Conflict And Development Routledge Perspectives On Development:

Conflict and Development Andrew J. Williams, Roger Macginty, 2016-02-19 In the five years since the first edition of Conflict and Development was published the awareness of the relationship between conflicts and development has grown exponentially Developmental factors can act as a trigger for violence as well as for ending violence and for triggering post conflict reconstruction The book explores the complexity of the links between violent conflict usually civil wars and development under development and uneven development The second edition incorporates significant changes in the field including the G7 initiative the New Deal on Fragile States World Trade talks major policy documents from the UNDP and World Bank and updates on the Afghanistan and Iraq wars

International Perspectives on Youth Conflict and Development Colette Daiute, Zeynep F. Beykont, Craig Higson-Smith, Larry Nucci, 2006-03-30 The volume aims to shift the foundation of youth conflict study from the more typical focus on maturation behavior and personality to a characterization of youth as participants in society It also expands the analysis of youth development to include societal problems such as political instability unequal access to material resources racism and social injustice Offering new insights about the interdependent spheres of conflict involving young people this groundbreaking international compilation describes processes of a violent world rather than of violent youth

Conflict and Development Andrew J. Williams, Alasdair Gordon-Gibson, 2024-09-26 Fully revised and updated in its third edition this timely book brings together the study of conflict and war and the problems surrounding the economic development of developing societies that are most prone to experiencing problems in moving on after war The book does so by reflecting on the issues surrounding war as it unfolds and after it has in principle ended within the context of the history present day problems and future prospects The book aims to highlight the possibilities successes and failures of past and present policies that bring development to countries and peoples that want to be more involved in deciding their own futures after conflict and war and often find themselves subject to what can be seen as arbitrary and even alien ways of thinking and acting by institutions in which they theoretically have membership and agency but often do not in practice The case studies have been fully updated to reflect changes and developments since the second edition of this text and there are questions at the end of each chapter to promote reflection This new edition presents a deeper dive into the history of conflict and the emergence of new theories and policy guidance about present and future options in the fields of conflict and development Accessible and engaging this textbook is a pivotal resource for a nexus of subjects related to the often separated fields of conflict and development studies as well as practitioners in this area

Conflict and Development Andrew J. Williams, Alasdair Gordon-Gibson, 2024-09-26 Fully revised and updated in its third edition this timely book brings together the study of conflict and war and the problems surrounding economic development of developing societies who are most prone to experiencing problems in moving on after war

Theories and Practices of Development Katie Willis, 2011-02-25 Global economic crisis and the implications of global environmental change have led academics and policy makers to consider how development in all parts of the world should be achieved. However, development has always been a contested idea. While often presented as a positive process to improve people's lives, the potential negative dimensions of development on people and environments must also be recognized. Theories and Practices of Development provides a clear and user-friendly introduction to the complex debates around how development has been understood and achieved. The second edition has been fully updated and expanded to reflect global political and economic shifts as well as new approaches to development. The rise of China and India is given particular attention, as is the global economic crisis and its implications for development theories and practice. There are new sections on faith-based development and the development dimensions of climate change as well as greater engagement with development theories as they are put into practice in the Global North. The book deals with the evolution of development ideas and policies focusing on economic, political, social, environmental, and spatial dimensions. It highlights how development cannot be considered as a neutral concept but is entwined with inequalities in power at local as well as national and global scales. The use of boxed examples, tables, and illustrations helps students understand complex theoretical ideas and also demonstrates how development theories are put into practice in the real world. Each chapter ends with a summary section, discussion topics, suggestions for further reading, and website resources.

Development Perspectives from the South Mawere, Munyaradzi, 2016-12-14. Not so long ago The Economist described Africa as a hopeless continent. This damning description specifically referred to the development status of Africa. While the debate on the political and socio-economic underdevelopment of Africa had been raging on prior to The Economist's daring but controversial pronouncements, it intensified from thereon. Many concerned people from within the continent and elsewhere have reproved the proclamation but mainly in newspapers and the broadcast media. Not enough has been done by development scholars to critically reflect on the description and status of Africa's development condition in a nuanced and systematic fashion. Yet it is through incisive reflections and systematic engagements with Africa's situations and circumstances that directions and solutions to the African development predicament could be forged. The present volume is an attempt to open up a constructive dialogue between the Global North and the Global South on the African underdevelopment conundrum. The book is an eye opener to African governments, social scientists, policy makers, and development scholars concerned with the urgent need to rethink, reimagine, and retheorise Africa's development gridlock.

