United States Employment Service,1937 Combine Harvesters Petre Miu,2015-08-18 From Basic Fundamentals to Advanced Design ApplicationsA culmination of the author s more than 20 years of research efforts academic papers and lecture notes Combine Harvesters Theory Modeling and Design outlines the key concepts of combine harvester process theory and provides you with a complete and thorough understanding of combine harvest Agricultural mechanization and agricultural transformation Diao, Xinshen,Silver, Jed,Takeshima, Hiroyuki,2016-04-29 A renewed focus on agriculture s potential contribution to economic transformation in Africa has resulted in increased attention paid to agricultural mechanization African agriculture still relies predominantly on human muscle power despite anecdotal evidence on urbanization and rising rural wages in contrast to other developing regions that have experienced rapid increases in agricultural mechanization during the past few decades Past state led mechanization pushes in Africa often failed due to insufficient understanding of the nature of demand for mechanization technologies among farmers and insufficient knowledge of private sector functions This background paper reviews the factors likely to influence farmer demand for mechanization in Africa and details different existing and potential mechanization supply models Although an empirical analysis of mechanization demand and the effectiveness of supply chains is beyond the scope of this paper in part due to data limitations this paper suggests that demand for mechanization may be emerging in some parts of Africa It also suggests that private sector driven supply models are better positioned to meet this demand than direct government involvement and certain types of subsidized programs The paper then identifies possible areas for government support to complement private sector leadership in developing mechanization supply chains Nevertheless significant further research is required to better understand the changing nature of mechanization demand in Africa and the extent and effectiveness of different supply models in meeting it Dynamics of Transformation Hiroyuki Takeshima,Kipo Jimah,Shashidhara Kolavalli,Xinshen Diao,Rebecca Lee Funk,2013-06-21 Agriculture in African South of the Sahara SSA can be transformed if the right public support is provided at the initial stage and it can sustain itself once the enabling environment is put in place Successes are also specific to the location of projects In Ghana interesting insights are obtained from the successful Kpong Irrigation

Project KIP contrasted with other major irrigation projects in the country Through an exploratory review we describe how a productive system evolved in KIP and how public support for critical aspects accumulation of crop husbandry knowledge selection and supply of profitable varieties and mechanization of land preparation might have created a productive environment that the private sector could enter and fill in the market for credit processing mechanization of harvesting and other institutional voids that typically have constrained agricultural transformation in the rest of SSA Slower progress in other projects also raises a number of questions We conclude by summarizing those questions and some testable hypotheses for future research

A comparative assessment of combine harvesting vis-a-vis conventional harvesting and threshing in Arsi Region, Ethiopia , Agricultural mechanization services, rice productivity, and farm/plot size: Insights from Myanmar Myanmar Agriculture Policy Support Activity (MAPSA), 2023-07-27 The relationship between productivity and farm size has been at the center of considerable debate Agricultural mechanization that is rapidly taking off in a large number of low and middle income countries has been identified as one of the emerging technologies in these settings with a critical yet complex influence on this productivity size relation However knowledge gaps remain as how agricultural transformation due to the adoption of new technologies and the change in factor costs such as mechanization fees are associated with this productivity size relation In the case of Myanmar where mechanization use has dramatically increased over the last decade we find a significant inverse productivity plot size relationship with small rice plots having productivity levels approximately 30 percent higher than large plots However rising mechanization fees more so in conflict affected townships attenuated this inverse relation between rice productivity yield and profit per land and plot size substantially These results primarily hold on the largest rice plot cultivated by each farmer but also generally hold when comparing total rice area and major non rice area Our results are likely explained by the fact that in Myanmar smallholders have become more dependent on mechanization services than larger farms who can rely on their own machines do that alternatives to mechanization services have become scarce as mechanization use changed little despite these price increases and that mechanization service costs account for a significant share of the total production costs among smallholders
