Sanglerat,2012-12-02 The Penetrometer and Soil Exploration Interpretation of Penetration Diagrams Theory presents the many uses of the penetrometer for investigating soil conditions Testing methods include the following 1 in situ load tests on full scale foundations 2 laboratory testing of undisturbed samples and 3 in situ testing of soils The book regards the advantages of using the penetrometer as a handy tool in drilling and sampling The text emphasizes that the investigator should never rely entirely on the analogy or the extrapolation of information pertaining to a nearby site The text describes the different shapes of the penetrometer diagrams obtained from tests in homogeneous cohesionless soil as well as the significance of the embedment of a pile into the bearing stratum for deep foundation designs The paper discusses the De Beer theory Kerisel s theory and the theory developed at the Delft Laboratory of Soil Mechanics The laboratory determines the maximum soil pressure and the corresponding embedment of the pile According to Professor L Herminier the bearing capacity of a pile may be determined from laboratory tests on soil samples the other by extrapolating penetrometer data The book is suitable for structural engineers civil engineers geologists architects and students of soil mechanics Dynamic Structure of Reality Nelson R. Orringer,2010-10-01 Dynamic Structure of Reality makes available in English some of the most mature thought of the modern Spanish philosopher Xavier Zubiri He first presented this material as a set of 1968 public lectures in Madrid They were collected edited and published in 1989 as Estructura din mica de la realidad In 1962 Zubiri had published Sobre la esencia On essence a work of metaphysics that was praised by critics with one qualification its treatment of reality was too static The 1968 course was devised as a response to those critics Dynamic Structure of Reality retraces the road Hegel traveled concerning the creation of a self and how that self is realized by an interplay between spirit and nature Like his great predecessor Jos Ortega y Gasset and like his great Jewish contemporary Emmanuel Levinas Zubiri takes religion in all seriousness and locates its questions within the questions of modern philosophy In harmony with science he advances a new idea of becoming Reality not being becomes As reality s traits are revealed in different degrees reality resembles God the universal self giver Zubiri systematically touches on many disciplines to show the varieties of self giving

Dynamic Dichotomy Catherine Attwood,1998 The principal concern of this book expounded in the first chapter is to chart the development of literary awareness amongst poets of the later Middle Ages whose marked stance of professional independence led them increasingly to distinguish between their implied literary selves and the first person speakers of their texts Four chapters examine by means of close stylistic analysis the implications of such detachment taken as a model of binary opposition for the elaboration of the first person speaker Thus in the case of Machaut the essential distinction is between the first person and the second or third the I and the Other with Froissart between the I of the present and the I of the past with Deschamps between the internal I of the poet and a vast array of external personae with Christine de Pizan between the blueprint of a persona evolved by the poet for her internal I and the transformations implied by its imposition on external personae The final chapter on the poetics of debate explores the means by which the I may be divided in order to arrive at an objective knowledge of both its own nature and of external truths the ideal expression of which is the written record of the debate itself It is the primacy of the Book as an autonomous entity which ultimately exercises the most far reaching influence on the development of the poetic I in this period