A Micro-Level Perspective on the Dynamics of Conflict, Violence, and Development Patricia Justino, Tilman Brück, Philip Verwimp, 2013-12-12. This volume presents an innovative new analytical framework for understanding the dynamics of violent conflict and its impact on people and communities living in contexts of violence. Bringing together the findings of MICROCON, an influential five-year research programme funded by the European Commission, this book provides readers with the most current and comprehensive evidence available on violent conflict from a micro-level perspective. MICROCON was the largest programme on conflict analysis in Europe from 2007

2011 and its policy outreach has helped to influence EU development policy and supported policy capacity in many conflict affected countries Whilst traditional studies into conflict have been through an international regional lens with the state as the primary unit of analysis the micro level perspective offered by this volume places the individuals households groups and communities affected by conflict at the centre of analysis Studying how people behave in groups and communities and how they interact with the formal and informal institutions that manage local tensions is crucial to understanding the conflict cycle These micro foundations therefore provide a more in depth analysis of the causes and consequences of violent conflict By challenging the ways we think about conflict this book bridges the gap in evidence allowing for more specific and accurate policy interventions for conflict resolution and development processes to help reduce poverty in the lives of those affected by conflict This volume is divided into four parts Part I introduces the conceptual framework of MICROCON Part II focuses on individual and group motivations in conflict processes Part III highlights the micro level consequences of violent conflict The final section of this volume focuses on policy implications and future research agenda

Peacebuilding, Conflict and Community Development John Eversley, Sinéad Gormally, Avila Kilmurray, 2022-11-28 This trailblazing book gives practical examples from the Global North and Global South on communities alleviating conflict and enabling transformation in divided societies

Conflict and Development Mark Adams, Mark Bradbury, 1995 Illustrated with extracts from case studies on the work of ACORD in Africa this paper draws together current thinking on the causes and impacts of conflict It suggests a series of questions which aid organizations working in situations of armed conflict

The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Peace and Conflict Studies Oliver P. Richmond, Gözim Visoka, 2022-06-21 This encyclopaedia provides a comprehensive overview of major theories and approaches to the study of peace and conflict across different humanities and social sciences disciplines Peace and conflict studies PCS is one of the major sub disciplines of international studies including political science and international relations and has emerged from a need to understand war related systems and concepts and how to respond to it afterward As a living reference work easily discoverable and searchable the Palgrave Encyclopedia of Peace and Conflict Studies offers solid material for understanding the foundational historical and contemporary themes concepts theories events organisations and frameworks concerning peace conflict security rights institutions and development The Palgrave Encyclopaedia of Peace and Conflict Studies brings together leading and emerging scholars from different disciplines to provide the most comprehensive and up to date resource on peace and conflict studies ever produced

Understanding Development Paul Hopper, 2018-03-02 Understanding Development offers a comprehensive introduction to the multidimensional and evolving nature of international development in the contemporary world This new edition has been fully revised and expanded to incorporate the key events trends and debates that are shaping development today such as humanitarianism and the global refugee crisis the growing number of fragile states and the contested nature of trade and trade deals Building on the book s original framework the second edition also includes three new chapters which explore development in relation to global policy formation focusing on the end of the UN Millennium Development Goals in 2015 and the start of the UN Sustainable Development Goals which will run until 2030 Designed to offer something different to the standard introductions to the topic this issues driven text examines the debates that have generated the most interest and passion among practitioners and non practitioners alike Always attentive to the contested and plural nature of the field it makes the case for a genuinely interdisciplinary approach which takes full account of the impact of globalization Both wide ranging and critical Understanding Development is the essential student guide to one of the most challenging subjects of our age

Arts-based Research in Global Development Vicki-Ann Ware, Kirsten Sadeghi-Yekta, Tim Prentki, Wasim al Kurdi, 2025-02-03 This book brings together a range of arts and development scholars and practitioners to explore the unique ways in which arts based research methods can make a unique positive contribution to effective global development practice Since the 1970s global development has witnessed an increase in the use of participatory approaches to enable the world s most excluded peoples to be actively involved in the planning and implementation of development projects that impact them A range of participatory practices are now in common use many of which use visual activities which enable fuller participation irrespective of literacy levels or social position More recently development practitioners with arts skills along with a small number of professionally trained artists have started engaging in a wider range of arts based practices within this participatory development space aimed at co creating new knowledge with these communities This book explores how the performing and visual arts provide spaces for the world s most marginalised communities to articulate their development aspirations and co create knowledge that contributes to development outcomes It also highlights how arts based research puts the power over development decisions back into the hands of recipient communities The book will be of interest to development practitioners and artists working with marginalised communities globally policymakers in arts and global development graduate students and academics The rich case studies provide many fresh ideas for arts and or development practitioners wanting to utilise arts based research particularly with performing arts in global development programming

