E Research Collaboration E Research Collaboration:

e-Research Collaboration Murugan Anandarajan, 2010-07-01 Research 2.0 is now a critical component in research management. This book describes how Web 2.0 technologies can help researchers collaborate. It contains examples of web portals including MyNetResearch and discusses critical aspects of research management. Collaborative and Distributed E-Research: Innovations in Technologies, Strategies and Applications Juan, Angel A., Daradoumis, Thanasis, Roca, Meritxell, Grasman, Scott E., Faulin, J., 2012-02-29 This book offers insight into practical and methodological issues related to collaborative e research and furthers readers understanding of current and future trends in online research and the types of technologies involved. Provided by publisher. E-Collaboration: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Kock, Ned, 2009-05-31 This set addresses a range of e collaboration topics through advanced research chapters authored by an international partnership of field experts. Provided by publisher. Advancing Collaborative Knowledge Environments: New Trends in E-Collaboration Kock, Ned, 2011-12-31 This book discusses the latest findings in knowledge intensive collaborative environments focusing on frameworks and solutions for improving collaboration online. Provided by publisher. Handbook of Research on Electronic Collaboration and Organizational Synergy Salmons, Janet, Wilson, Lynn, 2008-11-30 Offers exhaustive research on collaborations in education, business and the government and social sectors. Demystifying eResearch Victoria Martin, 2014-10-17 eResearch presents new challenges in managing data. This book explains to librarians and other information specialists what eResearch is, how it impacts library services and collections, and how to contribute to eResearch activities at their parent institutions. Today's librarians need to be technology savvy information experts who understand how to manage datasets. Demystifying eResearch: A Primer for Librarians prepares librarians for careers that involve eResearch, clearly defining what it is and how it impacts library services and collections, explaining key terms and concepts, and explaining the importance of the field. You will come to understand exactly how the use of networked computing technologies enhances and supports collaboration and innovative methods, particularly in scientific research. Learn about eResearch library initiatives and best practices and recognize the professional development opportunities that eResearch offers. This book takes the broad approach to the complex topic of eResearch and how it pertains to the library community, providing an introduction that will be accessible to readers without a background in electronic research. The author presents a conceptual overview of eResearch with real world examples of electronic research activities to quickly increase your familiarity with eResearch and awareness of the current state of eResearch librarianship. World Wide Research William H. Dutton, Paul W. Jeffreys, 2010 Advances in information and communication technology are transforming the way scholarly research is conducted across all disciplines. The use of increasingly powerful and versatile computer based and networked systems promises to change research activity as profoundly as the mobile phone, the Internet and email have changed everyday life. This book offers a comprehensive and accessible view of the use of these new approaches called e Research and their ethical legal and institutional implications The contributors leading scholars from a range of disciplines focus on how e Research is reshaping not only how research is done but also and more important its outcomes By anchoring their discussion in specific examples and case studies they identify and analyze a promising set of practical developments and results associated with e Research innovations The contributors who include Geoffrey Bowker Christine Borgman Paul Edwards Tim Berners Lee and Hal Abelson explain why and how e Research activity can reconfigure access to networks of information expertise and experience changing what researchers observe with whom they collaborate how they share information what methods they use to report their findings and what knowledge is required to do this They discuss both the means of e Research new research centered computational networks and its purpose to improve the quality of world wide research William H Dutton is Director of the Oxford Internet Institute Professor of Internet Studies and Professorial Fellow of Balliol College at the University of Oxford Paul W Jeffreys formerly Director of the Oxford e Research Centre is Director of IT at the University of Oxford Professor of Computing and Professorial Fellow of Keble College at the University of Oxford

The Emotional Politics of Research Collaboration Gabriele Griffin,Annelie Bränström-Öhman,Hildur Kalman,2013-07-18 Research collaboration in the form of networks projects and centers has become one of the dominant modes of engaging in research especially funded research across all academic domains However there has been little research on the processes of such collaborations particularly their affective dimensions These as this volume demonstrates and as researchers know well are highly important yet mostly not directly engaged with when scientists work together even though they are experienced by everybody involved This volume is the first to consider questions such as how the naming of projects impacts on their accompanying affect scapes the policing or disciplining of emotions in research collaborations their accompanying tensions and how these might be managed and the challenges to trust between scientists that such collaborations present Drawing on theories of affect and literature on collaboration as well as on the contributors experiences of being involved in large scale research projects the volume also importantly deals directly with some of the key emotions that occur during research collaborations such as blame elation frustration alienation and belonging and suggests some ways in which one might engage productively with the affective dimensions of research collaboration

