Michael Molloy's multi-dimensional examination of religions combined with Connect Religion's skills-based activities provides an intimate learning experience for students. Experiencing the World's Religions integrated program supports today's students and provides skills that extend beyond the Introduction to Religion course, engaging both non-majors and majors in the subject. The goal of the 6th edition is to better meet the Introduction to Religion course challenges of building student engagement, developing critical analysis skills, and building writing skills. The 6th edition of Experiencing the World's Religions continues to include primary sources, current examples, and coverage of women to ensure students are introduced to unfamiliar religions in ways that are accessible, inviting, and intriguing. Experiencing these concepts and cultures is the hallmark of Michael Molloy's approach. His pedagogy and activities are now fully integrated and assessable within Connect Religion to make for an increased understanding of the most important and memorable elements of each religion. Writing activities in Connect Religion tied to chapter narrative offer students the chance to develop their critical analysis skills and put their informed opinions on religion into writing. Bringing Good Even Out of Evil B. Kyle Keltz, 2022-11-01 The question of whether the existence of evil in the world is compatible with the existence of an all knowing all powerful all good God has been debated for centuries Many have addressed classical arguments from evil and while recent scholarship in analytic philosophy of religion has produced newer formulations of the problem most of these newer formulations rely on a conception of God that is not held by all theists In Bringing Good Even Out of Evil Thomism and the Problem of Evil B Kyle Keltz defends classical theism against contemporary problems of evil through the philosophy of Thomas Aquinas and his interpreters Keltz discusses Aquinas's thought on God evil and what kind of world God would make then turns to contemporary problems of evil and shows how they miss the mark when it comes to classical theism Some of the newer formulations that the book considers include James Sterba's argument from the Pauline principle J L Schellenberg's divine hiddenness argument Stephen Law's evil god challenge and Nick

Trakakis's anti-theodicy Jesus: The Path to Human Flourishing I'Ching Thomas, 2018-02-01 Though the Christian faith is believed to have reached the shores of China way back in the 8th century it is still generally perceived as a foreign or Western religion to many Cultural Chinese. How does this perception of Christianity as a foreign approach to spirituality advance or hinder our mission of making Cultural Chinese disciples of Christ? Has this negative reputation of the Christian faith changed today among Mainland Chinese? While the church in China has grown exponentially in the last few decades the question still remains: can we find common ground between the Christian faith and the Chinese culture? What about Diaspora Chinese globally? Is it truly the case that Jesus and his teachings are alien to the Cultural Chinese mind? This book seeks to present the Gospel in a way that seamlessly corresponds with Confucius's ideals for humanity but with a realistic solution. This means a Cultural Chinese can be a follower of Christ without having to shed his ethnic identity. In fact, by choosing the path of Jesus, the uniqueness of one's culture and ethnicity is affirmed as the Lord of Heaven is the Creator of all. There will be no identity dilemma; one can be a Chinese and a Christian with honor. Thinking Nature McGrath Sean J. McGrath, 2020-05-28 Moving between ancient and modern sources, philosophy and theology and science and popular culture, Sean McGrath offers a genuinely new reflection on what it means to be human in an era of climate change, mass extinction, and geoengineering. Engaging with contemporary thinkers in eco-criticism including Timothy Morton, Bruno Latour, and Slavoj Žižek, McGrath argues for a distinctive role for the human being in the universe: the human being is nature come to full consciousness. McGrath's compelling case for a new Anthropocene humanism is founded on a reverence for nature, a humanism that is not at the expense of nature and a naturalism that is not at the expense of the human. Sacro-Egoism John S. Knox, 2016-05-10 Sacro Egoism: The Rise of Religious Individualism in the West discusses the relationship between secularization, participation in religious practices and belief, and the emergence of radical individualized expressions of faith in the West. Using McMinnville, Oregon, as a case study, it presents the data collected and analyzed from several churches, denominations, and spiritual settings in that unassuming town and compares it to the results of Heelas and Woodhead's Spiritual Revolution project, arriving at a provocative conclusion: Rather than abandoning Christianity for alternative spirituality practices, McMinnville citizens still feel strongly about their Christian faith, taking their spiritual walk to a more personal level than ever before in church history. Utilizing both quantitative and qualitative research along with personal stories of faith and exploration from McMinnville residents themselves, Sacro Egoism: The Rise of Religious Individualism in the West tells a story of radical individualists who have become the highest religious authority in their lives, even over the church, the Bible, and traditional Christian society. The Legacy of Wilfred Cantwell Smith Ellen Bradshaw Aitken (1961-2014), Arvind Sharma, 2017-03-15 First work to address the legacy of Wilfred Cantwell Smith and his influence on the development of religious studies and Islamic studies in the twentieth century. This is the first work to address the legacy of Wilfred Cantwell Smith, 1916-2000, whose intellectual and institutional contributions helped shape the field of religious studies in the latter half of the twentieth century As a young scholar Smith taught Indian and Islamic history in Lahore for several years and witnessed the partition of India Upon his return to North America he obtained his PhD at Princeton University before embarking upon a long and distinguished career He founded the Institute of Islamic Studies at McGill University and served as director of the Center for the Study of World Religions at Harvard University Smith emphasized the place of the scholarly study of Islam in the Western academy long before Islam occupied its current position at the center of global politics challenged the notion of monolithic world religions and argued for the importance of dialogical processes and a personalist approach to the study of religion Contributors to this volume many of whom were Smith s students provide a wide ranging exploration of his influence and legacy

Light from Light Judith L. Corey,2016-12-01 Cosmology and theology share a long held relationship with one another explaining as they do the constitution of the world and the interaction of forces The author explores the history of this relationship from ancient pre scientific and theological explanations through to contemporary science and philosophy In this history a particular problem is highlighted by the author the prevalence of dualism from Aristotelian philosophy to modern mechanistic conceptions many of these accounts presume a sharp absolute dichotomy between matter and spirit and the material world and the divine Increasingly dualistic conceptions are called into question by contemporary science theology and philosophy The author argues that a particular trajectory stemming from Greek Heraclitian and Platonic philosophy to non orthodox and early Christian theologies provides a fruitful resource for contemporary discussions This is the Logos theology and its attendant language of light The author brings this tradition into dialogue with contemporary science and theology to construct an integrative account
