Explaining Social Processes Charles Tilly, 2015-12-03 Built upon decades of experience at the frontiers of history and social science Charles Tilly's newest book offers innovative methods and approaches that are applicable in a wide range of disciplines politics sociology anthropology history economics and more The book covers approaches to analysis ranging from interpersonal exchanges to world historical changes economic political and social He shows how a thoroughgoing relational account of social processes coupled with the careful identification of causal mechanisms illuminates variation and change in the ways people live at the small scale and the large Power, Networks and Violent Conflict in Central Asia Idil

Tunçer-Kılavuz, 2014-06-27 When the five Central Asian republics gained independence from the Soviet Union in 1991 expectations of violent conflict were widespread Indeed the country of Tajikistan suffered a five year civil war from 1992 to 1997 The factors that the literature on civil wars in general and on the Tajikistan civil war in particular cites as the causes of war were also present in Uzbekistan but this country had a peaceful transition Examining this empirical puzzle by isolating the crucial factors that caused war to break out in Tajikistan but not Uzbekistan this book applies a powerful comparative approach to the broader question of why civil wars occur Based on fieldwork in both countries it challenges many common explanations of civil war both generally and in Tajikistan in particular This includes highlighting the importance of elites power perceptions which have their origins in the interaction of structural process and network related variables Without examining these interactions macro structural explanations alone cannot explain the occurrence of civil war in one country and its absence in another Applying the insights of bargaining theories of war from the literature on international relations to the civil war in Tajikistan this book will be of interest to students of violent conflict civil wars Central Asia and Asian Politics

Transforming the War on Drugs Annette Idler, Juan Carlos Garzón Vergara, 2021-12-01 The war on drugs has failed but consensus in the international drug policy debate on the way forward is missing Amidst this moment of uncertainty militarized lenses on the global illicit drug problem continue to neglect the complexity of the causes and consequences that this war is intended to defend or defeat Challenging conventional thinking in defense and security sectors Transforming the War on Drugs constitutes the first comprehensive and systematic effort to theoretically conceptually and empirically investigate the impacts of the war on drugs The contributors trace the consequences of the war on drugs across vulnerable regions including South America and Central America West Africa the Middle East and the Golden Crescent the Golden Triangle and Russia It demonstrates that these consequences are global The war's local impacts on human rights security development and public health are interdependent with transnational illicit flows The book further reveals how these impacts have influenced the positions of governments across these regions with significant ramifications for the international drug control regime Crucially it shows that at a time when global order is in flux critically evaluating the regime's securitization through the war on drugs provides key insights into other global governance realms Why? Charles Tilly, 2006 Why is a book about the explanations we give and how we give them a fascinating look at the way the reasons we offer every day are dictated by and help constitute social relationships Written in an easy to read style by distinguished social historian Charles Tilly the book explores the manner in which people claim establish negotiate repair rework or terminate relations with others through the reasons they give Tilly examines a number of different types of reason giving For example he shows how an air traffic controller would explain the near miss of two aircraft in several different ways depending upon the intended audience for an acquaintance at a cocktail party he might shrug it off by saying This happens all the time or offer a chatty colloquial rendition of what transpired for a colleague at work he would venture a longer more technical explanation and for a formal report for his division head he would provide an exhaustive detailed account Tilly demonstrates that reasons fall into four different categories Convention I m sorry I spilled my coffee I m such a klutz Narratives My friend betrayed me because she was jealous of my sister Technical cause effect accounts A short circuit in the ignition system caused the engine rotors to fail Codes or workplace jargon We can t turn over the records We re bound by statute 369 Tilly illustrates his topic by showing how a variety of people gave reasons for the 9 11 attacks He also demonstrates how those who work with one sort of reason frequently convert it into another sort For example a doctor might understand an illness using the technical language of biochemistry but explain it to his patient who knows nothing of biochemistry by using conventions and stories Replete with sparkling anecdotes about everyday social experiences including the author s own Why makes the case for stories as one of the great human inventions
