Evolution Modern Capitalism Production Ballin:

The Evolution of Modern Capitalism M a John a Hobson, 2015-12-16 John Atkinson Hobson commonly known as John A Hobson or J A Hobson 6 July 1858 1 April 1940 was an English economist social scientist and critic of imperialism widely popular as a lecturer and writer LIFE Hobson was born in Derby the son of William Hobson a rather prosperous newspaper proprietor and Josephine Atkinson He was the brother of the mathematician Ernest William Hobson He studied at Derby School and Lincoln College Oxford afterwards teaching classics and English literature at schools in Faversham and Exeter During the very late 19th century his notable works included Problems of Poverty 1891 Evolution of Modern Capitalism 1894 Problem of the Unemployed 1896 and John Ruskin Social Reformer 1898 They developed Hobson s famous critique of the classical theory of rent and his proposed generalization anticipated the Neoclassical marginal productivity theory of distribution Soon after this period Hobson was recruited by the editor of the newspaper The Manchester Guardian to be their South African correspondent During his coverage of the Second Boer War Hobson began to form the idea that imperialism was the direct result of the expanding forces of modern capitalism He believed the mine owners with Cecil Rhodes who wanted control of the Transvaal in the vanguard were manipulating the British into fighting the Boers so that they could maximize their profits from mining His return to England was marked by his strong condemnation of the conflict His publications during the next few years demonstrated an exploration of the associations between imperialism and international conflict These works included War in South Africa 1900 and Psychology of Jingoism 1901 In what is arguably his magnum opus Imperialism 1902 he espoused the opinion that imperial expansion is driven by a search for new markets and investment opportunities overseas Imperialism gained Hobson an international reputation and influenced such notable people as Vladimir Lenin and Leon Trotsky and Hannah Arendt s The Origins of Totalitarianism 1951 Hobson wrote for several other journals before writing his next major work The Industrial System 1909 In this tract he argued that maldistribution of income resulted through oversaving and underconsumption in unemployment and that the remedy was in eradicating the surplus by the redistribution of income by taxation and the nationalization of monopolies Hobson s opposition to the First World War caused him to join the Union of Democratic Control His advocacy for the formation of a world political body to prevent wars can be found clearly in his piece Towards International Government 1914 However he was staunchly opposed to the League of Nations During 1919 Hobson joined the Independent Labour Party This was soon followed by writings for socialist publications such as the New Leader the Socialist Review and the New Statesman During this period it became clear that Hobson favoured capitalist reformation over communist revolution He was a notable critic of the Labour Government of 1929 During the later years of his life Hobson published his autobiography Confessions of an Economic Heretic 1938 Jahrbücher für Nationalökonomie und Statistik Bruno Hildebrand, Johannes Conrad, Edgar Loening, Ludwig Elster, Wilhelm Hector Richard Albrecht Lexis, Heinrich Waentig, 1927 The Poetical Works of James Thomson James