The Social Politics of Research Collaboration Gabriele Griffin,Katarina Hamberg,Britta Lundgren,2013-06-07 The past two decades have seen an increasing emphasis on large and interdisciplinary research configurations such as research networks and centers of excellence including those in Social Sciences and Humanities research Little research has been undertaken however to understand how these new large research structures that are being called forth by research funders and research higher education institutions alike function socially and what the impact of operating within such structures is on those working within and those working with them Past writers have discussed the intra agentic operations of human researchers and the material laboratory environment in its broadest sense This volume is concerned with the social politics of research collaboration in relation to six key positions leaders of large research formations leaders of sub projects within large collaborations participant researchers junior and early career researchers advisory board members and those who look in from the outside such as researchers who are unfunded It explores the mostly unacknowledged but critical aspect of social structures in research discussing issues such as struggles over leadership styles the marginalization of researchers working cross disciplinarily power hierarchies and intellectual ownership and the silencing of dissent in research

Exploring Services Science Henriqueta Nóvoa, Monica Drăgoicea, 2015-01-06 This book contains the refereed proceedings of the 6th International Conference on Exploring Service Science IESS held in Porto Portugal in February 2015 Service science constitutes an interdisciplinary approach to systematic innovation in service systems integrating managerial social legal and engineering aspects to address the theoretical and practical challenges of the service industry and its economy The 27 full papers accepted for IESS were selected from 69 submissions The papers consider the topics service innovation service exploration service design IT based service engineering and service sustainability

Computational Science - ICCS 2008, 2008 Interdisciplinary Applications of Electronic Collaboration Approaches and Technologies Kock, Ned, 2012-08-31 With the advent and advancement of E Collaboration tools our way of social interaction and online social behavior has altered drastically With new ways of communicating and working together we must understand how this affects human behavior Interdisciplinary Applications of Electronic Collaboration Approaches and Technologies addresses the design and implementation of e collaboration technologies assesses its behavioral impact on individuals and groups and presents theoretical considerations on links between the use of e collaboration technologies and behavioral patterns An innovative collection of the latest research findings this book covers significant topics such as Web based chat tools Web based asynchronous conferencing tools e mail listservs and many others perfect for academics researchers and professionals alike

Technology, Research and Professional Learning Jingjing Zhang, 2018-06-20 This book investigates the use of network technologies in research and explores how such use potentially changes the nature of professional learning between academics It attempts to situate the discussion of technology use in real world research settings to identify the different forms of participation in intellectual exchange embedded in academic dialogue and to further contribute to knowledge on how the use of network technology potentially changes the nature of learning Multiple data collection methods are employed in two forms of study a single case study and a number of individual interviews The single case study was carried out over a one year period and consisted of interviews 22 interviewees observations and document review Individual semi structured interviews were carried out over a similar period of time with a wider and different population of 24 academics from different Oxford faculties Half of these were interviewed twice The main findings presented in this book demonstrate that the direct consequences of technology use are changes to academic dialogue and scholarly communication in general The change to this critical aspect of research scholarly communication has potentially led to more distributed research in interconnected research environments It is the changes to scholarly communication and the research environment that consequently affect participation in intellectual exchange      This Changes Everything - ICT and Climate Change: What Can We Do? David Kreps, Charles Ess, Louise Leenen, Kai Kimppa, 2018-09-10 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 13th IFIP TC 9 International Conference on Human Choice and Computers HCC13 2018 held at the 24th IFIP World Computer Congress WCC 2018 in Poznan Poland in September 2018 The 29 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 48 submissions The papers are based on both academic research and the professional experience of information practitioners working in the field They deal with multiple challenges society will be facing in the future and are organized in the following topical sections history of computing this changed everything ICT4D and improvements of ICTs ICTs and sustainability gender ethical and legal considerations and philosophy      Collaborative Knowledge in Scientific Research Networks

