

Introduction

Confirmation is one the sacraments that is not very well understood among many Catholics. For some, the need for it comes only when the child enrolls in a Catholic school or when a couple needs the certificate of confirmation upon application for marriage. But pitifully enough, the need is mostly about the certificate requisite and not the merit of the sacrament.

Understandably, the lack of knowledge of the sacrament of confirmation, like any other sacrament, is mainly due to the dearth of catechesis in most parishes. But while the parish is the center to catechetical formation, it does not free the parents, godparents, and lay leaders from the duty of explaining the faith to others. The Second Plenary Council of the Philippines (PCP-II) decreed thus: "Lay faithful and particularly lay leaders should acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to defend and explain the faith to others." (Art 44, #3)

It is in this light that the members of the Knights of Columbus are also called to the work of catechesis. Admittedly, formation or catechesis has been one of the weakest link of the Order of the Knights of Columbus in the Philippines. Such spiritual formation is barely enough to know the rudiments of the faith. A continuing catechesis is necessary.

The Father George J. Willmann Series is only one of the modest ways in helping the members of the Order get acquainted with the Church's teachings. A joint project of the Father George J. Willmann Charities, Inc. and the KC Priests-Scholars Association, we hope that this series will be disseminated in every council throughout the three State Jurisdictions in the Philippines.