Thinking about Development Bjorn Hettne, 2009-10-15 This book is a concise and accessible introduction to development thinking contemporary development theory and practice and a critical analysis of the values that lie behind them Hettne argues that schools of development thinking should be historically contextualized not presented as evolving towards a universal theory The book will present development as an essentially contested concept that has meant a number of things at various times to different people in different places Focusing on historical discourses from the initial colonial encounters through to the modern day Hettne draws the connections between the enlightenment belief in progress through to the more recent focus on the Millennium Development Goals The first volume in the Development Matters series this book provides the key frame for the series as a whole enabling readers to locate texts on themes such as environmental justice technology and development learning within a broader historical conceptual and political context than the immediate policy and output needs of neoliberalism Informal Order and the State in Afghanistan Jennifer Brick Murtazashvili, 2016-04-21 Despite vast efforts to build the state profound political order in rural Afghanistan is maintained by self governing customary organizations Informal Order and the State in Afghanistan explores the rules governing these organizations to explain why they can provide public goods Instead of withering during decades of conflict customary authority adapted to become more responsive and deliberative Drawing on hundreds of interviews and observations from dozens of villages across Afghanistan and statistical analysis of nationally representative surveys Jennifer Brick Murtazashvili demonstrates that such authority enhances citizen support for democracy enabling the rule of law by providing citizens with a bulwark of defence against predatory state officials Contrary to conventional wisdom it shows that traditional order does not impede the development of the state because even the most independent minded communities see a need for a central government but question its effectiveness when it attempts to rule them directly and without substantive consultation Renewing Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Ian Livingstone, D. G. R. Belshaw, 2002 After two decades of economic reform programmes the majority of countries in Sub Saharan Africa still face the challenge of renewing the development progress that they were achieving in the 1960s and early 1970s Promising beginnings in the post independence countries ended in economic collapse in the 1980s This led to stabilization and structural adjustment reforms but these have had disappointing results in most of the countries that applied them In addition local scale inter country conflicts and internal strife within the region and post war complications have generated new problems This volume reviews the ensuing debates and brings together specialist contributions to provide a clear guide to the major complexities of African development A foundation is laid for designing a range of individual country specific policy sets in which the strategic components are prioritized according to each country s constraints and opportunities Climate Change, Disasters, Sustainability Transition and Peace in the Anthropocene Hans Günter Brauch, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Andrew E. Collins, Serena Eréndira Serrano Oswald, 2018-09-14 This book provides insight into Anthropocene related studies by IPRA s Ecology and Peace Commission The first three chapters discuss the linkage between disasters and conflict risk reduction responses to socio environmental disasters in high intensity conflict scenarios and the fragile state of disaster response with a special focus on aid state society relations in post conflict settings The two following chapters analyse climate smart agriculture and a sustainable food system for a sustainable engendered peace and the ethnology of select indigenous cultural resources for climate change adaptation focusing on the responses of the Abagusii in Kenya A specific case study focuses on social representations and the family as a social institution in transition in Mexico while the last chapter deals with sustainable peace through sustainability transition as transformative science concluding with a peace ecology perspective for the Anthropocene Advanced Introduction to Law and Development Mariana M. Prado, Michael J. Trebilcock, 2021-05-28 In this thoroughly revised and updated second edition Mariana Mota Prado and Michael J Trebilcock offer a succinct and readable introduction to the main concepts and debates in the field of law and development They examine the role of legal systems and institutions investigate perceptions around what laws and legal arrangements encourage and facilitate development and probe the issues arising in both private law and public law as well as in international economic relations Written with the insight of two top experts in the field this Advanced Introduction covers the most recent trends in law and development research and highlights areas that remain underexplored

Tourism Collaboration and Partnerships Bill Bramwell, Bernard Lane, 2000-05-02 The central importance of involving diverse stakeholders in effective sustainable tourism planning and management is increasingly recognised Collaboration and partnerships are valuable ways of achieving this Leading researchers and practitioners examine the processes issues and politics involved in this new and fast growing field Case studies are taken from Europe the Americas Australia and the Arctic

Development-Induced Displacement and Resettlement Bogumil Terminski, 2014-05-01 This book explores the issue of development induced resettlement with a particular emphasis on the humanitarian legal and social aspects of this problem Today so called development induced displacement and resettlement DIDR is one of the dominant causes of internal spatial mobility worldwide Each year over 15 million people are forced to abandon their homes to make space for economic development infrastructure The construction of dams and irrigation projects the expansion of communication networks urbanization and re urbanization the extraction and transportation of mineral resources forced evictions in urban areas and population redistribution schemes count among the many possible causes Terminski aims to present the issue of development caused displacement as a highly diverse global social problem occurring in all regions of the world As a human rights issue it poses a challenge to public international law and to institutions providing humanitarian assistance A significant part of this book is devoted to the current dynamics of development caused resettlement in Europe which has been neglected in the academic literature so far

Effective Development Co-operation Debapriya Bhattacharya, Towfiqul Islam Khan, Najeeba Mohammed Altaf, 2025-08-28 This book considers how development cooperation principles and practices can be made more inclusive and impactful Amplifying voices from across the global south the book combines key thematic discussions with new case studies spanning three continents and three key sectors agriculture education and social protection Global governance is at a crossroads and modalities of foreign aid delivery are under stress as international development cooperation continues to lose political traction in provider countries Presenting a novel and nuanced understanding of the dynamics shaping the global development landscape this book considers the strategic issues influencing development partnerships and outcomes It consolidates cross country policy insights from the global south based on sectoral experiences shaped by contextual realities The authors adapt the Moderator Mediator framework as a means of examining the contextual factors shaping development partnerships and consequently leading to successful development outcomes in a specific sector at the country level This book holds special relevance in the current political climate where the future of development financing is increasingly contested Global development researchers and students will benefit from the book s ingenious blending of sector specific insights and broader discussions of the themes underpinning contemporary development cooperation debates
