecture through such lenses is but one dimension of the contemporary problem of judgment By providing the reader with an inherently interdisciplinary study of a particular discipline architecture it brings to the topic lenses that challenge the too frequently unexamined assumptions of the discipline By situating architecture within a broader cultural field and using case studies to dissect the issues discussed the book emphasizes that it is not simply a matter of designing better more efficient or more stringent codes to guide place making but a matter of reconstructing the boundaries of the systems to be coded The authors are winners of the EDRA Place Research Award 2014 for their work on the Green Alley Demonstration Project used in the book Educating Citizen Designers in South Africa Elmarie Costandius, Herman Botes, 2018-09-07 Educating Citizen Designers in South Africa is the first book of its kind to appear in post apartheid South Africa and it is therefore both overdue and extremely welcome The book aims at sharing critical citizenship design teaching and learning pedagogies by including contributions from a range of design educators and one student who work in different design disciplines such as architecture graphic and product design Critical citizenship education is explicated in relation to a range of theories and new and existing models Numerous contemporary case studies and examples of design projects from a range of South African Higher Education Institutions are included As such a variety of perspectives emerge including the consensual where the aim of critical citizenship education is viewed as promoting social justice shared values and critical thinking to the conflicting where critiques are levelled against conceptions of critical citizenship education Contentious contesting and contradictory views are inevitable and necessary given the South African context as it is only in open debate that the one point of agreement among the authors the need for social change can be worked towards Prof Deirdre Pretorius University of Johannesburg

The Designer's Field Guide to Collaboration Caryn Brause, 2016-11-18 The Designer's Field Guide to Collaboration provides practitioners and students with the tools necessary to collaborate effectively with a wide variety of partners in an increasingly socially complex and technology driven design environment Beautifully illustrated with color images the book draws on the expertise of top professionals in the allied fields of architecture landscape architecture engineering and construction management and brings to bear research from diverse disciplines such as software development organizational behavior and outdoor leadership training Chapters examine emerging and best practices for effective team building structuring workflows enhancing communication managing conflict and developing collective vision all to ensure the highest standards of design excellence Case studies detail and reflect on the collaborative processes used to create award winning projects by Studio Gang Perkins Will Tod Williams Billie Tsien Architects Partners Gensler CDR Studio Mahlum Architects In Site Architecture and Thornton Tomasetti's Core Studio The book also provides pragmatic ideas and formal exercises for brainstorming productively evaluating ideas communicating effectively and offering feedback By emphasizing the productive influence and creative possibilities of collaboration within the changing landscape of architectural production the book proposes how these practices can be taught in architecture school and expanded in practice In a changing world that presents increasingly complex challenges optimizing these collaborative skills will prove not only necessary but crucial to the process of creating advanced architecture

The Ethics of a Potential Urbanism Camillo Boano, 2016-11-25 The Ethics of a Potential Urbanism explores the possible and potential relevance of Giorgio Agamben's political thoughts and writings for the theory and the practice of architecture and urban design It sketches out the potentiality of Agamben's politics which can affect change in current architectural and design discourses The book investigates the possibility of an inoperative architecture as an ethical shift for a different practice just a little bit different but able to deactivate the sociospatial dispositive and mobilize a new theory and a new project for the urban now to come This particular reading from Agamben's oeuvre suggests a destituent mode of both thinking and practicing of architecture and urbanism that could possibly redeem them from their social emptiness cultural irrelevance economic reductionism and proto avant garde extravagance contributing to a renewed critical encounter with architecture's aesthetic political function

Architecture in an Age of Uncertainty Benjamin Flowers, 2016-04-15 In the past two decades economic bubbles inflated and architectural spending around the globe reached fever pitch In both well established centers of capital accumulation and far flung locales audacious building projects sprang up while the skyscraper heretofore more commonly associated with American capitalism seemed as if it might pack up and relocate to Dubai and Shanghai Of course much has changed in the past couple of years In formerly free spending Dubai the tallest building in the world is now is named after the president of Abu Dhabi after he stepped in with last minute debt financing In cities across the United States housing prices have nose dived and cleared lots sit ready for commercial redevelopment that likely won't take place for another decade Similar stories are not hard to find in many other nations Architecture firms that swelled in flush days are jettisoning employees at a startling rate In the context of economic instability and its attendant social and political consequences this edited volume brings together scholars critics and architects to discuss the present state of uncertainty in the practice and discipline of architecture The chapters are organized into three main areas of inquiry economics practice and technology Within this larger framework authors explore issues of security ecological design disaster architecture the future of architectural practice and the ethical obligations of the social practice of design In doing so it argues that this period has actually afforded architecture a valuable moment of self reflection where alternative directions for both the theory and practice of architecture might be explored rather than continuing with an approach which was so nurtured by capitalist prosperity and affluence

Understanding Campus-Community Partnerships in Conflict Zones Dalya Yafa Markovich, Daphna Golan, Nadera Shalhoub-Kevorkian, 2019-05-17 This book explores the opportunities and limitations of campus community partnerships in Israel In a conflict ridden society with a struggling civic culture the chapters examine partnerships at ten academic institutions focusing on the micro processes through which these partnerships work from the perspectives of students NGOs and disadvantaged communities The editors and contributors analyse the range of strategies and cultural repertoires used to construct maintain negotiate and resist the various partnerships Evaluating the various challenges raised by campus community partnerships exposes the institutional and epistemological divides between academia and the community and thus offers valuable insights into the ways partnerships can contribute to transformative change in conflict zones This book will be of interest and value to researchers and students of campus community partnerships as well as the anthropology of inclusion exclusion and civic culture Feminist Practices Lori A.