Diviacco, Paolo, 2014-10-31 Research inherently requires collaborative efforts between individuals databases and institutions However the systems that enable such interpersonal cooperation must be properly suited in facilitating such efforts to avoid impeding productivity Collaborative Knowledge in Scientific Research Networks addresses the various systems in place for collaborative e research and how these practices serve to enhance the quality of research across disciplines Covering new networks available through social media as well as traditional methods such as mailing lists and forums this publication considers various scientific disciplines and their individual needs Theorists of collaborative scientific work technology developers researchers and funding agency officials will find this book valuable in exploring and understanding the process of scientific collaboration      Virtual Research Environments Robert N. Allan, 2009-07-30 Virtual Research Environments examines making Information and Communication Technologies ICT usable by researchers working to solve grand challenge problems in many disciplines from social science to particle physics It is driven by research the authors have carried out to evaluate researchers requirements in using information services via web portals and in adapting collaborative learning tools to meet their more diverse needs particularly in a multidisciplinary study This is the motivation for what the authors have helped develop into the UK Virtual Research Environments VRE programme They illustrate generics with specific instances of studies carried out comparing portal technologies and evaluating usability This work and further development of collaboration and Webbased research tools has been carried out with international collaborators in particular using the Sakai framework and other recent Java language based portal programming frameworks and associated standards The book is divided into a number of chapters providing motivation illustrations comparisons of technology and tools practical information about deployment and use and comments on issues and difficulties in ensuring uptake of e Science and Grid technology by already practicing researchers Definition of Virtual Research Environments and e Research with analogies to Virtual Learning Environments Compilation about how e Research is carried out with reference to work in UK and USA on portals and services for collaborative learning shared information services and repositories and their application for multi disciplinary research Description of Science Gateways to distributed research resources Grid computing data and Web 2.0 style collaboration tools and their relevance to the grand challenges facing research requiring large teams Handbook of Research on Technology Integration in the Global World Idemudia, Efosa C., 2018-07-27 Technology's presence in society continues to increase as new products and programs emerge. As such, it is vital for various industries to rapidly adapt and learn to incorporate the latest technology applications and tools. The Handbook of Research on Technology Integration in the Global World is an essential reference source that examines a variety of approaches to integrating technology through technology diffusion, e-collaboration, and e-adoption. The book explores topics such as information systems, agility, semantic web, and the digital divide. This publication is a valuable resource for academicians, practitioners, researchers, and upper-level graduate students.

Research Collaboration between Europe and Latin America Rigas Arvanitis, Jacques Gaillard, 2014-02-19 International collaboration has become increasingly important in carrying out research activities. This book, written by a large group of scholars from Europe and Latin America, maps, analyses, and discusses research collaboration between the two continents during the last twenty years. The empirical material underlines the richness and the variety of the links that bind the two continents well beyond the simplified views of science, either as the brainchild of global networking or as a result of dependence. The book also develops an innovative methodological approach combining bibliometric analysis, social surveying, in-depth interviews, and a careful analysis of research programmes and policies. While arguing that the asymmetry of relations that once existed in cooperation has turned into a more equal partnership between the two continents, it deciphers some of the reasons behind this more balanced cooperation. It also challenges the view of science as a global self-organising system through collective action at the level of researchers themselves. On the contrary, the importance of policy institutions and previously developed research is highlighted and recognised.

Dynamic Knowledge Representation in Scientific Domains Pshenichny, Cyril, Diviacco, Paolo, Mourontsev, Dmitry, 2018-03-16 The main approach to understanding and creating knowledge engineering concepts is static knowledge. Currently, there is a need to approach knowledge through a dynamic lens and address changing relations on an elaborated syntactic and semantic basis. Dynamic Knowledge Representation in Scientific Domains provides emerging research on the internal and external changes in knowledge within various subject areas and their visual representations. While highlighting topics such as behavior diagrams, distribution analysis, and qualitative modeling, this publication explores the structural development and assessment of knowledge models. This book is an important resource for academicians, researchers, students, and practitioners seeking current research on information visualization in order to foster research and collaboration.

Computer Supported Qualitative Research António Pedro Costa, Luís Paulo Reis, António Moreira, 2019-09-16 The World Conference on Qualitative Research (WCQR) is an annual event that aims to bring together researchers, academics, and professionals promoting the sharing and discussion of knowledge, new perspectives, experiences, and innovations on the field of Qualitative Research. This book includes a selection
