Rural Revitalization Through State-led Programs Mingrui Shen, 2020-02-06 This book seeks to unravel the changes in rural governance sparked by state led programs evaluate the programs implementation and refine the interpretation of governance theory with new empirical material from rural China When it comes to rural issues in contemporary China there is no shortage of national strategies from Coordinating Urban Rural Development in 2003 to Rural Revitalization in 2017 the rejuvenation of the countryside has attracted unprecedented policy interest At the same time rural governance has been subject to significant political social and economic changes However comparatively little research has been conducted on the phenomenal reconnection between the state and rural society and our previous understanding of rural governance is no longer adequate As a result of the programs a new model of governance is now emerging in rural China The programs have accelerated the formation of state private farmer partnerships while also promoting the participation of grassroots society in rural reconstruction In the initial stage the state's role is important to securing non governmental sectors engagement However this does not mean that the model guarantees sustainable governance in terms of land tenure reform infrastructure investment and subsidies the programs merely empower farmers and other stakeholders to engage in rural reconstruction The success of these reconstruction efforts ultimately depends on a suitable pricing mechanism for public goods provision as well as the self organization of grassroots society      Routledge International Handbook of Rural Studies Mark Shucksmith, David L. Brown, 2016-05-20 Rural societies around the world are changing in fundamental ways both at their own initiative and in response to external forces The Routledge International Handbook of Rural Studies examines the organisation and transformation of rural society in more developed regions of the world taking an interdisciplinary and problem focused approach Written by leading social scientists from many countries it addresses emerging issues and challenges in innovative and provocative ways to inform future policy This volume is organised around eight emerging social economic and environmental challenges Demographic change Economic transformations Food systems and land Environment and resources Changing configurations of gender and rural society Social and economic equality Social dynamics and institutional capacity Power and governance Cross cutting these challenges are the growing interdependence of rural and urban the rise in inequality within and between places the impact of fiscal crisis on rural societies neoliberalism power and agency and rural areas as potential sites of resistance The Routledge International Handbook of Rural Studies is required reading for anyone concerned with the future of rural areas

Built Heritage Preservation and Development in Chinese Ethnic Areas Qi Mu, 2025-03-13 This book discusses how rural built heritage preservation and development in the Chinese ethnic area in Tongren China has been strongly addressed by the labeling planning project making follow up management characterized by different patterns of stakeholders Moreover the rural built heritage preservation and development is an instrument of power that has been incorporated into the municipal county and lower level planning settings portraying an overall top down government led feature An intentional ladder development for the government s overall strategy of resource allocation and spatial reorganization has been identified Different patterns of stakeholders are identified This book discusses how different roles played by stakeholders tend to be inseparable and often overlapped thus forming ambiguous and difficulty controllable dynamics in shaping the rural built environment In conclusion insights have been provided based on the debates of AHD and positioning rural built heritage preservation within the public governance

Soviet Power and the Countryside N. Melvin, 2003-11-04 Drawing upon extensive archival and other original sources Soviet Power and the Countryside offers a new approach to understanding the political dynamics that led to the collapse of the Soviet order A detailed analysis of the design implementation and collapse of Soviet policy toward the countryside is used to explore the implications of a broadening of participation in the policy process from the 1960s Neil J Melvin argues that the new knowledge about rural society created as a result of this process provided the basis for a fundamental change in the nature of power relations in the Soviet order leading to the decay and eventual collapse of policy making institutions      Education for Rural Development Elliot Compton, 2019-01-29 The book provides an introductory knowledge about education extension education and agricultural extension by incorporating their definition meaning concepts objectives and principles which is basic to learners of extension education There are many challenges faced in effective Information and Communication Technology implementation for rural development Education in rural areas takes place at many different levels from multigrade primary schools to agricultural universities In many countries social change and economic development have been organized by providing not only basic education which is acknowledged as a priority but also specific training to improve techniques employed in the rural economy Furthermore recent work on social capital shows that knowledge constitutes a key element for strengthening rural communities and facilitating their adaptation to change The present book has been designed as a manual which looks into field of rural development and education with a view to enhance the reader s understanding of the educational practices and schemes      Constructing a new framework for rural development Pierluigi Milone, Flaminia Ventura, Jingzhong Ye, 2015-03-13 This book critically discusses these new practices and the actors engaged in them In doing so it deals with several countries in three different continents Asia South America and Europe It proposes new concepts and approaches for a better understanding of the re emergence of peasants as indispensable part of modern societies      Reconstituting Rurality Jonathan Murdoch, Terry Marsden, 2013-10-11 The second in the Restructuring Rural Areas series this work presents an examination of the way in which the rural and the concept of rurality is being reconstructed within urban regions It argues that the rural is not a fixed category but the outcome of political economic and socio cultural pressures These pressures are exacerbated in southeast England an area dominated by London and the patterns of growth associated with that city Through close analysis of key land development processes and a series of village studies the authors give a forceful demonstration of the way in which certain social groups are becoming increasingly influential in determining the material and social shape of rural areas in the United Kingdom The formation of class identity it is argued is closely bound up with the formation of certain local spaces class and space must be considered as combined elements in the development of rural locales To illustrate this the authors document in detail the means by which dominant groups represent themselves within the development process and show how the exclusion of certain kinds of development leads to the exclusion of certain social groups      Handbook of Research on Sub-National Governance and Development Schoburgh, Eris, Ryan, Roberta, 2016-11-30 Effective governance is a crucial aspect of all modern nations Through various collaborative efforts and processes nations can enhance their current governance systems The Handbook of Research on Sub National Governance and Development is a pivotal reference source for the latest scholarly material on the intersection between local and national politics analyzing how this relationship affects nations economy and administration Highlighting theoretical foundations and real world applications this book is ideally designed for professionals academics students and practitioners actively involved in the fields of public policy and governance      Rethinking the Region John

Allen, with Julie Charlesworth, Allan Cochrane, Gill Court, Nick Henry, Doreen Massey, Phil Sarre, 2012-12-06 Rethinking the Region argues that regions are not simply bounded spaces on a map This book uses unique research of England during the 1980s to show how regions are made and unmade by social processes The book examines how new lines of division both social and geographical were laid down as free market growth and reconstructed this are as a neo liberal region The authors argue that a more balanced form of growth is possible within and between regions as well as between social groups This book shows that to grasp the complexities of growth we must rethink the region in time as well as in space     Contested Countryside Cultures Paul Cloke, Jo Little, 2005-08-12 This book examines the other side of the countryside a place also inhabited and visited by women children teenagers the elderly gay men and lesbians black and ethnic minorities the unemployed and the poor These groups have remained largely excluded by both rural policies and the representations of rural culture The book charts the experiences of these marginalised groups and sets this exploration within the context of postmodern poststructuralist postcolonial and late feminist analysis This theoretical framework reveals how notions of the rural have been created to reflect and reinforce divisions amongst those living in the countryside