Brown,2016-04-15 Women continue to be extremely under represented in the architectural profession Despite equal numbers of male and female students entering architectural studies there is at least 17 25% attrition of female students and not all remaining become practicing architects In both the academic and the professional fields of architecture positions of power and authority are almost entirely male and as such the profession is defined by a heterosexual Eurasian male perspective This book argues that it is vital for all architectural students and practitioners to be exposed to a diversity of contemporary architectural practices as this might provide a first step into broadening awareness and transforming architectural engagement It considers the relationships between feminist methodologies and the various approaches toward design and their impact upon our understanding and relationship to the built environment In doing so this collection challenges two conventional ideas firstly the definition of architecture and secondly what constitutes a feminist practice This collection of up and coming female architects and designers use a wide range of local and global examples of their work to question different aspects of these two conventional ideas While focusing on feminist perspectives the book offers insights into many different issues concerns and interpretations of architecture proposing through these types of engagement architecture can become more culturally politically and environmentally relevant This next generation of architects claim feminism as their own and through doing so help define what feminism means and how it is evolving in the 21st century DesignBuild_Joint Contested Spaces: Abortion Clinics, Women's Shelters and Hospitals Lori A. Brown, 2016-05-13 In this book Lori Brown examines the relationship between space defined physically legally and legislatively and how these factors directly impact the spaces of abortion It analyzes how various political entities shape the physical landscapes of inclusion and exclusion to reproductive healthcare access and questions what architecture's responsibilities are in respect to this spatial conflict Employing writing drawing and mapping methodologies this interdisciplinary project explores restrictions and legislatures which directly influence abortion policy in the US Mexico and Canada It questions how these legal rulings produce spatial complexities and why architecture isn't more culturally and spatially engaged with these spaces In Mexico where abortion is fully legal only in Mexico City during the first trimester women must travel vast distances and undergo extreme conditions in order to access the procedure Conservative state governments continue to make abortion a severely punishable crime In Canada there are nowhere near the cultural and religious stigmas to abortion as in the US and Mexico Completely legal and without restrictions Canada offers an important contrast to the ongoing abortion issues within the US and Mexico Researching the spatial implications of such a politicized space this book expands beyond a study of abortion clinic and includes other spaces such as women's shelters and hospitals that require multiple levels of secured spaces in order to discuss the spatial ramifications of access and security within spaces that are highly personal private and sometimes secret or even hidden In questioning what architecture's responsibility is in these spatial conflicts the book looks at how what architecture does can be used to reconsider the spaces and security around such contested places and ultimately suggests what design's potential impact might be In doing so it shows how architecture's role might be redefined within social and spatial practices

Everyday Youth Cultures in the Gulf Peninsula Emanuela Buscemi, Ildiko Kaposi, 2020-11-29 Focusing on the struggles of youth in the Arabian Gulf to find their place in their encounters with modernity Everyday Youth Cultures in the Gulf Peninsula explores how global forces are reshaping everyday cultural experiences in authoritarian societies A deeper understanding of Gulf youth emerges from reading about the everyday lives and struggles opportunities and contributions of youth who in the process of developing their personal identities are also incrementally transforming their societies and cultures Based on ethnographic fieldwork in Kuwait Oman Saudi Arabia the UAE and Qatar the chapters bring fresh insight into Gulf youth microcultures from the ground and invite dialogue by engaging young local and foreign academics in the discussion In light of the general difficulties of accessing Gulf societies the book's nuanced richly detailed depictions of everyday life can be of interest to academic research in Middle East studies youth sociology political science and anthropology as well as to business and governmental decision making

Designed for Habitat David Hinson, Justin Miller, 2013-05-07 If you're looking for ways to give back to your community then this book the first to profile thirteen projects designed and built by architects and Habitat for Humanity will help Detailed plans sections and photographs show you how these projects came about the strategies used by each team to approach the design and construction process and the obstacles they overcame to realize a successful outcome The lessons and insights presented here will aid you whether you're an architect architecture student Habitat affiliate leader or an affordable housing advocate Located all across the United States these projects represent the full spectrum of Habitat for Humanity affiliates from large urban affiliates to small rural programs These cases illustrate a broad range of innovative approaches to energy performance alternative construction strategies and responses to site context And each house demonstrates that design quality need not fall victim to the rigorous imperatives of cost delivery and financing
